Science And The Quest For Meaning By Mackay Donald MacCrimmon:

Echoes of Coinherence W. Ross Hastings, 2017-07-28 This book reimagines the universe and the scientific study of it through the lens of a triune Creator three persons of irreducible identity in a perichoretic or coinherent communion. It modestly proposes that Trinitarian theology and especially the coinherent natures of the Son in the incarnation provides the metaphysic or theory of everything that manifests itself in the subject matter of science. The presence of the image of the triune God in humanity and of traces of this God in the non-human creation are discussed highlighting ontological resonances between God and creation resonances between the being of God and his creation such as goodness immensity yet particularity intelligibility agency relationality and beauty. This Trinitarian reality suggests there should be a similarity also with respect to how we know in theology and science critical realism something reflected in the history of ideas in each. These resonances lead to the conclusion that the disciplines of theology and science are in fact coinherent not conflicted. This involves recognition of both the mutuality of these vocations and also importantly their particularity. Science its own distinct guild yet finds its place ensconced within an encyclopedic theology and subject to first order credal theology. American Book Publishing Record, 1983-04 National Union Catalog, 1982, 1983 The Open Mind and Other Essays Donald MacCrimmon MacKay, 1988 Choice, 1982 The Ends of Knowledge Rachael Scarborough King, Seth Rudy, 2023-06-01 Bringing together an exciting group of knowledge workers scholars and activists from across fields this book revisits a foundational question of the Enlightenment what is the last or furthest end of knowledge. It is a book about why we do what we do and how we might know when we are done. In the reorganization of knowledge that characterized the Enlightenment disciplines were conceived as having particular ends both in terms of purposes and end points. As we experience an ongoing shift to the knowledge economy of the Information Age this collection asks whether we still conceptualize knowledge in this way. Does an individual discipline have both an inherent purpose and a natural endpoint? What do an experiment on a fruit fly a reading of a poem and the writing of a line of code have in common? Focusing on areas as diverse as AI biology Black studies literary studies physics political activism and the concept of disciplinarity itself contributors uncover a life after disciplinarity for subjects that face immediate threats to the structure if not the substance of their contributions. These essays whether reflective historical eulogistic or polemical chart a vital and necessary course towards the reorganization of knowledge production as a whole. National Union Catalog, 1982 Includes entries for maps and atlases Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress, 1982 The British National Bibliography Cumulated Subject Catalogue, 1960 The Cumulative Book Index, 1982 A world list of books in the English language Subject Catalog Library of Congress, Science and the Quest for Meaning Donald MacCrimmon MacKay, 1982-01-01 科学の探求 (Japan), 1992 科学の探求, 1988 Arts & Humanities Citation Index, 1975 A multidisciplinary index covering the journal literature of the arts and humanities.
