Reichard, 2012-03-29 Today we often look to our leaders in business government or the social sector to make effective decisions in a complex world Whether they are asked what steps to take to improve competitiveness in a global economy or to make tough ethical choices well trained leaders are critical to organizational effectiveness Although we know much about leadership development for individuals after they take their first job we know relatively little about their earlier experiences that contributed to their interest in leadership or subsequent effectiveness as leaders This volume brings together researchers who explore leadership at different points before individuals enter the workforce and asks important questions surrounding definitions of leadership behavior necessary leader skills and age related leader tasks factors contributing to development of leader identity and ways to improve the process of leader development With contributions from well known leadership researchers such as Robert Sternberg Howard Gardner Bruce Avolio and Susan Komives the volume shows research evidence for factors such as early childhood and youth experiences on leadership development which have implications for the way we understand and train leadership in today's organizations Oversight Hearings on Urban
