

The background of the slide features a large, powerful nuclear explosion on the left side, with a massive, billowing white and grey mushroom cloud rising into a clear blue sky. The base of the cloud is filled with intense orange and yellow flames. In the bottom right corner, the tips of several intercontinental ballistic missiles are visible, pointing upwards towards the sky. The overall scene conveys a sense of global nuclear power and the potential for conflict.

Science Technology And The Nuclear Arms Race:

Science, Technology and the Nuclear Arms Race Dietrich Schroeer, 1984-09-24 This book surveys the technology relating to the nuclear arms race and how to move forward Science, Technology and the Nuclear Arms Race S. Sandeep, 2014

Science, Technology and the Military E. Mendelsohn, Merritt Roe Smith, P. Weingart, 2013-03-14 The Military-Industrial Complex and American Society S. Mike Pavelec, 2010-01-18 The first complete reference on the military industrial complex from its Cold War era expansion to the present The Military Industrial Complex and American Society addresses the broad subject of the political economy of defense research and its wide reaching effects on many aspects of American life Ranging from the massive arms buildup of the Cold War to the influx of private contractors and corporations such as Halliburton it reveals the interconnectedness of the military industry and government within the history of this public private enterprise The Military Industrial Complex and American Society offers over 100 alphabetically organized entries on a wide of range of significant research bodies and government agencies as well as important people events and technologies In addition a series of essays looks at such essential topics as propaganda think tanks defense budgeting the defense industry and the economy and the breakdown of the military industrial complex in Vietnam With this work students policymakers and other interested readers will understand the ramifications of the relationships between industry scientific and technological communities the government and society Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1981-06 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin s iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1985-06 Science, Technology and Global Governance John R. De La Mothe, 2014-04-23 Science technology and innovation have long been key factors in the competitive advantage of nations Today however the new international political economy is being increasingly driven by science and technology in new ways Integration globalization and internationalization have all become watchwords for a series of dynamic processes in which science and technology are deeply implicated As a result not only are the policies of national governments being exposed in terms of the limits of their sovereignty but science and technology are being increasingly implicated in a wide array of public issues ranging from security privacy development and economic growth to employment environment foreign policy and geopolitics Clearly in today s emerging world the ways in which governments organize their science and technology policy their science and technology intelligence and their research advisory structures and resources matter more today than ever before In turn the contract between science and democracy is being rapidly redefined This book is the first to comprehensively discuss these critical issues Inventing Accuracy Donald MacKenzie, 1993-01-29 Mackenzie has achieved a masterful synthesis of engrossing narrative imaginative concepts historical perspective and social concern Donald MacKenzie follows one line of technology strategic ballistic missile guidance through a succession of weapons systems to reveal the workings of a world that is neither awesome nor unstoppable He uncovers the parameters the pressures and the politics that make up the complex social construction of an equally complex technology From Polaris to Trident Graham Spinardi,1994-01-06 This book provides a complete history of the US Fleet Ballistic Missile programme from its inception in the 1950s and the development of Polaris to the deployment of Trident II in 1990 Writing in an accessible yet scholarly manner Graham Spinardi bases his historical documentation of FBM development on interviews with many of the key participants His study confronts a central issue is technology simply a tool used to achieve the goals of society or is it an autonomous force in shaping that society FBM accuracy evolved from the city busting retaliatory capability of Polaris to the silo busting first strike potential of Trident Is this a case of technology driving the arms race or simply the intended product of political decisions The book provides a comprehensive survey of the literature looking at the role of technology in the arms race and seeks to explain technological development using a sociology of technology approach Science, Technology, and Art in International Relations J.P. Singh,Madeline Carr,Renée Marlin-Bennett,2019-03-01 This volume brings together 19 original chapters plus four substantive introductions which collectively provide a unique examination of the issues of science technology and art in international relations The overarching theme of the book links global politics with human interventions in the world We cannot disconnect how humans act on the world through science technology and artistic endeavors from the engagements and practices that together constitute IR There is science technology and even artistry in the conduct of war and in the conduct of peace as well Scholars and students of international relations are beginning to explore these connections and the authors of the chapters in this volume from around the world are at the forefront

Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1978-03 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin s iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world Astronautics and Aeronautics, 1967 - Chronology on Science, Technology, and Policy ,1968 Technology Assessment Janine Morgall,2010-05-05 How gender analysis should inform technology assessment Science, Technology, and Society Sal P.
