The Routledge Handbook of Paleopathology Anne L. Grauer, 2022-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Paleopathology provides readers with an overview of the study of ancient disease The volume begins by exploring current methods and techniques employed by paleopathologists as means to highlight the range of data that can be generated the types of questions that can be methodologically addressed our current limitations and goals for the future Building on these foundations the volume introduces a range of diseases and conditions that have been noted in the fossil archaeological and historical record offering readers a foundational understanding of pathological conditions along with their potential etiologies Importantly an evolutionary and highly contextualized assessment of diseases and conditions will be presented in order to demonstrate the need for adopting anthropological biological and clinical approaches when exploring the past and interpreting the modern world The volume concludes with the contextualization of paleopathological research Chapters highlight ways in which analyses of health and disease in skeletal and mummified remains reflect political and social constructs of the past and present Health and disease are tackled within evolutionary perspectives across deep time and generationally and the nuanced interplay between disease and behavior is explored The volume will be indispensable for archaeologists bioarchaeologists and historians and those in medical fields as it reflects current scholarship within paleopathology and the field's impact on our understanding of health and disease in the past the present and implications for our future

Butrint 6: Excavations on the Vrina Plain Simon Greenslade, 2019-08-04 Butrint 6 describes the excavations carried out on the Vrina Plain by the Butrint Foundation from 2002-2007 Lying just to the south of the ancient port city of Butrint these excavations have revealed a 1300 year long story of a changing community that began in the 1st century AD one which not only played its part in shaping the city of Butrint but also in how the city interacted and at times reacted to the changing political economic and cultural situations occurring across the Mediterranean World over this period Volume II discusses the finds from the Vrina Plain excavations This volume provides an insight into how the Vrina Plain community lived worked and ultimately died and includes chapters on the medieval and post medieval ceramics from the excavations analysis of the human and faunal remains environmental evidence Roman and Medieval coins a detailed study of the small finds as well as a discussion of the glass including a report on a number of glass cakes ingots of raw glass associated with glass working that were found during the excavations The volume also reports on five lead seals dating from the late 9th to the 10th century an uncommon find but one which when considered with the contemporary coins suggests that for 100 years the Vrina Plain was Butrint
