The Feejee Mermaid and Other Essays in Natural and Unnatural History Jan Bondeson, 2014-07-02 In his new collection of essays Jan Bondeson tells ten fascinating stories of myths and hoaxes beliefs and Ripley like facts concerning the animal kingdom Throughout he recounts and in some instances solves mysteries of the natural world which have puzzled scientists for centuries Heavily illustrated with photographs and drawings the book presents astounding tales from across the rich folklore of animals a learned pig more admired than Sir Isaac Newton by the English public an elephant that Lord Byron

wanted to employ as his butler a dancing horse whose skills in mathematics were praised by William Shakespeare and of course the extraordinary creature known as the Feejee Mermaid This object became the foremost curiosity of London in the 1820s and later in the century toured the United States under the management of P T Barnum Bearing a striking resemblance to a wizened and misshapen monkey with a fishtail the mermaid was nonetheless proclaimed a genuine specimen by experts Bondeson explores other zoological wonders toads living for centuries encased in solid stone little fishes raining down from the sky and barnacle geese growing from trees until ready to fly In two of his most fascinating chapters he uncovers the origins of the basilisk considered one of the most inexplicable mythical monsters and of the Vegetable Lamb of Tartary With the head and body of a rooster and the tail of a snake the basilisk was said to be able to kill a person with its gaze Bondeson demonstrates that belief in this fabulous creature resulted from misinterpretations of rare events in natural history The vegetable lamb a mainstay of museums in the seventeenth century was allegedly half plant half animal it had the shape of a little lamb but grew from a stem After examining two vegetable lambs still in London today Bondeson offers a new theory to explain this old fallacy

Color and Culture Ross Posnock,2009-07-01 The coining of the term intellectuals in 1898 coincided with W E B Du Bois s effort to disseminate values and ideals unbounded by the color line Du Bois s ideal of a higher and broader and more varied human culture is at the heart of a cosmopolitan tradition that Color and Culture identifies as a missing chapter in American literary and cultural history The book offers a much needed and startlingly new historical perspective on black intellectuals as a social category ranging over a century from Frederick Douglass to Patricia Williams from Du Bois Pauline Hopkins and Charles Chesnutt to Nella Larsen Zora Neale Hurston and Alain Locke from Ralph Ellison and James Baldwin to Samuel Delany and Adrienne Kennedy These writers challenge two durable assumptions that high culture is white culture and that racial uplift is the sole concern of the black intellectual The remarkable tradition that this book recaptures culminating in a cosmopolitan disregard for demands for racial authenticity and group solidarity is strikingly at odds with the identity politics and multicultural movements of our day In the Du Boisian tradition Ross Posnock identifies a universalism inseparable from the particular and open to ethnicity an approach with the power to take us beyond the provincialism of postmodern tribalism
