Science Support Physics:

Supporting Research and Data Analysis in NASA's Science Programs National Research Council, Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences, Commission on Physical Sciences, Mathematics, and Applications, Space Studies Board, Task Group on Research and Analysis Programs, 1998-10-16 Effective science clearly a mandate for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA involves asking significant questions about the physical and biological world and seeking definitive answers Its product is new knowledge that has value to the nation NASA s flight projects are highly visible and usually the most costly elements of this process but they are only a part of the science enterprise Flight projects are founded on research that defines clear scientific goals and questions designs missions to address those questions and develops the required technologies to accomplish the missions This research is funded primarily by NASA s research and analysis R A programs Data from flight projects are transformed into knowledge through analysis and synthesis research that is funded both by R A and by the data analysis DA portion of mission operations and data analysis MO DA programs R A and DA programs are the subject of this report and are grouped for convenience under the heading of research and data analysis R DA Guide to Programs National Science Foundation (U.S.), 1975

Nanostructure Science and Technology Richard W. Siegel, Evelyn Hu, 2013-06-29 Timely information on scientific and engineering developments occurring in laboratories around the world provides critical input to maintaining the economic and technological strength of the United States Moreover sharing this information quickly with other countries can greatly enhance the productivity of scientists and engineers These are some of the reasons why the National Science Foundation NSF has been involved in funding science and technology assessments comparing the United States and foreign countries since the early 1980s A substantial number of these studies have been conducted by the World Technology Evaluation Center WTEC managed by Loyola College through a cooperative agreement with NSF The National Science and Technology Council NSTC Committee on Technology s Interagency Working Group on NanoScience Engineering and Technology CT IWGN worked with WTEC to develop the scope of this Nanostructure Science and Technology report in an effort to develop a baseline of understanding for how to strategically make Federal nanoscale R D investments in the coming years The purpose of the NSTC WTEC activity is to assess R D efforts in other countries in specific areas of technology to compare these efforts and their results to U S research in the same areas and to identify opportunities for international collaboration in precompetitive research Many U S organizations support substantial data gathering and analysis efforts focusing on nations such as Japan But often the results of these studies are not widely available At the same time government and privately sponsored studies that are in the public domain tend to be input studies
