 Mack, 2008-03-11 The fabrication of an integrated circuit requires a variety of physical and chemical processes to be performed on a semiconductor substrate In general these processes fall into three categories film deposition patterning and semiconductor doping Films of both conductors and insulators are used to connect and isolate transistors and their components By creating structures of these various components millions of transistors can be built and wired together to form the complex circuitry of modern microelectronic devices Fundamental to all of these processes is lithography ie the formation of three dimensional relief images on the substrate for subsequent transfer of the pattern to the substrate This book presents a complete theoretical and practical treatment of the topic of lithography for both students and researchers It comprises ten detailed chapters plus three appendices with problems provided at the end of each chapter Additional
