Mary Bouquet, Nuno Porto, 2006-04-01 For some time now museums have been recognized as important institutions of western cultural and social life The idea of the museum as a ritual site is fairly new and has been applied to the art museums in Europe and the United States so far This volume expands it by exploring a range of contemporary museums in Europe and Africa The case studies examine the different ways in which various actors involved in cultural production dramatize and ritualize such sites It turns out that not only museum specialists but visitors themselves are engaged in complex performances and experiences that make use of museums in often unexpected ways A History of Science, Magic and Belief Steven P. Marrone, 2014-12-11 A History of Science Magic and Belief is an exploration of the origins of modern society through the culture of the middle ages and early modern period By examining the intertwined paths of three different systems for interpreting the world it seeks to create a narrative which culminates in the birth of modernity It looks at the tensions and boundaries between science and magic throughout the middle ages and how they were affected by elite efforts to rationalise society often through religion The witch crazes of the sixteenth and seventeenth century are seen as a pivotal point and the emergence from these into social peace is deemed possible due to the Scientific Revolution and the politics of the early modern state This book is unique in drawing together the histories of science magic and religion It is thus an ideal book for those studying any or all of these topics and with its broad time frame it is also suitable for students of the history of Europe or Western civilisation in general Science Magic in the Bedroom Richard Robinson, 2003 Science Magic is a series of four paperbacks for children that make science fun Find out about everyday science while performing as a magician and dazzle your friends and family Each book uses objects to be found in a different room in the house to explain some basic scientific principles through magic tricks or experiments The easy accessible text is complemented with cartoon illustrations throughout Richard Robinson has created numerous popular science shows for television including The Big Bang CITV and The Riddlers YTV He also helped set up and perform in the first series of Spitting Image Science Magic Tricks for Kids
