Parting Words Justin A. Sider, 2018-11-29 Valedictory addresses offer a way to conceptualize the relation of self to others private to public ephemeral to eternal Whether deathbed pronouncements political capitulations or seafaring farewells parting words played a crucial role in the social imagination of Victorian writing In this compelling new book Justin Sider traces these public addresses across a wide range of works from poems by Byron Tennyson and Browning to essays by Twain and Wilde to novels by Dickens and Eliot Ironically while the Victorian era saw the loss of faith in a unitary national public it asked poetry to address just such a public Attending to the form rather than the discursive content of poets engagement with public culture Parting Words explains how the valedictory allowed Victorian poets to explore the ways their poems might be received by distant and anonymous readers in an emergent mass culture Using a wide array of materials such as letters and reviews to describe the rapidly changing print culture in which poets were intervening Sider shows how the growing diversification and destabilization of the Victorian reading public was countered by the demand for a public poetry Characteristically the speakers of Tennyson's Ulysses and Matthew Arnold's Empedocles on Etna imagine their farewells as simultaneous entrances into a public space where they and their readers however distant might yet meet This new consciousness anticipated modernist poetry which in turn used the valedictory to underscore the futility and alienation of such hopes

Challenges for the Italian Boating Industry Luana Carcano, 2011-02-08T00:00:00+01:00 Unlike any other Italian manufacturing sector Italy's recreational boating industry has recorded skyrocketing growth rates for years ultimately achieving a world leadership position in the construction of motor yachts But now the global crisis has imposed profound structural changes and significant evolutionary dynamics on the industry's competitive environment The book aims to answer some of the industry's most hotly debated issues including What are the key features that led to this success What business models characterize Italian shipyards Which elements distinguish the Italian industry from its foreign competitors Which future challenges must the industry overcome in order to maintain its leadership position
