Schooling As A Ritual Performance:

Schooling as a Ritual Performance Peter McLaren, 1999 One of the most compelling ethnographies of school ever written Schooling as a Ritual Performance has for over a decade made its mark among educators sociologists and those seeking to understand the cultural meaning of classroom practices Written by one of the major world figures on the educational left Schooling as a Ritual Performance is a pioneering study of the partnership between capitalism and religion and the educational offspring it produces Not since Paul Willis Learning to Labor has an educational ethnography about schooling so pushed the limits of current social theory Now in a new edition to this classic text McLaren engages with some of the latest anthropological thinking and presents readers with a powerful manifesto for critical ethnography in the coming millennium Schooling as a Ritual Performance Peter McLaren, 1986 Rituals and Student Identity in Education R. Quantz, 2011-01-31

An exploration of how the nonrational aspects of schooling especially ritual s have been harnessed to construct a commonsense which serves the interests of transnational corporations leaving those educators committed to democracy to develop a new pedagogy that rejects the technical solutions that present reforms demand Towards Critical Environmental Education Aristotelis S. Gkiolmas, Constantine D. Skordoulis, 2020-11-03 This volume discusses theory philosophy praxis and methods in Environmental and Ecological education and considers the junction with the main visions and issues of Critical Pedagogy The volume and its separate chapters address four axes which can also be seen as the guidelines of the content as well as the central objectives of the book The first axis concerns the missing theoretical and practical pieces at this point in time The volume considers the issues that are not included in contemporary Environmental Education and thus deprive it from critical orientations This implies that in Environmental Education very little discussion exists about the political economic racial gender and class issues that in most cases govern the actions of leaders and stakeholders The second axis concerns what has been done so far and in what directions This involves descriptions of theoretical approaches or actual applied methodologies in the classroom such as curricula or syllabus used or the kind of actions certain educators have taken to infuse the issues of justice and critical reflection within the Environmental Education teaching agenda The third axis examines proposals It looks at ways to enrich domains of Environmental Education with the argumentations of Critical Pedagogy The fourth axis concerns the way in which proposals can be effectuated This part contains specific methodologies and teaching sequences depicting ways of including major aspects of Critical Pedagogy and Critical Education in Environmental Education Examples are Non anthropocentric ecological approaches in the classroom political activism in the Curricula mixture of field activities and political activities Performance and Appropriation Michel Conan, 2007 Breaking with the idea that gardens are places of indulgence and escapism these studies of ritualized practices reveal that gardens in Europe Asia the United States and the Caribbean have in fact made significant contributions to cultural change This book demonstrates methods and the striking results of garden reception studies The first section explores how cultural changes occur and devotes chapters to public landscapes in the Netherlands seventeenth century Parisian gardens Freemason gardens in Tuscany nineteenth century Scottish kitchen gardens and the public parks of Edo and modern Tokyo The second part provides striking examples of construction of self in vernacular gardens in Guadeloupe and American Japanese style gardens in California Finally the third section analyzes struggles for political change in gardens of Yuan China and modern Britain

A Critical Pedagogy of Resistance James D. Kirylo, 2013-11-04 The diverse range of critical pedagogues presented in this book comes from a variety of backgrounds with respect to race gender and ethnicity from various geographic places and eras and from an array of complex political historical religious theological social cultural and educational circumstances which necessitated their leadership and resistance How each pedagogue uniquely lives in that tension of dealing with pain and struggle while concurrently fostering a pedagogy that is humanizing is deeply influenced by their individual autobiographical lens of reality the conceptual thought that enlightened them the circumstances that surrounded them and the conviction that drove them To be sure people of justice people who resist are framed by a vision that embraces an inclusive tolerant more loving community that passionately calls for a more democratic citizenship That is just what the 34 critical pedagogues represented in this text heroically do Through the highlighting of their lives and work this book is not only an excellent resource to serve as a springboard to engage us in dialogue about pivotal issues and concerns related to justice equality and opportunity but also to prompt us to further explore deeper into the lives and thought of some extraordinary people

A Critical Pedagogy of Resistance 34 Pedagogues We Need to Know is an ambitious undertaking Kirylo's narrative enterprise which seeks to chronicle the lives of transformative pedagogues is a project whose time has come This text is an excellent resource for all those interested in the aesthetic that as Kierkegaard believed exercised power for the common good Luis Mir n

Anthropologies of Education Kathryn M. Anderson-Levitt, 2011-10-01 Despite international congresses and international journals anthropologies of education differ significantly around the world Linguistic barriers constrain the flow of ideas which results in a vast amount of research on educational anthropology that is not published in English or is difficult for international readers to find This volume responds to the call to attend to educational research outside the United States and to break out of metropolitan provincialism A guide to the anthropologies and ethnographies of learning and schooling published in German French Spanish Portuguese Italian Slavic languages Japanese and English as a second language show how scholars in Latin America Japan and elsewhere adapt European American and other approaches to create new traditions As the contributors show educators draw on different foundational research and different theoretical discussions Thus this global survey raises new questions and casts a new light on what has become a too familiar discipline in the United States

The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research Norman K. Denzin (ed), Yvonna S. Lincoln, 2005 A thoroughly revised updated edition this volume includes new chapters on auto ethnography critical race theory queer theory testimonies

years Rubin Gaztambide Fernandez shared the life of what he calls the Weston School an elite New England boarding school Vividly describing the pastoral landscape and graceful buildings the rich variety of classes and activities and the official and unofficial rules that define the school The Best of the Best reveals a small world of deeply ambitious intensely pressured students For Gaztambide Fernandez Weston is daunting yet strikingly bucolic inspiring but frustratingly incurious and sometimes especially for young women a gilded cage for a gilded age Learning to Teach Natalie G. Adams,Christine Mary Shea,Delores D. Liston,Bryan Deever,2006-08-15 This text is designed to assist preservice and inservice teachers in creating a critical and reflective dialogue with themselves their assigned classroom cultures and the larger school environment It engages readers in a series of classroom and school based activities observations and exercises that can be used in any teacher education course with a field component Different from other field experience guides this text aims to disrupt traditional conceptions of teacher education and field experiences by emphasizing the problematic nature and dynamics of public schooling and encouraging readers to seek a greater awareness of their own attitudes toward and connections with these educational processes Learning to Teach A Critical Approach to the Field Experience Second Edition dramatically reconceptualizes the field experience by asking preservice and inservice teachers to be active and critical researchers of classroom practices and processes provides a coherent framework for analyzing both structural and cultural aspects of schooling provides specific exercises to help preservice and inservice teachers evaluate and understand the intersections of race class gender and culture in real life school settings and grounds the observations of everyday school life within critical feminist and poststructuralist discourses New in the Second Edition A new section No Child Left Untested has been added to help preservice teachers explore the implications of a very changed post September 11 world in which xenophobia violence patriotism citizenship and democracy have taken on new meanings The introduction to the book as a whole the section introductions the retained activities in existing sections and the references have been thoroughly updated Performance Theories in Education Bryant Keith Alexander,Gary L. Anderson,Bernardo Gallegos,2004-12-13 Performance Theories in Education Power Pedagogy and the Politics of Identity breaks new ground by presenting a range of approaches to understanding the role function impact and presence of performance in education It is a definitive contribution to a beginning dialogue on how performance as a theoretical and pragmatic lens can be used to view the processes procedures and politics of education The conceptual framework of the volume is the editors argument that performance and performativity help to locate and describe repetitive actions plotted within grids of power relationships and social norms that comprise the context of education and schooling The book brings together performance studies and education researchers teachers and scholars to investigate such topics as the relationship between performance and performativity in pedagogical practice the nature and impact of performing identities in varying contexts cultural and community configurations that fall under the umbrella of teaching education and schooling and the hot button issues of educational policies and reform as performances With the aim of developing a clearer understanding of the effect affect and role of performance in education the volume provides a crucial starting point for discourse among theorists and teacher practitioners who are interested in understanding and acknowledging the politics of performance and the practices of performative social identities that always and already intervene in the educational endeavor Action Research in STEM and English Language Learning Aria Razfar, Beverly Troiano, 2022-05-29 Responding to the linguistic and cultural diversity of the U S K 12 student population and an increasing emphasis on STEM this book offers a model for professional development that engages teachers in transformative action research projects and explicitly links literacy to mathematics and science curriculum through sociocultural principles Providing detailed and meaningful demonstrations of participatory action research in the classroom Razfar and Troiano present an effective systemic approach that helps preservice teachers support students funds of knowledge By featuring teacher and researcher narratives this book centers teacher expertise and offers a more holistic and humanistic understanding of authentic and empathetic teaching Focusing on integrating instructional knowledge from ESL bilingual and STEM education the range of cases and examples will allow readers to implement action research projects in their own classrooms Chapters include discussion questions and additional resources for students researchers and educators

Multicultural Education, Critical Pedagogy, and the Politics of Difference Christine E. Sleeter, Peter McLaren, 1995-01-01 This book explores and expands upon linkages between multicultural education and critical pedagogy drawing on the shared goal of challenging oppressive social relationships Dynamics in Circle Rituals Hongyan Chen, 2016 This study focuses on the issues of secrecy ambiguity and flexibility in what is known as the morning circle in German schools The morning circle has a longstanding tradition in the German school system and is widely practised Over the past twenty years this tradition has been the subject of increasing academic debates many of which have suffered from one sided viewpoints that reduce the morning circle to a warm up phase for the school day or a means of teaching language What has not been addressed in these debates is the initial notion of the circle as the primary feature of new education Petersen which challenged traditional educational ideas or the question as to why the morning circle has become so widespread in German schools today Racial Categorization of Multiracial Children in Schools Jane A.

Chiong, 1998-05-21 Multiracial students have unique needs that are not being met in schools because teachers and school personnel assume that those needs are the same as those of monoracial minority children Children of multiple races are in fact invisible in the schools On school and federal forms they are racially categorized based on one race only and such categorizations are not limited to documents Schools and teachers may unknowingly transmit monoracial identity messages to multiracial students which is problematic for some students who may want to identify with more than one race Our racial categorization process reflects the deficiencies of the concept of race in American culture and needs to be renegotiated The multiracial child is a microcosm of the American cultural identity Current racial categorization of multiracial children reflects a society that is still renegotiating its own racial and ethnic identities and these children bear the burdens of the difficulties As America continues to become increasingly populated by diverse peoples what it means to be American is in transition Americans are moving away from a fixed notion of the American cultural identity toward an expanded more inclusive resolution

Disability Studies in Education Susan Lynn Gabel,2005 As a field of inquiry disability studies in education stands at the broad intersection of disability studies and educational studies This book introduces graduate students educational researchers and teacher educators to the range of scholarly inquiry emerging from this exciting new field Susan L Gabel pulls together a sampling of the vast array of available scholarship that includes readings that intersect curriculum theory critical policy analysis personal narrative and much more Although disability studies in education has only recently been recognized as a field of inquiry with an identifiable body of literature the chapters in this book present the work of some of the major scholars of disability studies in education

The Politics of Liberation Colin Lankshear,Peter McLaren,2002-11-01 First Published in 2004 This work explores various forms of oppression that plague contemporary society Through the analyses and reflections of theorists and social activists including Paulo Freire himself Politics of Liberation brings together under a common project of human liberation critical voices from around the globe Mexico Guatemala Britain Canada Brazil Argentina Australia New Zealand and the United States The essays argue that Freire s work offers an avenue out of the malaise of contemporary politics and culture They place Freire temporally in relation to moments of modernity and postmodernity culturally and existentially in relation to the First and Third Worlds and at the standpoint of indigenous peoples politically in terms of his attention to the range of sites and dimensions of oppression and their relatedness and intellectually in relation to the eclectic range of theories on which he draws The book is a response to the current global crisis of solidarity among progressive and dissident intellectuals educators and cultural workers
