Understanding Adrienne Rich Jeannette E. Riley, 2016-08-31 The journey of an important feminist writer through poetry prose and politics Among the most celebrated American poets of the past half century Adrienne Rich was the recipient of numerous awards including the Bollingen Prize the National Book Award and the Lannan Lifetime Achievement Award In Understanding Adrienne Rich Jeannette E Riley assesses the full scope of Rich's career from 1957 to her death in 2012 through a chronological exploration of her poetry and prose Riley details the evolution of Rich's feminist poetics as she investigated issues of identity sexuality gender the desire to reclaim women's history and what she terms the dream of a common language Throughout the book she documents Rich's gradually developing assertion that poetry can create social change and engage people in the democratic process Interweaving explications of Rich's poetry with analysis of her prose Riley offers a close look at the development of the author's voice from formalist poet to feminist visionary to citizen poet

Writers and Miners David C. Duke, 2021-10-21 Coal miners evoke admiration and sympathy from the public and writers some seeking a muse others a cause traditionally champion them David C Duke explores more than one hundred years of this tradition in literature poetry drama and film Duke argues that as most writers spoke about rather than to the mining community miners became stock characters in an industrial morality play robbed of individuality or humanity He discusses activist writers such as John Reed Theodore Dreiser and Denise Giardina who assisted striking workers and looks at the writing of miners themselves He examines portrayals of miners from The Trail of the Lonesome Pine to Matewan and The Kentucky Cycle The most comprehensive study on the subject to date Writers and Miners investigates the vexed political and creative relationship between activists and artists and those they seek to represent

Displacement and Dispossession in the Modern Middle East Dawn Chatty, 2010-03-08 Dispossession and forced migration in the Middle East remain even today significant elements of contemporary life in the region Dawn Chatty's book traces the history of those who as a reconstructed Middle East emerged at the beginning of the twentieth century found themselves cut off from their homelands refugees in a new world with borders created out of the ashes of war and the fall of the Ottoman Empire As an anthropologist the author is particularly sensitive to individual experience and how these experiences have impacted on society as a whole from the political social and environmental perspectives Through personal stories and interviews within different communities she shows how some minorities such as the Armenian and Circassian communities have succeeded in integrating and creating new identities whereas others such as the Palestinians and the Kurds have been left homeless within impermanent landscapes

Jewish American and Holocaust Literature Alan L.

Berger, Gloria L. Cronin, 2012-02-01 Challenging the notion that Jewish American and Holocaust literature have exhausted their limits this volume reexamines these closely linked traditions in light of recent postmodern theory Composed against the tumultuous background of great cultural transition and unprecedented state sponsored systematic murder Jewish American and Holocaust literature both address the concerns of postmodern human existence in extremis In addition to exploring how various mythic and literary themes are deconstructed in the lurid light of Auschwitz this book provides critical reassessments of Saul Bellow Bernard Malamud and Philip Roth as well as contemporary Jewish American writers who are extending this vibrant tradition into the new millennium These essays deepen and enrich our understanding of the Jewish literary tradition and the implications of the Shoah Israeli Documentary Poetry Ilana Rosen, 2025-07-29 Israeli Documentary Poetry Coming of Age with the State introduces and explores documentary poetry written by Israeli poets who came of age during the first two decades of the state and who since the 1970s and 1980s have recorded their experiences of that period This study offers a literary cultural analysis of forty two poems by thirty Israeli poets of various backgrounds divided into themes such as memories of the Holocaust and portraits of survivors and their offspring transit locations and situations both en route to and within Israel displacement as a shared fate of Jews and Arabs school and classroom experiences Mizra i women between Levantine patriarchy and Western liberalism and languages of the diaspora versus Hebrew Literature of the Holocaust Robb Erskine, 2009 Examines the literature of the period of the Holocaust in Jewish history that includes the work of James E Young Lawrence W Langer Geoffrey H Hartman and others Behind the Lines Philip Metres, 2007-05 Whether Thersites in Homer's Iliad Wilfred Owen in Dulce et Decorum Est or Allen Ginsberg in Wichita Vortex Sutra poets have long given solitary voice against the brutality of war The hasty cancellation of the 2003 White House symposium Poetry and the American Voice in the face of protests by Sam Hamill and other invited guests against the coming shock and awe campaign in Iraq reminded us that poetry and poets still have the power to challenge the powerful Behind the Lines investigates American war resistance poetry from the Second World War through the Iraq wars Rather than simply chronicling the genre Philip Metres argues that this poetry gets to the heart of who is authorized to speak about war and how it can be represented As such he explores a largely neglected area of scholarship the poet's relationship to dissenting political movements and the nation In his elegant study Metres examines the ways in which war resistance is registered not only in terms of its content but also at the level of the lyric He proposes that protest poetry constitutes a subgenre that by virtue of its preoccupation with politics history and trauma probes the limits of American lyric poetry Thus war resistance poetry and the role of what Shelley calls unacknowledged legislators is a crucial though largely unexamined body of writing that stands at the center of dissident political movements Passion for Peace Stuart Rees, 2003 Passion for Peace considers the use of non violence and attaining human rights for all It also raises questions about current issues including peace in the Middle East US unilateralism the war on terrorism powerlessness associated with poverty racism and justice for asylum seekers BOOK

JACKET The Politics of Rhetoric Bernard K. Duffy, Martin Jacobi, 1993-04-30 Richard M Weaver 1910 1963 was one of the leading rhetoricians of the 1950s whose philosophical and pedagogical writings helped revitalize interest in rhetoric His rhetorical contributions are difficult to separate from his conservative stances on social and political issues and indeed he espoused the cultural role of rhetoric conceiving of his intellectual task as one of reinventing a philosophical conservatism and employing rhetorical theory to oppose liberalism and modernism Today his politics would be viewed as extreme by liberals feminists and civil libertarians on the other hand his theories laid the philosophical groundwork for contemporary American political conservatism and his argumentation on a number of social issues remains pertinent This first full length study of Weaver examines the relationship between his rhetorical theory and his cultural views focusing on the rhetorical insights for instance his conception of language as sermonistic its function being to influence others to think and act according to the speaker's moral precepts and ideally to convey the abiding truth of a culture Authors Duffy and Jacobi advance the idea that Weaver was at his best as an epideictic rhetor engaged in the celebration of abstract values and at his worst as a forensic rhetor pleading conservative causes with no more than the pretense of impartiality Based largely on primary materials but with adroit application of previous criticism this work will be valuable for a wide range of research specialties in rhetoric and public address

Political Fiction and the American Self John Whalen-Bridge, 1998 Examining political novels that have achieved or been denied canonical status John Whalen Bridge demonstrates how Herman Melville Jack London Norman Mailer Ralph Ellison Toni Morrison and Margaret Atwood have grappled with the problem of balancing radicalism and art He shows that some books are more political than others that some political novelists are more skillful than others and that readers must allow for basic working distinctions between politics and aesthetics if we are to make useful judgments about which political novels to read and why Whalen Bridge demonstrates with clarity and power that the American political novel should not be ostracized but celebrated as a genre equal or superior to poetic and aesthetic ones Tobin Siebers author of Cold War Criticism and the Politics of Skepticism

Part of the Climate Jacqueline Vaught Brogan, 2023-12-22 Part of the Climate convincingly redefines American modernist poetry in light of developments in modern painting particularly cubism The traditional separation of the verbal and visual arts is cast aside here as Brogan encourages a re-evaluation of modernism itself Moreover readers of modern poetry and literature will find this critical work doubly useful since the author places the poetry of well known modernists such as Pound Eliot and Williams alongside the harder to find work of important experimentalists such as Mina Loy Louis Zukofsky Gertrude Stein and George Oppen Jacqueline Vaught Brogan has assembled this much needed collection of experimental verse from the interwar years by going to the small magazines through which the poems reached their public She not only shows how significantly many of these American poets of the early twentieth century were influenced by the aesthetic development of cubism in the visual arts but also argues that the cubist aesthetic at least as it translated into the verbal domain invariably involved political and ethical issues The most important of these concerns was to extend the aesthetic revolution of cubism into a genuine revolution of the word Brogan maintains in fact that the multiplicity inherent in cubism anticipates the deconstructive enterprise now seen in criticism itself With this history of the cubist movement in American verse she raises serious questions about the politics of canonization and asks us to consider the ethical responsibility of interpretation both in the creative arts and in critical texts Part of the Climate convincingly redefines American modernist poetry in light of developments in modern painting particularly cubism The traditional separation of the verbal and visual arts is cast aside here as Brogan encourages a re evaluation The New York Times Book Review ,1990 Presents extended reviews of noteworthy books short reviews essays and articles on topics and trends in publishing literature culture and the arts Includes lists of best sellers hardcover and paperback
