Essays to My Daughter on Our Relationship With the Natural World Steven Simpson,2022-10-15 What do fishing with an otter sitting atop a mountain at dawn with eighty Taiwanese backpackers and driving home from Aldo Leopold s Shack have to say about the evolution of a personal environmental philosophy Essays to My Daughter on Our Relationship With the Natural World provides a series of reflections by an environmental educator about lessons learned from time spent in nature Originally conceived as personal letters to the author s daughter this collection presents ethical questions outdoor enthusiasts regularly face as they work and play in the natural world The essays in this book explore environmentalism in a modern day context with topics including sustainability education the current relevance of environmental writers from the past and the uncertainty of what is meant by words like naturalist solitude and wilderness There is no attempt to direct readers to any particular environmental philosophy Instead Simpson encourages readers to articulate their own perspective based on personal experiences in nature Though Essays to My Daughter is written by a father to his daughter the insights within the volume and the questions they provoke are valuable to all members of the next generation as they grapple with their own relationship to the natural world

The Natural World and Science Education in the United States Ajay Sharma,Cory Buxton,2018-04-04 This book focuses on the representation of nature in science education in schools in the United States Given the importance of our relationship with the nonhuman world for the fate of our planet this work gives special attention to the representation instruction and understanding of the relationship between the social and the natural world It also proposes an alternative sustainability science based conceptual framework for ecology and environmental science topics in science education which is compatible with the current social ecological understanding of life in the Anthropocene epoch

Travel Writing and the Natural World, 1768-1840 P. Smethurst,2012-10-10 Taking as a starting point the parallel occurrence of Cook s Pacific voyages the development of natural history scenic tourism in Britain and romantic travel in Europe this book argues that the effect of these practices was the production of nature as an abstract space and that the genre of travel writing had a central role in reproducing it

Field Guide to the Natural World of Washington, Howard Youth,2014-04-30 A guide to the wildlife of Washington D C includes information on parks animals plants fungi and geology Virginia Woolf and the Natural World Kristin Czarnecki, Carrie Rohman, 2011 Edited collection from acclaimed contemporary Woolf scholars exploring Virginia Woolf's complex engagement with the natural world an engagement that was as political as it was aesthetic Literature, Writing, and the Natural World James Guignard, T. P. Murphy, 2020-06-12 The English Association of Pennsylvania State Universities held its annual meeting in 2006 at Mansfield University in Pennsylvania The conference theme was Literature Writing and the Natural World This collection grows out of the conference and indicates the desire to understand all aspects of our relationship with the natural world the function of literature in clarifying that relationship in ways science and politics cannot and the role of the literature teacher scholar wanting to respond to pressures of environmental change In these times interpretation is a vital task not only for the way it educates us about our attitudes toward nature but because it develops the crucial skills of looking closely engaging reflecting and responding One could argue that as a culture Americans are behind the curve in understanding the ways we depend upon a healthy relationship with nature and one way among many depends upon examining it through texts and textual representation When the writers here dig into The Main Woods Jayber Crow the poetry of Pablo Guevara or the movie Crash they are contributing to our understanding of the ways in which we view nature and how that view plays a role in the way we relate to nature These days many disciplines engage global warming and other environmental issues routinely and the literature classroom should be no different Just as we read a book and address fundamental themes such as What does it mean to love or How do we develop identity we should also be asking What is my responsibility when I decide what resources to use If we understand literature as equipment for living in a warming world we may be able to help students make some sense out of their world and some decisions about how to act Crossroads of the Natural World Tom Earnhardt, 2013-04-22 In this richly illustrated love letter to the wild places and natural wonders of North Carolina Tom Earnhardt writer and host of UNC TV's Exploring North Carolina and lifelong conservationist seamlessly ties deep geological time and forgotten species from our distant past to the unparalleled biodiversity of today With varied topography and a climate that is simultaneously subtropical temperate and subarctic he shows that North Carolina is a meeting place for living things more commonly found far to the north and south Highlighting the ways in which the state is a unique ecological crossroads Earnhardt's research insightful writing and stunning photography will both teach and inspire Crossroads of the Natural World invites readers to engage a variety of topics including the impacts of invasive species the importance of forested buffers along our rivers the role of naturalists and the challenges facing the state in a time of climate change and sea level rise By sharing his own journey of more than sixty years Earnhardt entices North Carolinians of every age to explore the natural diversity of our state The Human Tradition in California Clark Davis, David Igler, 2002-08-01 With a land mass one and half times larger than the United Kingdom a population of more than thirty million and an economy that would rank sixth among world nations the history of the state of California demands a closer look The Human Tradition in California captures the region's rich history and diversity taking readers into the daily lives of ordinary Californians at key moments in time. These brief biographies show how individual people and communities have influenced the broad social, cultural, political, and economic forces that have shaped California history from the pre-mission period through the late twentieth century. In personalizing California's history, this engaging new book brings the Golden State to life. About the Editors: Clark Davis has written extensively about California and its colorful history. His work has appeared in the Los Angeles Times and Pacific Historical Review. He is a professor of history at California State University Fullerton. David Igler is a long-time historian of California history and culture. He has presented for the Western Historical Association, the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association, and the California Studies Association. Dr. Igler is professor of history at the University of Utah.

Milton and the Natural World Karen L. Edwards, 2005-07-07 Milton and the Natural World overturns prevailing critical assumptions by offering a fresh view of Paradise Lost in which the representation of Eden's plants and animals is shown to be fully cognizant of the century's new scientific natural history. The fabulous lore of the old science is wittily debunked, and the poem embraces new imaginative and symbolic possibilities for depicting the natural world suggested by the speculations of Milton's scientific contemporaries, including Robert Boyle, Thomas Browne, and John Evelyn. Karen Edwards argues that Milton has represented the natural world in Paradise Lost with its flowers and trees, insects, and beasts as a text alive with meaning and worthy of close reading.

The Natural World in Latin American Literatures Adrian Taylor Kane, 2014-01-10 From the Popol Vuh to postmodernism, imagery of the natural world has played an important role in Latin American literature. In contrast to the rise of ecocritical scholarship in Anglophone literary studies, Latin American literary ecocriticism has been slower to take root. This volume of eleven essays seeks to advance the ecocritical conversation among Latin Americanists, furthering insight into the relationship between humans and their environments. The essays address regions as diverse as Patagonia and the Chihuahuan Desert.

The Natural World in the Exeter Book Riddles Corinne Dale, 2017 An investigation of the non-human world in the Exeter Book Riddles, drawing on the exciting new approaches of eco-criticism and eco-theology.

Reordering the Natural World Annabelle Sabloff, 2001-02-15 In Reordering the Natural World, Annabelle Sabloff argues that the everyday practices of contemporary capitalist society reinforce the conviction that we are profoundly alienated from the rest of nature. At the same time, she reveals the often-disguised affinities and sense of connection urban Canadians manifest in their relations with animals and the natural world. Sabloff reflects on how the discipline of anthropology has contributed to the prevailing Western perception of a divide between nature and culture. She suggests that the present ecological crisis has resulted largely from the ways in which Western societies have construed nature as a cultural system. Since new ideas about nature may be critical in changing humanity's destructive interactions with the biosphere, Reordering the Natural World is invaluable in exploring how urban Canadians develop and sustain their current relationship with the macrocosm and in considering whether these relationships might be altered by reconceptualizing anthropology itself as an integral part of natural history With this unique text Sabloff not only provides provocative insight into the study of relations between humans and the natural world she lays the cornerstone for building an entirely new structure for the study of anthropology itself
