Schwartz Communism In China Ideology In Flux:

Communism and China; Ideology in Flux [by] Benjamin I. Schwartz Benjamin Isadore Schwartz,1968 Communism in China ,1965 Paradoxes Of China's Prosperity: Political Dilemmas And Global Implications Guo Guang Wu,2015-01-15 The world seems divided to either applaud or fear the rise of China but this book probes deeper by investigating three aspects of the phenomenon in detail 1 the institutional dilemmas of the prosperity as it integrates Asian authoritarianism with globalizing capitalism to create economic accomplishments 2 the political struggles alongside the prosperity as Chinese citizens begin to demand equality rights and justice that might be viewed to disturb the continuity of stability and development and 3 the global implications entailed by the prosperity not only in power politics war and peace or competitions among nations but especially on global public goods termed human security Articles included here combine political economic analyses lens with historical depth and global concerns to add a perspective that highlights the paradoxes of prosperity surrounding the ongoing debate on the rise of China and its global ramifications Readers will find an analysis that goes beyond the dichotomy viewing the rise of China either in positive or negative perspectives Investigations on the internal dilemmas and the global implications of the rise of China are well situated in the historical context of China s own search for modernization since the late 19th century This is one of the few books in which China s rise is examined from a global perspective rather than from a national perspective of China the United States or any other specific nation a global perspective that addresses the challenges facing all human societies with the rise of China Mao Tse-Tung's Theory of Dialectic F.Y.K. Soo,2012-12-06 The year 1979 ushered in a new phase in China s long and continuous revolution Currently this new phase is being symbolically referred to by the Chinese leaders themselves as the New Long March a continuation of the legendary and historical Long March in terms of modernization which comprises the Four Modernizations Agriculture Industry Science and Technology and Military Defense Such an all encompassing attempt at modernization may appear to some at least to be something new or may indicate a radical shift in her policy But upon closer examination this decision seems only to reflect an historical continuity in terms of the two major long term goals of the Chinese Revolution national independence and modernization or industrialization The former would make China strong the latter wealthy For ever since the Opium War in 1840 and throughout the Revolutions of 1911 and 1949 China has always pursued these two revolutionary goals though with different emphases at different times This has been especially true during the past three decades as this twofold goal has dictated all of China s important policies both domestic and foreign In other words while the concrete policies may have appeared to be lacking in unity at times they have been formulated with the specific intent of achieving national independence and modernization From this perspective the New Long March marks the passage of post Mao China beyond the transition of succession toward the continued pursuit of the same revolutionary goals The Politics Of East Asia John E. Endicott,William R. Heaton,2019-07-16 This is the first undergraduate text on the politics of East Asia to be published since 1970 Looking at both domestic and international politics the authors discuss the political systems of China Japan and Korea within the context of environmental factors culture society the economy geography language historical and political traditions etc The People s Republic of China is presented as a country with strong traditions committed to rapid development under frequently changing ideological auspices Its two governmental apparatuses the party and the bureaucracy sometimes act in unison sometimes are locked in fierce struggles and often are motivated by differing ideologies and administrative dynamics Japan is seen as a mature society and a developed economy with functioning democratic institutions and a strong party system but like the PRC subject to powerful traditions and influenced by radical ideologies Both North and South Korea are discussed with a comparison and contrast of the authoritarian democratic system in the South where a basically democratic parliament finds itself in conflict with a quasi dictatorial regime and an all powerful president The book is completely up to date The section on China takes into account the major developments of the post Mao period including the accession of Hua Kuo feng and the struggle against the Shanghai faction The discussion of Japanese politics covers the 1976 elections and the creation of the Shin Jiyu club in the developing thrust away from factional politics to an issue oriented electorate

China in Revolution Joseph W. Esherick, 2022-08-04 This book includes eleven seminal essays by one of America s leading authorities on modern Chinese history with an illuminating preface by Prof Elizabeth Perry of Harvard University it covers a range of topics from the impact of imperialism to the 1989 protests that led to the Tiananmen massacre Chapters include an explanation of how China expanded its borders far beyond the Han Chinese heartland and maintained those borders in the transition from empire to nation how Sun Yat sen unexpectedly emerged as the Father of the Country and how a series of unexpected and contingent events brought the empire down in 1911 Despite conventional representations of a static and unified China this book proves Chinese society to be diverse and constantly changing especially after the Communist revolution which was a transformative event in modern Chinese history Esherick denounces traditional imagery of cultural uniformity which derives from excessive attention to the unitary state through chapters that explore the impact of the 1937 45 War of Resistance against Japan the dramatic wartime transformation of Chinese society in both Communist and Nationalist Guomindang areas and the nature of the new Communist regime in Northwest China In his book Esherick examines both the Marxist Leninist theory behind Mao s notion of the restoration of capitalism against which he waged the Cultural Revolution of the 1960s and the political theater of the 1989 protest movement Throughout the book the contingency of history the need for careful empirical research and the important yet limited role of history is highlighted as the key to understanding the present or predicting the future of China

Rethinking Mao Nick Knight, 2007-04-16 Rethinking Mao offers an innovative perspective on the thought of Mao Zedong the major architect of the Chinese Revolution and leader of the People s Republic of China until his death in 1976 Utilizing a number of recently discovered documents written by Mao Nick Knight rethinks Mao by subjecting a number of controversial themes to fresh scrutiny This book provides a sophisticated analysis of Mao's views on the role of the peasants and working class in the Chinese revolution his theoretical attempt to make Marxism appropriate to Chinese conditions and his understanding of the Chinese road to socialism Knight includes a discussion of the theoretical difficulties in interpreting Mao's thought Rethinking Mao represents a challenge to many of the conventional accounts of Mao and his thoughts This book will appeal to scholars and students of Chinese history and politics as well as the history of Marxism in China

Ideology and Economic Reform Under Deng Xiaoping 1978-1993 Wei-Wei Zhang,2013-02-01 First published in 1996 Is ideology still relevant in post Mao China Deng Xiaoping's wide ranging economic reforms have led to declarations that ideology in China is merely a cynical sham or already dead but a closer look at China seems to suggest a constant conflict of different ideologies associated with the profound transformation of the Chinese society since 1978 This study is an attempt to explore the interactions between major ideological currents and economic reforms World Communism, 1964-1969, a Selected Bibliography United States. Marxism in Asia (RLE Marxism) Colin Mackerras,Nick Knight,2015-04-17 Marxism is a theory which originated in the context of nineteenth century industrialised Europe Despite its European origins Marxism has actually found greatest significance as a doctrine for change in the context of the underdeveloped peasant societies of Asia This paradox has only been resolved through adaptation of Marxism to suit the specific features of particular Asian societies There has consequently been a differentiation of Marxism along national lines In this book first published in 1985 the theoretical and practical implications for this national differentiation of a universal European theory are explored followed by a more detailed analysis of the manner in which Marxism has developed during different historical periods in particular Asian contexts

Mao Zedong & China's Foreign Policy Amrita Jash,2025-07-22 This book analyses China's foreign policy from 1949 to 1976 through a cognitive perceptual lens emphasise Mao Zedong's central role as the primary decision making authority Moving beyond realist frameworks it highlights how Mao's ideological worldview shaped by his theory of contradictions revolutionary zeal and use of historical analogies drove China's foreign policy particularly in relation to Vietnam His subjective interpretation of global affairs reinforced by Marxist Leninist principles and China's historical identity guided key strategic decisions The study underscores the importance of individual leaders beliefs perceptions and psychological traits in shaping foreign policy offering broader implications for understanding international relations through cognitive and psychological approaches

The Philosophical Influences of Mao Zedong Robert Elliott Allinson,2019-09-19 This philosophical Mao is a fresh portrait of the mind of the ruler who changed the face of China in the twentieth century The book traces the influences of both traditional Chinese and traditional pre Marxist Western philosophy on the early Mao and how these influences guided the development of his thought It reveals evidence of the creative dimensions of Mao's thinking and how he wove the yin yang pattern of change depicted in the Yijing the Chinese Book of Changes into the Marxist dialectic to bring ancient Chinese philosophy to mark changes in twentieth century thought Mao's lifetime philosophical journey includes his interpretations of and comments on both Chinese and Western philosophers His deep metaphysical reflections uncanny prognostications and pensive speculations from his early pre Marxist period to his later philosophical years prove to be as startling as they are thought provoking Economic Development and Social Change in the People's Republic of China W. C. Luster, 1969 China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume I John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today by many accounts China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means This three volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949 Volume I examines the definitions origins nature and scope of foreign aid and investment by other countries Using that background John F Copper then traces China's financial assistance to developing countries from the Mao period when China gave meaningful foreign aid despite its own economic struggles through the beginning of China's post 1978 economic boom and during subsequent decades of rapid economic growth Copper shows that China has a more salient history in giving foreign assistance than any other country in the world while China's objectives in giving foreign assistance have changed markedly over time China has always been driven by efforts to realize its foreign policy objectives and expand China's external influence
