Imaging and Imagining Palestine Karène Sanchez Summerer, Sary Zananiri, 2021-07-05 Imaging and Imagining Palestine is the first comprehensive study of photography during the British Mandate period 1918 1948 It addresses well known archives photos from private collections never available before and archives that have until recently remained closed This interdisciplinary volume argues that photography is central to a different understanding of the social and political complexities of Palestine in this period While Biblical and Orientalist images abound the chapters in this book go further by questioning the impact of photography on the social histories of British Mandate Palestine This book considers the specific archives the work of individual photographers methods for reading historical photography from the present and how we might begin the process of decolonising photography Imaging and Imagining Palestine presents a timely and much needed critical evaluation of the role of photography in Palestine Drawing together leading interdisciplinary specialists and engaging a range of innovative methodologies the volume makes clear the ways in which photography reflects the shifting political cultural and economic landscape of the British Mandate period and experiences of modernity in Palestine Actively problematising conventional understandings of production circulation and the instability of the photographic document Imaging and Imagining Palestine provides essential reading for decolonial studies of photography and visual culture studies of Palestine Chrisoula Lionis author of Laughter in Occupied Palestine Comedy and Identity in Art and Film Imaging and Imagining Palestine is the first and much needed overview of photography during the British Mandate period From well known and accessible photographic archives to private family albums it deals with the cultural and political relations of the period thinking about both the Western perceptions of Palestine as well as its modern social life This book brings together an impressive array of material and analyses to form an interdisciplinary perspective that considers just how photography shapes our understanding of the past as well as the ways in which the past might be reclaimed Jack Persekian Founding Director of Al Ma mal Foundation for Contemporary Art in Jerusalem Imaging and Imagining Palestine draws together a plethora of fresh approaches to the field of photography in Palestine It considers Palestine as a central node in global photographic production and the ways in which photography shaped the modern imaging and imagining from within a fresh regional theoretical perspective Salwa Mikdadi Director al Mawrid Arab Center for the Study of Art New York University Abu Dhabi

Encyclopedia of Arab American Artists Faye S. Oweis, 2007-12-30 The rich history and culture of the Arab American people is found in the passionate works of its artists Whether they be traditional media such as painting and calligraphy or more sophisticated media such as digital work and installation the pieces represent the beauty of heritage the struggles of growing up in war torn countries the identity conflicts of female artists in male dominated societies and the issues surrounding migration to a Western culture very different from one's own. Many of the artists included here though their works appear in museums and galleries throughout the world have never before been featured in a reference book. Interviews conducted by the author provide a personal look into the experiences and creative processes of these artists. Artists included Etel Adnan, Wasma Chorbachi, Nihad Dukhan, Kahlil Gibran, Sari Khoury, Emily Jacir, Sari Khoury, Mamoun Sakkal, Mary Tuma, Madiha Umar, Afaf Zurayk. American Photo, 2006-01. Encyclopedia of African American Artists dele jegede, 2009-03-20. African American heritage is rich with stories of family, community, faith, love, adaptation and adjustment, grief and suffering, all captured in a variety of media by artists intimately familiar with them. From traditional media of painting and artists such as Horace Pippin and Faith Ringgold to photography of Gordon Parks and new media of Sam Gilliam and Martin Puryear, installation art, the African American experience is reflected across generations and works. Eight pages of color plates and black and white images throughout the book introduce both favorite and new artists to students and adult readers alike. Revisionary Narratives examines the historical and formal evolutions of Moroccan women's auto biography in the last four decades, particularly its conflation with testimony and its expansion beyond literary texts. It analyzes auto biographical and testimonial acts in Arabic colloquial, Moroccan Darija, French and English in the fields of prison narratives, visual arts, theater performance and digital media, situating them within specific sociopolitical and cultural contexts of production and consumption. Part One begins by tracing the rise of a feminist consciousness in prison narratives produced and/or published in the late 1970s through the 2000s. Part Two moves to analyzing the ubiquity of auto biography and testimony in the arts as well as contemporary sociopolitical activism. The focus throughout the various case studies is women's engagement with patriarchal and neo imperial norms and practices as they relate to their experiences of political violence, activism, migration and displacement. To understand why and how women collapse the boundaries between autobiography, biography, testimony and sociopolitical commentary, the book employs a broad transdisciplinary montage approach that combines theories on gender and autobiography and takes into account postcolonial, postmodern, transnational, transglobal and translocal perspectives. Doing so, the book marks auto biography and testimony as a specific field of inquiry within the study of women's postcolonial cultural productions in the Moroccan and
