History of Science & Technology

The Vedas are the first and the most ancient scriptures of mankind. They are founded on rationalism and scientific truths. Except the discoveries of the technique of the use of the 'steam power' and 'electrical energy' the wheels of the astonishing progress of the man in the modern world, all the other Arts, Crafts and Sciences are the heritage of mankind, bequeathed to by the Vedas. The Vedic seers made it a rule to use these for the benefit of mankind and not for its destruction. They knew the use of aeroplanes.
