Schooling Reform In Hard Times:

Schooling Reform In Hard Times Bob Linguard, John Knight, Paige Porter, 2003-09-02 Based on research carried out under Labour governments throughout the 1990s in Western Australia the authors consider the social political and economic conditions under which policy is formulated understood and enacted They look at how the state structure affects the content and nature of policy statements and provide an outline of the history of policy developments and point to future possibilities and probabilities Outcomes within funding ceilings accountability frameworks and national guidelines are but some of the changes referred to The emergence of competency based standards in education and training in schools workplaces and the professions is evident throughout Australia at state level but the concern is whether issues of education should be played out within the state and outside civil society The authors argue for the mediation in implementation of policy rather than a lambasting of policy formulation and implementation This text is intended for heads of education departments PGCE BEd MEd students and researchers interested in education policy and planning Education policymakers and educational historians

Globalization and Education Nicholas C. Burbules, Carlos Alberto Torres, 2000 The legendary Greek figure Orpheus was said to have possessed magical powers capable of moving all living and inanimate things through the sound of his lyre and voice Over time the Orphic theme has come to indicate the power of music to unsettle subvert and ultimately bring down oppressive realities in order to liberate the soul and expand human life without limits The liberating effect of music has been a particularly important theme in twentieth century African American literature The nine original essays in Black Orpheus examines the Orphic theme in the fiction of such African American writers as Jean Toomer Langston Hughes Claude McKay James Baldwin Nathaniel Mackey Sherley Anne Williams Ann Petry Ntozake Shange Alice Walker Gayl Jones and Toni Morrison The authors discussed in this volume depict music as a mystical shamanistic and spiritual power that can miraculously transform the realities of the soul and of the world Here the musician uses his or her music as a weapon to shield and protect his or her spirituality Written by scholars of English music women s studies American studies cultural theory and black and Africana studies the essays in this interdisciplinary collection ultimately explore the thematic linguistic structural presence of music in twentieth century African American fiction

Paradigm Shift in Education Yin Cheong Cheng, 2019-02-18 As social contexts and demands change in the 21st century pedagogies and policies must adapt to keep up Increasing emphasis on global preparedness competitiveness and holistic education alongside a fast paced ever changing environment may make policy implementation difficult However Cheng asserts that it is only by understanding the current trends visions and issues in education policy implementation and research that we can reflect adapt and improve future initiatives To that end Cheng elucidates the different paradigm shifts in classrooms and pedagogy all over the world In his exploration of third wave paradigm shifts in education he charts the rationales concerns and effects in topics such as contextualized multiple intelligences integrated learning national education in globalization teacher effectiveness and development school based management and systemic education reform This book is a promising referential resource for any policy maker academic and educator who knows that the only way to progress is to look at and learn from the current issues and future trends globally      Politics, Policies and Pedagogies in Education Bob Lingard, 2013-07-24 In the World Library of Educationalists international experts compile career long collections of what they judge to be their finest pieces of work extracts from books key articles salient research findings major theoretical and practical contributions so the world can read them in a single manageable volume Readers will be able to follow the themes and strands and see how their work contributes to the development of the field Bob Lingard has spent the last 30 years researching and writing in universities in Australia England and Scotland about changing education policy issues His work is written from a sociological perspective and with a commitment to social justice He is the co editor and co author of 17 books and more than 100 journal articles and book chapters In Politics Policies and Pedagogies in Education Bob Lingard provides critical sociological engagement with the politics of education The focus is education policy and the impact of globalization including epistemological and methodological issues necessary for researching education policy today Topics analyzed include educational restructuring new accountabilities and testing mediatization of education policy policy as numbers the global policy field and policy borrowing pedagogies Lingard also considers the nature of educational research today He has selected 12 of his key writings and in a critical introduction situates and contextualizes the work against key developments in the field and in the changing world      Mayors in the Middle Jeffrey R. Henig, Wilbur C. Rich, 2020-12-08 Desperate to jump start the reform process in America s urban schools politicians scholars and school advocates are looking increasingly to mayors for leadership But does a stronger mayoral role represent bold institutional change with real potential to improve big city schools or just the latest in the copycat world of school reform du jour Is it democratic Why have efforts to put mayors in charge so often generated resistance along racial dividing lines Public debate and scholarly analysis have shied away from confronting such issues head on Mayors in the Middle brings together for students of education policy and urban politics as well as scholars and school advocates the most thoughtful and original analyses of the promise and limitations of mayoral takeovers of schools Reflecting on the experience of six cities Baltimore Boston Chicago Detroit Cleveland and Washington D C ten of the nation s leading experts on education politics tackle the question of whether putting mayors in charge is a step in the right direction Through the case studies and the wide ranging essays that follow and build upon them the contributors Stefanie Chambers Jeffrey R Henig Kenneth J Meier Jeffrey Mirel Marion Orr John Portz Wilbur C Rich Dorothy Shipps and Clarence N Stone begin the process of answering questions critical to the future of inner city children the prospects for urban revitalization and the shape of American education in the years to come      'Hanging in with Kids' in Tough Times John Smyth, Barry Down, Peter McInerney, 2010 This book brings a unique innovative and refreshing perspective to one of the most protracted issues affecting young lives disengagement from schooling Rather than continuing to blame young people as most educational policies do this book examines disengagement from the vantage point of the lives experiences interests and aspirations of the communities from which young people come and within which they are embedded It uses a narrative and representational approach that gives detailed insights into the wider context of poverty class power relationships and identity A major and defining hallmark of the book is the emphasis it places upon a number of doings including community voice identity formation critical work education and education policy all of which provide a very different set of scripts with which to reinvent the institution of high school      Managing Finance, Resources and Stakeholders in Education Lesley

Anderson,Ann R J Briggs,Neil Burton,2001 This book will provide readers with knowledge and understanding of the theory and practice of managing finance resources and stakeholders in schools and colleges Written specifically for those studying for an academic qualification at Masters level in educational management it provides self study material and links to other key texts in the field The authors deal with the links between finance resources and stakeholders in the context of school and college self management Examples are drawn from international settings as well as from the United Kingdom Building on an examination of theoretical perspectives practical considerations and applications are examined in a format which encourages the reader to explore the c      Education Policy Unravelled Dean Garratt,Gillian Forrester,2012-03-22 Education Policy Unravelled examines the nature of contemporary education policy its purposes and political formation It charts the continuity of policy development along neo liberal lines taking an historical perspective and moving from New Labour to the emerging position of the Coalition government Contrary to popular belief about recent radical change in education policy the author team draws attention to the fact that there have been strong similarities and nuanced disagreements between successive modern governments Written in an accessible style the book contains a number of activities and pedagogical features designed to appeal to students to inform thinking and understanding around key policy issues This is an invaluable guide for engaging with education policy as it uses a variety of key elements of policy theory in order to support students through some of the complexities involved in contemporary policy analysis and critique      Resources in Education ,1997-07
