M. S. (Terry) Evens, Don Handelsman,2006-09-01 Pioneered by Max Gluckman to demonstrate the way in which social practice and structure together constitute and are themselves constituted by the situational flow of social life the extended case method became diagnostic of the Manchester School of Social Anthropology Anticipating practice theory and implicitly politically charged it was developed as a tool to bring into account what orthodox structural functionalism was ill equipped to address namely problems such as change conflict deviance and individual choice Edited by two students of Gluckman the volume comprises reprinted pieces by Gluckman and his colleague Clyde Mitchell a Coda by Mitchell's student Bruce Kapferer contributions by Gluckman's students and or friends and colleagues including Ronnie Frankenberg Kapferer Evens Handelsman and Sally Falk Moore as well as a number of contributions from other practitioners of the extended case Apart from the reprinted pieces by Gluckman and Mitchell all the contributions have been written for this volume These essays historical theoretical and ethnographical serve to highlight and critically examine the fundamental features of the extended case method in order to advance its substantial continuing merits A Decade of Research on School Principals Helene Årlestig, Christopher Day, Olof Johansson,2015-11-13 This book provides a unique map of the focus and directions of contemporary research on school leadership since 2000 in 24 countries. Each of these directions has its own particular cultural, educational, and policy history. Taken together, the various chapters in the volume provide a rich and varied mosaic of what is currently known and what is yet to be discovered about the roles and practices of principals and their contributions to the improvement of teaching and the learning and achievement of students. The particular foci and methodological emphases of the research reported illustrate the different phases in the development of educational policies and provision in each country. This collection is an important addition to existing international research that has shown beyond any reasonable doubt that the influence of school principals is second only to that of teachers in their capacity to impact students' progress and achievement and to promote equity and social justice.
