Science Education Of American Girls A Historical Perspective:

The Science Education of American Girls Kimberley Tolley, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company The Science Education of American Girls Kimberley Tolley, 2003 Science Education of American Girls Kimberly Tolley, 2002-10-01 NULL The Science Education of American Girls Kim Tolley, 2014-04-08 The Science Education of American Girls provides a comparative analysis of the science education of adolescent boys and girls and analyzes the evolution of girls scientific interests from the antebellum era through the twentieth century Kim Tolley expands the understanding of the structural and cultural obstacles that emerged to transform what in the early nineteenth century was regarded as a girl s subject As the form and content of pre college science education developed Tolley argues direct competition between the sexes increased Subsequently the cultural construction of science as a male subject limited access and opportunity for girls Life on Display Karen A. Rader, Victoria E.M. Cain, 2014-10-03 Rich with archival detail and compelling characters Life on Display uses the history of biological exhibitions to analyze museums shifting roles in twentieth century American science and society Karen A Rader and Victoria E M Cain chronicle profound changes in these exhibitions and the institutions that housed them between 1910 and 1990 ultimately offering new perspectives on the history of museums science and science education Rader and Cain explain why science and natural history museums began to welcome new audiences between the 1900s and the 1920s and chronicle the turmoil that resulted from the introduction of new kinds of biological displays They describe how these displays of life changed dramatically once again in the 1930s and 1940s as museums negotiated changing often conflicting interests of scientists educators and visitors The authors then reveal how museum staffs facing intense public and scientific scrutiny experimented with wildly different definitions of life science and life science education from the 1950s through the 1980s The book concludes with a discussion of the influence that corporate sponsorship and blockbuster economics wielded over science and natural history museums in the century s last decades A vivid entertaining study of the ways science and natural history museums shaped and were shaped by understandings of science and public education in the twentieth century United States Life on Display will appeal to historians sociologists and ethnographers of American science and culture as well as museum practitioners and general readers Performing Math Andrew Fiss, 2020-11-13 How math communication has started with reading aloud How math communication has been practiced in prohibited ways How math anxiety has developed from classroom tech How math communication has been theatrical How math anxiety became about written testing Conclusion Math communication from STEM to STEAM Fugitive Science Britt Rusert, 2017-04-18 Fugitive Science excavates this story uncovering the dynamic scientific engagements and experiments of African American writers performers and other cultural producers who mobilized natural science and produced alternative knowledges in the quest for and name of freedom Literary and cultural critics have a particularly important role to play in uncovering the history of fugitive science since these engagements and experiments often happened not in the laboratory or the university but in print on stage in the garden church parlor and in other cultural spaces and productions Routinely excluded from the official spaces of scientific learning and training black cultural actors transformed the spaces of the everyday into laboratories of knowledge and experimentation

Introduction Sisters of Prometheus João Paulo André, 2024-07-04 This comprehensive book portrays the long overdue recognition of women's work in chemistry which only materialized with their late access to universities Besides describing their scientific triumphs it unveils the human side of the characters involved providing an intimate perspective often supported by extracts from their correspondence By delving into their personal stories struggles and successes this book brings these women to life Written with simplicity and rigor it aims to inspire and educate readers of all backgrounds about the extraordinary scientific achievements of these trailblazing women

Gender and Educational Achievement Andreas Hadjar, Sabine Krolak-Schwerdt, Karin Priem, Sabine Glock, 2018-02-02 Gender inequalities in education in terms of systematic variations in access to educational institutions in competencies school marks and educational certificates along the axis of gender have tremendously changed over the course of the 20th century Although this does not apply to all stages and areas of the educational career it is particularly obvious looking at upper secondary education Before the major boost of educational expansion in the 1960s women s participation in upper secondary general education and their chances to successfully finish this educational pathway have been lower than men s However towards the end of the 20th century women were outperforming men in many European countries and beyond The international contributions to this book attempt to shed light on the mechanisms behind gender inequalities and the changes made to reduce this inequality Topics explored by the contributors include gender in science education in the UK women s education in Luxembourg in the 19th and 20th century the gender gap debates and their rhetoric in the UK and Finland sociological perspectives on the gender equality discourse in Finland changing gender differences in West Germany in the 20th century the interplay of subjective well being and educational attainment in Switzerland and a psychological perspective on gender identities gender related perceptions students motivation intelligence personality and the interaction between student and teacher gender This book was originally published as a special issue of Educational Research

Transformations in Schooling K. Tolley, 2007-04-02 By the end of the Twentieth century formal schooling once the privilege of male elites had become accessible to women the working class and some ethnic minorities The essays in this volume explore the historical origins of this transformation analyzing struggles Australia Canada China Columbia India the United States and South Africa Outsiders Or Equals? Tanya Fitzgerald, 2009 Shortlisted for the Anne Bloomfield Prize 2010 Across the ninety years of its history the University of New Zealand 1871 1961 appointed four women professors to the academic staff From the outset while the woman professor was an insider to the Academy based on her qualifications and professional credentials on the basis of her gender she was a relative outsider to this deeply patriarchal institution

Accordingly academic women and in particular this first generation of women professors were officially invisible both to their male colleagues and to the institution This is not to suggest that the presence of a woman professor was unproblematic or that she sat easily on the margins of men s scholarly worlds This book traces the personal and professional histories of each woman professor and examines their contribution to the expansion of higher education for women On the basis of extensive archival research in New Zealand England and the United States the author uses Bourdieu s notions of habitus field and capital to analyse this intellectual community of women and the professionalisation of academic work The book rehabilitates the woman professor from the margins of historical scholarship and offers an insight into a forgotten aspect of the history of women s higher education the history of women and the professoriate

Educational Reform and Environmental

Concern Dorothy Kass,2017-08-09 A crucial component of the New Education reform movement nature study was introduced to elementary schools throughout the English speaking world in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Despite the undoubted enthusiasm with which educators regarded nature study and the ambitious aims envisioned for teaching it little scholarly attention has been paid to the subject and the legacy that nature study bequeathed to later curricular developments Educational Reform and Environmental Concern explores the theories that supported nature study as well as its definitions aims how it was introduced to curricula and its practice in the classroom by focusing upon educational reform in the Australian state of New South Wales This book explores nature study within the context of broader educational reform movements in a period characterised by a transnational exchange of ideas It is the only book on nature study available to date that focuses on the history of the movement outside the USA providing a much needed alternative perspective Kass considers nature study as it adapted and changed throughout the twentieth century addressing the extent to which the nature study idea represented responded to and even influenced concern about the natural environment Educational Reform and Environmental Concern will appeal to researchers academics and postgraduate students engaged in the study of educational and environmental history Researchers with an interest in a transnational or imperial approach to the history of education will also benefit from the wealth of comparative material that Kass presents

Chartered Schools

Nancy Beadie,Kim Tolley,2014-04-08 Academies were a prevalent form of higher schooling during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in the United States The authors in this volume look at the academy as the dominant institution of higher schooling in the United States highlighting the academy s role in the formation of middle class social networks and culture in the mid nineteenth century They also reveal the significance of the academy for ethnic religious and racial minorities who organized independent academies in the face of exclusion and discrimination by other private and public institutions
