School Photograph:

School Photos in Liquid Time Marianne Hirsch, Leo Spitzer, 2019-12-30 From clandestine images of Jewish children isolated in Nazi ghettos and Japanese American children incarcerated in camps to images of Native children removed to North American boarding schools classroom photographs of schoolchildren are pervasive even in repressive historical and political contexts School Photos in Liquid Time offers a closer look at this genre of vernacular photography tracing how photography advances ideologies of social assimilation as well as those of hierarchy and exclusion In Marianne Hirsch and Leo Spitzer's deft analysis school photographs reveal connections between the histories of persecuted subjects in different national and imperial centers Exploring what this ubiquitous and mundane but understudied genre tells us about domination as well as resistance the authors examine school photos as documents of social life and agents of transformation They place them in dialogue with works by contemporary artists who reframe remediate and elucidate them Ambitious yet accessible School Photos in Liquid Time presents school photography as a new access point into institutions of power revealing the capacity of past and present actors to disrupt and reinvent them Reinventing Ourselves as Teachers Claudia

Mitchell, Sandra Weber, 2003-10-04 Designed for use by teachers and teacher educators this text should help both novice and experienced teachers reinterpret their working lives The reader is led on a path of personal exploration that goes beyond standard approaches and leads from the personal to the critical Illustrative material is drawn from all levels from kindergarten to high school to illuminate issues and questions fundamental to teachers' lives Film and literary narratives supply further case studies and contribute to the fusion of critical reflection and everyday realities that typically inform teachers' experiences of work School Memories Cristina Yanes-Cabrera, Juri Meda, Antonio Viñao, 2016-09-15 This book reveals how school memories offer not only a tool for accessing the school of the past but also a key to understanding what people today know or think they know about the school of the past It describes in fact how historians work does not purely and simply consist in exploring school as it really was but also in the complex process of defining the memory of school as one developed and revisited over time at both the individual and collective level Further it investigates the extent to which what people know reflects the reality or is in fact a product of stereotypes that are deeply rooted in common perceptions and thus exceedingly difficult to do away with The book includes fifteen peer reviewed contributions that were presented and discussed during the International Symposium School Memories New Trends in Historical Research into Education Heuristic Perspectives and Methodological Issues Seville 22-23 September 2015 Cornell Rural School Leaflet, 1926

ethnography explores what it can achieve in educational research The book features Thorough discussion of definitions of ethnography and its potential for use within educational research Critical introductions to the principal approaches to ethnography Discussions of data analysis and representation and of the challenges facing ethnography Use of educational examples from real research projects throughout The book offers a distinctive contribution to the literature of ethnography taking readers beyond a simplistic how to approach towards an understanding of the wider contribution ethnography can make to our understanding of educational processes Ethnography for Education is of value to final year undergraduates and postgraduates in education and social science disciplines as well as education professionals engaged in practice based research Christopher Pole is Senior Lecturer at the Department of Sociology University of Leicester His research interests are in the areas of the sociology of education sociology of childhood and the development of qualitative research methods Recent publications include Practical Social Investigation Qualitative and Quantitative Methods in Social Research and Hidden Hands International Perspectives on Children s Work and Labour Marlene Morrison is Reader in Education Leadership and Director of the Doctorate of Education programme at the University of Lincoln Her academic background is in the sociology of education and includes research on race equality health education perspectives on educational policy and practice and the ethnography of educational settings She has researched widely in the education that has included school further and higher education sectors and other public services
