Nature's Keepers Stephen Budiansky, 1995 Argues that man's intervention in nature is often necessary to maintain the balance

American Wilderness Michael L. Lewis, 2007 Addresses the state of scholarship on the political cultural and intellectual history of American responses to wilderness from first contact to the present

Toward a Literary Ecology Karen E. Waldron, Rob Friedman, 2013-07-29 Scholarship of literature and the environment demonstrates myriad understandings of nature and culture While some work in the field results in approaches that belong in the realm of cultural studies other scholars have expanded the boundaries of ecocriticism to connect the practice more explicitly to disciplines such as the biological sciences human geography or philosophy Even so the field of ecocriticism has yet to clearly articulate its interdisciplinary and transdisciplinary nature In Toward a Literary Ecology Places and Spaces in American Literature editors Karen E Waldron and Robert Friedman have assembled a collection of essays that study the interconnections between literature and the environment to theorize literary ecology The disciplinary perspectives in these essays allow readers to comprehend places and environments and to represent express or strive for that comprehension through literature Contributors to this volume explore the works of several authors including Gary Snyder Karen Tei Yamashita Rachel Carson Terry Tempest Williams Chip Ward and Mary Oliver Other essays discuss such topics as urban fiction as a model of literary ecology the geographies of belonging in the work of Native American poets and the literary ecology of place in new nature writing Investigating texts for the complex interconnections they represent Toward a Literary Ecology suggests what such texts might teach us about the interconnections of our own world This volume also offers a means of analyzing representations of people in places within the realm of an historical cultural and geographically bounded yet diverse American literature Intended for students of literature and ecology this collection will also appeal to scholars of geography cultural studies philosophy biology history anthropology and other related disciplines

Fundamentals of Biogeography Richard J. Huggett, 1998 Fundamentals of Biogeography offers a fresh up-to-date introduction to biogeography explaining the ecology geography and history of animals and plants The book defines and examines populations communities and ecosystems examining where different animals and plants live and how they came to be living there investigating how populations grow interact and survive Stressing the role of ecological geographical historical and human factors in fashioning animal and plant distributions Huggett reveals how life has and is adapting to its biological and physical surroundings The book includes several sections on human attitudes to Nature differ and how biogeography can affect conservation practice As well as explaining key concepts and interactions Huggett tackles many topical and controversial environmental and ethical concerns including animal rights species exploitation habitat fragmentation biodiversity metapopulations patchy landscapes and chaos Illustrated throughout with informative diagrams and photos and including chapter summaries guides to further reading and an extensive glossary of key terms Fundamentals of Biogeography presents an engaging introduction for students

A Storied Wilderness James W. Feldman, 2011-07-01 The Apostle Islands are a solitary place of natural beauty with red sandstone cliffs secluded beaches and a rich and unique forest surrounded by the cold blue waters of Lake Superior But this seemingly pristine wilderness has been shaped and reshaped by humans The people who lived and worked in the Apostles built homes cleared fields and cut timber in the island forests The consequences of human choices made more than a century ago can still be read in today's wild landscapes A Storied Wilderness traces the complex history of human interaction with the Apostle Islands In the 1930s resource extraction made it seem like the islands natural beauty had been lost forever But as the island forests regenerated the ways that people used and valued the islands changed human and natural processes together led to the rewilding of the Apostles In 1970 the Apostles were included in the national park system and ultimately designated as the Gaylord Nelson Wilderness How should we understand and value wild places with human pasts James Feldman argues convincingly that such places provide the opportunity to rethink the human place in nature The Apostle Islands are an ideal setting for telling the national story of how we came to equate human activity with the loss of wilderness characteristics when in reality all of our cherished wild places are the products of the complicated interactions between human and natural history Watch the book trailer <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=frECwkA6oHs> Habitat of Grace Carolyn M. King, 2002 In 1990 the Worldwatch Institute in Washington estimated that humankind had forty years to make the transition to an environmentally stable society If we have not succeeded by then it concluded environmental deterioration and economic decline are likely to be feeding on each other pulling us into a downward spiral of social disintegration Worldwatch is no millenarian cult but a sober and careful organisation whose annual summaries of world affairs have become the planet's unofficial environmental health reports Its pronouncements are cautiously worded influential and worth attending to even if the timing is hard to predict This book uses the issues raised in these reports to look at biology the environmental crisis and theological response to it all by developing a new theology of creation Based on her scientific background in the biological sciences King brings together biology and theology It covers science religion and environment human nature and develops a theology of creation The author teaches at the University of Waikato in New Zealand

Navigating Social-Ecological Systems Fikret Berkes, Johan Colding, Carl Folke, 2008-04-24 In the effort towards sustainability it has become increasingly important to develop conceptual frames to understand the dynamics of social and ecological systems Drawing on complex systems theory this book investigates how human societies deal with change in linked social ecological systems and build capacity to adapt to change The concept of resilience is central in this context Resilient social ecological systems have the potential to sustain development by responding to and shaping change in a manner that does not lead to loss of future options Resilient systems also provide capacity for renewal and innovation in the face of rapid transformation and crisis The term navigating in the title is meant to capture this dynamic process Case studies and examples from several geographic areas cultures and resource types are included merging forefront research from natural sciences social sciences and the humanities into a common framework for new insights on sustainability

Rethinking Wilderness Mark Woods, 2017-07-30 The concept and values of wilderness along with the practice of wilderness preservation have been under attack for the past several decades In Rethinking Wilderness Mark Woods responds to seven prominent anti wilderness arguments Woods offers a rethinking of the received concept of wilderness developing a positive account of wilderness as a significant location for the other than human value adding properties of naturalness wildness and freedom Interdisciplinary in approach the book combines environmental philosophy environmental history environmental social sciences the science of ecology and the science of conservation biology Sex and Death Kim

Sterelny, Paul E. Griffiths, 2024-05-31 Is the history of life a series of accidents or a drama scripted by selfish genes Is there an essential human nature determined at birth or in a distant evolutionary past What should we conserve species ecosystems or something else Informed answers to questions like these critical to our understanding of ourselves and the world around us require both a knowledge of biology and a philosophical framework within which to make sense of its findings In this accessible introduction to philosophy of biology Kim Sterelny and Paul E Griffiths present both the science and the philosophical context necessary for a critical understanding of the most exciting debates shaping biology today The authors both of whom have published extensively in this field describe the range of competing views including their own on these fascinating topics With its clear explanations of both biological and philosophical concepts Sex and Death will appeal not only to undergraduates but also to the many general readers eager to think critically about the science of life Introduction to

Green Chemistry John Andraos, Albert S. Matlack, 2022-03-10 Interest in green chemistry and clean processes has grown so much in recent years that topics such as fluororous biphasic catalysis metal organic frameworks and process intensification which were barely mentioned in the First Edition have become major areas of research In addition government funding has ramped up the development of fuel cells and biofuels This reflects the evolving focus from pollution remediation to pollution prevention Copiously illustrated with more than 800 figures the Third Edition provides an update from the frontiers of the field It features supplementary exercises at the end of each chapter relevant to the chemical examples introduced in each chapter Particular attention is paid to a new concluding chapter on the use of green metrics as an objective tool to demonstrate proof of synthesis plan efficiency and to identify where further improvements can be made through fully worked examples relevant to the chemical industry NEW AND EXPANDED RESEARCH TOPICS Metal organic frameworks Metrics Solid acids for alkylation of isobutene by butanes Carbon molecular sieves Mixed micro and mesoporous solids Organocatalysis Process intensification and gas phase enzymatic reactions Hydrogen storage for fuel cells Reactive distillation Catalysts in action on an atomic scale UPDATED AND EXPANDED CURRENT EVENTS TOPICS Industry resistance to inherently safer chemistry Nuclear power Removal of mercury from vaccines Removal of mercury and lead from primary explosives Biofuels Uses for surplus glycerol New hard materials to reduce wear Electronic waste Smart growth The book covers traditional green chemistry topics including catalysis benign solvents and alternative feedstocks It also discusses relevant but less frequently covered topics with chapters such as Chemistry of Long Wear and Population and the Environment This coverage highlights the importance of chemistry to everyday life and demonstrates the benefits the expanded exploitation of green chemistry can have for society

Hog Ties Richard P. Horwitz, 2002 From Charlotte's Web to Porky Pig and Babe Americans betray a curiously deep regard for pigs Hog Ties looks at this phenomenon its relation to American culture and the way in which themes of life and death are played out in the care feeding slaughter and eating of pigs Intermingling silly asides with serious subjects existential concerns with environmental issues the book considers the ways that pigs might help Americans address powerful human concerns

Environment and Business Alasdair Blair, David Hitchcock, 2004-08-02 This text examines how businesses and the environment interact It is ideal for students with no previous knowledge of business studies It examines in depth the ways in which business industry the physical environment environmentalism and social change have evolved alongside each other The authors use boxed case studies to highlight how business practice and the environment interact at levels from local to global with examples from multinational companies government bodies national charities and local enterprise The book also contains a large number of informative diagrams The case studies include Shell Oil's environmental policy railways and the industrial revolution the British National Trust's business enterprises Sainsbury's approach to organic foods Australia's landcare scheme changing trends in retailing Brent Spar big game hunting and conservation

Explorations in Ecocriticism Paul Lindholdt, 2015-04-09 A chief innovation of Explorations in Ecocriticism is to push ecological criticism beyond its focus on literary studies to engage with other arts and culture One chapter closely examines the pictures commissioned by the U S Bureau of Reclamation to valorize its big dam projects Previously no one has written about the large art collection that toured the nation under the auspices of the Smithsonian in the early 1970s when the Bureau of Reclamation was under fire and new environmental regulations were becoming law Another chapter An Iconography of Sabotage previously published in France as part of a Paris symposium looks at the pictorial dimension of saboteurs throughout American history with a special emphasis on the IWW and Earth First The book draws extensively on the social sciences Ecology and environment are treated too often as technical topics that go over the heads of lay readers Many Americans care about air and water quality the extinction of species and the unfortunate politicization of science But they also find the discourse daunting the details exceedingly complex By leavening such heavy subjects with current events Explorations in Ecocriticism makes environmental issues accessible to lay readers and offers routes to sustainability in the United States today

Zoo and Aquarium History Vernon N. Kisling, Jr, 2022-07-11 Wild animals have been housed in zoos and aquariums for 5 000 years fascinating people living in virtually every society Today these institutions are at a new milestone in their history This second edition of Zoo and Aquarium History takes the reader on a journey through the transition of private collections to menageries to zoos then zoological gardens and more recently conservation centers and sanctuaries Under the direction of Vernon N Kisling an expert in zoo history an international team of authors has thoroughly updated the only comprehensive global history of animal collections menageries zoos and aquariums The resulting book documents the continuum of efforts in maintaining wild animal collections from ancient civilizations through today explaining how modern zoos have developed their mission statements around the core aims of conservation education research and recreation This new edition pulls together regional information including new chapters on zoological gardens of Canada Latin America China Israel the Middle East and New Zealand along with the cultural aspects of each region to provide a foundation upon which further research can be based It presents a chronological listing of the world s zoos and aquariums and features many never before published photographs Sidebars present supplementary information on pertinent personalities events and wildlife conservation issues The original Appendix has been expanded to include over 1 200 zoos and aquariums providing an invaluable resource This is an extensive chronological introduction to the subject highlighting the published and archival resources for those who want to know more

Defending Illusions Allan K. Fitzsimmons, 1999 Fitzsimmons examines the science philosophy and law of ecosystems management and shows how efforts to make federal protection of ecosystems the centerpiece of national environmental policy are driven by religious veneration of Mother Earth wrapped in a veil of weak science International Environmental Policy Sonja Boehmer-Christiansen, Aynsley J. Kellow, 2003-01-01 The book does not attempt to say what should be done about global warming Instead it uses a framework of thinking about how interests including those of governments and scientists as well as business and activists affect negotiations over international issues The ultimate aim is to reconsider the international environmental institutions that attempt to balance these interests and forge workable agreements The failure of Kyoto points to inadequacies in the current mechanisms Boehmer Christiansen and Kellow have made a valuable contribution to understanding this failure and where solutions might emerge Ross McKittrick The World Economy The Kyoto Protocol has singularly failed to shape international environmental policy making in the way that the earlier Montreal protocol did Whereas Montreal placed reliance on the force of science and moralistic injunctions to save the planet and successfully determined the international response to climate change Kyoto has proved significantly more problematic International Environmental Policy considers why this is the case The authors contend that such arguments on this occasion proved inadequate to the task not just because the core issues of the Kyoto process were subject to more powerful and conflicting interests than previously and the science too uncertain but because the science and moral arguments themselves remained too weak They argue that global warming is a failing policy construct because it has served to benefit limited but undeclared interests that were sustained by green beliefs rather than robust scientific knowledge This highly topical book takes a frank look at the political motivations that underpin the global warming debate and will appeal to political scientists and energy policy analysts as well as anyone with an interest in the future of the environment and in the policies we create to protect it

American Perceptions of Immigrant and Invasive Species Peter Coates, 2007-01-09 Sometimes by accident and sometimes on purpose humans have transported plants and animals to new habitats around the world Arriving in ever increasing numbers to American soil recent invaders have competed with preyed on hybridized with and carried diseases to native species transforming our ecosystems and creating anxiety among environmentalists and the general public But is American anxiety over this crisis of ecological identity a recent phenomenon Charting shifting attitudes to alien species since the 1850s Peter Coates brings to light the rich cultural and historical aspects of this story by situating the history of immigrant flora and fauna within the wider context of human immigration Through an illuminating series of particular invasions including the English sparrow and the eucalyptus tree what he finds is that we have always perceived plants and animals in relation to ourselves and the politics to which we belong Setting the saga of human relations with the environment in the broad context of scientific social and cultural history this thought provoking book demonstrates how profoundly notions of nationality and debates over race and immigration have shaped American understandings of the natural world

A Vision for the U.S. Forest Service Roger A. Sedjo, 2015-09-25 Originally published in 2000 this title is a collection of engaging nontechnical contributions of scholars policymakers and forestry officials providing broad reflections on the agency's past and future contemporary perspectives about the use and stewardship of public lands and insightful analyses about the science involved in the practice of scientific management The authors offer challenging ideas for evaluating the performance of the U S Forest Service reshaping its mission enhancing its effectiveness improving internal morale and increasing public participation in the agency It is a valuable resource for policymakers professional foresters and any student interested in Environmental Studies

The Globalization of Environmental Crisis Jan Oosthoek, Barry K. Gills, 2013-10-31 Previously published as a special issue of Globalizations this collection of essays addresses what is arguably the most pressing and urgent issue of our day the continuing development of global environmental crises and the need for new and urgent responses to them by the world community The contributors include social scientists environmental historians anthropologists and science policy researchers and together they give an overview of the history of the globalization of environmental crisis over the past several decades both in terms of the science of measurement and the types of policy and public responses that have emerged to date The specific issue areas addressed in the book cover a wide range of topics including international environmental governance North South inequalities climate change global warming tropical forests air pollution economic and paradigm shifts sustainability indigenous peoples and eco conservation EU environmental policy the United States and politicized climate science and more The Globalization of Environmental Crisis will be of particular interest to all those concerned with the on going debate over the state of the global environment and what to do about it

Property Matters James V. DeLong, 1997 Which matters more spotted owls or the right to cut timber on your own land Who has a greater right to the water of the Colorado River California farmers Denver housewives or whitewater rafters The vitally important right to property from land to copyrights is threatened by overzealous bureaucrats ecological extremists and an arbitrary judiciary
