Naval Review 199:

The British Pacific Fleet Experience and Legacy, 1944-50 Jon Robb-Webb, 2016-03-16 The British Pacific Fleet was formed in October 1944 and dispatched to fight alongside the USN in the Central Pacific under Admiral Nimitz Deploying previously unpublished documents this book reveals how relations between the UK and US forces developed from a starting point of barely repressed suspicion to one where both navies came to understand each other and eventually find a remarkable bond Born out of a shared experience of Kamikaze attacks extended operations against bitterly hostile shores the pooling of knowledge and experience the two navies underpinned the diplomatic moves in both Washington and London The book carries the legacy of this experience through to the next Anglo American participation in war Korea It illustrates and explains how and why certain lessons were incorporated into the composition behaviour and structure of the post war Navy It demonstrates the significance of what was learned from the USN by the RN and by USN from the RN As well as examining the background to the largest fleet the Royal Navy ever put to sea the book also charts its effects on Anglo American relations multinational operations alliance building and the ways naval forces are shaped by and in turn shape politics It addresses a period of rapid technological development that witnessed profound changes in the international system and which raised fundamental questions of what navies were for and how should they operate and organize themselves In so doing the study illustrates how the experience of a few long months at the end of the war in the Pacific would cast a long shadow over these issues in the very different circumstances of the post war world A Study of Strategic Lessons Learned in Vietnam: Conduct of the war. 2 pts. in 3, 1981 Narrative of the Mission to Russia, in 1866, of the Hon. Gustavus Vasa Fox, Assistant-secretary of the Navy Joseph Florimond duc de Loubat, 1879 The Royal Navy and Nuclear Weapons Richard Moore, 2018-12-07 This work examines British thinking about nuclear weapons in the period up to about 1970 looking at the subject through the eyes of the Royal Navy in the belief that this can offer new insights in this field The author argues that the Navy was always sceptical about nuclear weapons both on practical grounds and because of wartime and pre war experiences He suggests that this scepticism can teach us a good deal about military technological innovation in general Sailor-Scholar Barry D. Hunt, 2006-01-01 Admiral Sir Herbert Richmond was a unique phenomenon in the Victorian Edwardian navy a professionally competent and successful officer who was also an intellectual writes the author This was enough to ensure that his progress would be stormy This thoroughly documented biographical study of Richmond's professional career reveals a fully experienced clear thinking officer with a profound understanding of naval history a restless and uncompromising personality and a passionate concern with naval strategy the art of war and the most effective training programme for officers Richmond persistently challenged the accepted practices and prejudices of the naval profession He and his small group of disciples the Young Turks found themselves in the thick of the most crucial controversies in the British Navy In spite of frequent official displeasure however Richmond became an influential naval historian and educator responsible for the creation of the modern naval staff and the Imperial Defence College The volume rests on extensive research in the official records and the private papers of Richmond and his close associates It will interest not only naval historians but also those with a general interest in the impact of one man s thought and actions on Britain s defence policy and the outcome of two World Wars      Narrative of the Mission to Russia, in 1866, of the Hon.

Hill,2021-05-30 This book first published in 1986 argues that there is a special category of medium powers in the world such as Britain France India Brazil Japan China and others which have sufficient military power to do something to protect their interests but which are not a match for the superpowers It surveys the whole range of naval warfare equipment operations organisation and deployment and discusses how each item should be tailored by the recognition of the position of the medium power It considers alliances a key element for medium powers and explores how these should be handled and what use they may be expected to fulfil The book argues that the concept of medium power here developed thoroughly for the first time will be extremely useful to many countries in defining their strategic role in a purposeful way      Intrepid Warriors Bernd Horn,2007-11-15 Command and leadership are very personal endeavours The manner in which an individual commands others and exercises leadership speaks more to the character and personality of the individual in question than it does to the concept of command or leadership in and of themselves Intrepid Warriors takes an intimate look at a number of Canada's finest military commanders and leaders during the crucible of war. Collectively the chapters in this volume offer invaluable insights into different command and leadership approaches, behaviours and styles. They also reinforce the timeless truth that the character and presence of courageous leaders are critical to military outcomes, particularly during times of ambiguity, uncertainty and chaos. The Wrens of World War II Peter Hore, 2021-09-29

The World War II codebreaking station at Bletchley is well known and its activities documented in detail. Its decryption capabilities were vital to the war effort, significantly aiding Allied victory. But where did the messages being deciphered come from in the first place? This is the extraordinary untold story of the Y service, a secret even more closely guarded than Bletchley Park. The Y service was the code for the chain of wireless intercept stations around Britain and all over the world. Hundreds of wireless operators, many of them who were civilians, listened to German, Italian and Japanese radio networks and meticulously logged everything they heard. Some messages were then used tactically, but most were sent on to Station X, Bletchley Park, where they were deciphered, translated and consolidated to build a comprehensive overview of the enemy's movements and intentions. Peter Hore delves into the fascinating history of the Y service with particular reference to the girls of the Women's Royal Naval Service Wrens who escaped from Singapore to Colombo as the war raged, only to be torpedoed in the Atlantic on their way back to Britain; the woman who had a devastatingly true premonition that disaster would strike on her way to Gibraltar; the Australian who went from being captain of the English Women's Cricket team to a WWII Wren to the head of Abbotleigh girls' school in Sydney; how the Y service helped to hunt the German battleship Bismarck in the North Atlantic and how it helped to torpedo a Japanese cruiser in the Indian Ocean. Together these incredible stories build a picture of World War II as it has never been viewed before. Annual Report of the Auditor for the Navy Department for the Fiscal Year Ended United States. Auditor for Navy Department, 1893 Journals of the Century Jim Cole, Tony Stankus, 2014-02-25

Get the experts' perspective on the top journals of the 20th century. The Journals of the Century project gathered some of America's top subject expert librarians to determine the most influential journals in their respective fields. Thirty-two contributing authors, led by Editor Tony Stankus, reviewed journals from over 20 countries that have successfully shaped the evolution of their individual specialties worldwide. Their choices reflect the history of each discipline or profession, taking into account rivalries between universities, professional societies for profit and not-for-profit publishers, and even nation-states and international ideologies in each journal's quest for reputational dominance. Each journal was judged using criteria such as longevity of publication, foresight in carving out its niche, ability to attract none who are in the employ of any publisher, but each is fully credentialed and well published, and many are award winners. The authors guide college and professional school librarians on limited budgets via an exposition of their analytical and critical winnowing process in determining the classic resources for their faculty, students and working professional clientele. The chapters are logically grouped together in six clusters that reflect the commonly shared interests of library liaisons and the range of like-minded academic departments they typically serve These clusters include The Helping Professionals chapters on social work education psychology sociology and library and information sciences Music Museums and Methodists chapters on visual arts anthropology archaeology philosophy and the American religious experience Business and Law chapters on business and economics plus legal literature War and Peace chapters on modern history political science and international relations and military affairs Physical Sciences and Engineering chapters on mathematics and the physical sciences as well as engineering and computer science Life Health and Agriculture chapters on medicine and surgery pharmacy physical therapy and nutrition agriculture and veterinary medicine Journals of the Century answers questions such as Which university press leads in high ranking titles in the helping professions In what crime fighting journal ironically mentioned within the Music Museums and Methodists cluster do anthropologists routinely publish What two journals cover the biggest yearly expense of most working Americans and rank highly within both chapters of the Business and Law cluster What family of British publications has remained indispensable reading for political and military readers for over a century in the War and Peace Cluster What society in the Physical Sciences and Engineering cluster publishes more journals than any other publisher in this book covering topics from light bulbs and computers to MRIs and windmills What one word titled journal has joined the venerable pair of Nature and Science as the most important reporters of world class breakthroughs in basic biomedical science and many many more Journals of the Century includes extensive commentaries on each cluster by the editor with graphical representations by world regions and publishing sectors contributing to each chapter ISSN numbers for print editions and URL addresses for online editions are provided in a comprehensive title index This unique book is an essential resource for serials librarians in academia new reference librarians familiarizing themselves with classic titles and collection evaluators and college accreditation examiners Britain, Germany and the Battle of the Atlantic Dennis Haslop, 2013-11-07 The length scale and intensity of the Battle of the Atlantic led the British and German navies to make substantial changes to their organisation strategy and tactics In this book Dennis Haslop examines the pivotal lessons learned and how these helped to determine the outcome of the Battle of the Atlantic Convoy War He questions how well adapted the two organisations were to learn from the conflict and how effective they were in identifying problems and producing remedies Based on the in depth analysis of British and German primary sources this study provides an innovative basis against which to assess the German and British approach to changing warfare and provides important new insights into aspects of convoy warfare in particular the virtually unknown subject of German Operational Research Hong Kong Invaded! A 'Ninety-Seven Nightmare Gillian Bickley, 2001-04-01 No It is not what you think The year is 1897 not 1997 This is a fictional account of Hong Kong being invaded by the combined forces of France and Russia This visionary novel by an anonymous author has been forgotten for a hundred years Yet when published as The Back Door during the negotiations between Imperial China and Great Britain over the lease of the New Territories the story aroused serious British fears about the possibility of defending Hong Kong against attack Copies were then to be found on the desks of British officials in London Matthew Nathan who became Governor in 1904 was advised to read the book But it was not only in 1897 that the book was accurate in its observations on military tactics There are many intriguing parallels with the Christmas 1941 invasion by the Japanese and the role of the Hong Kong Volunteers at that time Three strategically vulnerable locations identified in The Back Door were considered for attack in 1941 Had the Japanese read this fictional battle when plotting their manoeuvres If so The Back Door not only taught one way to defend Hong Kong but also another to attack it      Report of the Secretary of the Navy United States.
