imagery as a means of engaging critically with poetry and prose by a diverse range of authors Kathryn Brown offers a groundbreaking account of Matisse's position in the literary cross currents of 20th century France and explores ways in which reading influenced the artist's work in a range of media This study argues that the livre d'artiste became the privileged means by which Matisse enfolded literature into his own idiom and demonstrated the centrality of his aesthetic to modernist debates about authorship and creativity By tracing the compositional and interpretive choices that Matisse made as a painter print maker and reader in the field of book production this study offers a new theoretical account of visual art's capacity to function as a form of literary criticism and extends debates about the gendering of 20th century bibliophilia Brown also demonstrates the importance of Matisse's self placement in relation to the French literary canon in the charged political climate of the Second World War and its aftermath Through a combination of archival resources art history and literary criticism this study offers a new interpretation of Matisse's artist's books and will be of interest to art historians literary scholars and researchers in book history and modernism The Ballets Russes and Beyond Davinia

Rogers, Mary Ann Rogers, 1985 This study addresses itself to the formal in the topological sense aspect of literature and literary words and concludes that if logos discursive language and mythos literary language are indeed contiguous complementary forms they are then essentially no different from those forms with which the painter or sculptor deals in the formation of his art object Choreographing Relations Petra

Sabisch, 2011 Choreographing Relations undertakes the experiment of a conceptual site development of contemporary choreography by means of practical philosophy Guided by the radically empiricist question What Can Choreography Do the book investigates the performances of Antonia Baehr Juan Dominguez Xavier Le Roy and Eszter Salamon and the philosophical works of Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari It establishes a relation between these practitioners as an encounter the move for a long time Yet there has been no comprehensive survey to date of the current state of affairs with regard to immunity from seizure of foreign cultural objects belonging to foreign States that are on loan for temporary exhibition This study fills that gap by examining whether there is any rule of customary international law stipulating that such cultural objects are immune from seizure or whether such a rule is emerging It also examines relevant State practice and the reasons behind it This volume thus provides greater clarity and legal certainty in the field of lending cultural State property and should be of use both to States and to cultural institutions The Joy of Life Margaret Werth,2002-11-05 Werth weaves together complex analyses of these paintings and others by Manet Gauguin Seurat Cezanne and less well known artists with a consideration of their critical reception literary parallels and the social and cultural milieu She moves from artistic concerns with tradition and avant gardism decoration and social art composition and figuration to contemporary debates over human origins and social organization BOOK JACKET
