Matters Of Moment Materials For Language Practice:

The Matter of Practice Curt Porter, Rachel Griffo, 2021-05-01 The Matter of Practice presents work by teacher scholars from around the world who are rethinking the relationship between matter and meaning By emphasizing spatial bodily and sensual dimensions of language and literacy practices this volume offers a portrait of language pedagogy and research that challenges traditional barriers between subjects and objects speech and noise and languages and things We envision the term new materialisms as an invitation to locate theorizing researching and teaching practices within the rhythms and textures of our material sensory and perceptual lives These chapters enact a hope that increased engagement with our physical surroundings and sensory experiences can extend the sphere of our social creative and intellectual labor and expand our understanding of what counts as meaningful action

The English Teacher's Handbook T. C. Baruah, 1991-06-01

Material Matters Katie Lloyd Thomas, 2006-12-05 Bringing together texts and work by theorists and practitioners who are making material central to their work this book reflects the diverse areas of inquiry which are expanding current material discourse Focusing on the cultural political economic technological and intellectual forces which shape material practices in architecture the contributors draw on disciplines ranging from philosophy history and pedagogy to art practice and digital and low tech fabrication By paying critical attention to material a wide range of issues emerge which are otherwise excluded from architectural discourse issues that shape and determine the buildings we make the processes we use and the ways we understand them Beautifully illustrated and designed this book is a unique collection which will be of great interest to architectural practitioners and theorists who want to consider the wider implications of material practice and to students who are developing their own approach to making buildings

Sites of Translation Laura Gonzales, 2018-09-24 Winner of the 2016 Sweetland Digital Rhetoric Collaborative Book Prize Sites of Translation illustrates the intricate rhetorical work that multilingual communicators engage in as they translate information for their communities Blending ethnographic and empirical methods from multiple disciplines Laura Gonzales provides methodological examples of how linguistic diversity can be studied in practice both in and outside the classroom and provides insights into the rhetorical labor that is often unacknowledged and made invisible in multilingual communication Sites of Translation is relevant to researchers and teachers of writing as well as technology designers interested in creating systems pedagogies and platforms that will be more accessible and useful to multilingual audiences Gonzales presents multilingual communication as intellectual labor that should be further valued in both academic and professional spaces and supported by multilingual technologies and pedagogies that center the expertise of linguistically diverse communicators

Issues in Materials Development Maryam Azarnoosh, Mitra Zeraatpishe, Akram Faravani, Hamid Reza Kargozari, 2016-03-22 Issues in Materials Development provides readers with theoretical foundations and practical aspects of designing materials for EFL ESL contexts It starts with discussing some basic and preliminary principles of materials design followed by scrutinizing critical issues in materials development in an objective and systematic way This ranges from considering learners needs adopting adapting selection and gradation of materials to the specific focus of the book on developing various types of materials for the four language skills pronunciation ESP vocabulary and computer assisted language learning materials Authenticity of materials to be designed and the inclusion of affective factors to develop motivating materials to engage language learners in addition to features of materials design at a universal level are other areas to read about This book finally tries to open new horizons and possible futuristic approaches to improve today s ELT materials

Practices of Ephemera in Early Modern England Callan Davies, Hannah Lilley, Catherine Richardson, 2023-02-03 This collection is the first to historicise the term ephemera and its meanings for early modern England and considers its relationship to time matter and place It asks how do we conceive of ephemera in a period before it was routinely employed from the eighteenth century to describe ostensibly disposable print In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries when objects and texts were rapidly proliferating the term began to acquire its modern association with transitoriness But contributors to this volume show how ephemera was also integrally related to wider social and cultural ecosystems Chapters explore those ecosystems and think about the papers and artefacts that shaped homes streets and cities or towns and their attendant preservation loss or transformation The studies here therefore look beyond static records to think about moments of process and transmutation and accordingly get closer to early modern experiences identities and practices

TESL Studies University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. curricula discourses Material Powers Tony Bennett, Patrick Joyce, 2013-05-13 This edited collection is a major contribution to the current development of a material turn in the social sciences and humanities. It does so by exploring new understandings of how power is made up and exercised by examining the role of material infrastructures in the organization of state power and the role of material cultural practices in the organization of colonial forms of governance. A diverse range of historical examples is drawn on in illustrating these concerns from the role of territorial engineering projects in seventeenth century France through the development of the postal system in nineteenth century Britain to the relations between the state and road building in contemporary Peru for example. The colonial contexts examined are similarly varied ranging from the role of photographic practices in the constitution of colonial power in India and the measurement of the bodies of the colonized in French colonial practices to the part played by the relations between museums and expeditions in the organization of Australian forms of colonial rule. These specific concerns are connected to a major critical re-examination of the limits of the earlier formulations of cultural materialism and the logic of the cultural turn. The collection brings together a group of key international scholars whose work has played a leading role in debates in and across the fields of history, visual culture studies, anthropology, geography, cultural studies, museum studies and literary studies. Returning to Scientific

Practice Xu Zhu, Wu Tong, 2019-05-17 This book is a result from a collective study on philosophy of scientific practice (PSP) which began around 2002 and is still ongoing. There is an apparently increasing interest in scientific practice influenced by the historicist philosophy of science and the sociology of scientific knowledge (SSK). Prof. WU Tong and his research group believe that it is necessary for PSP to turn from the theory dominant position to the practice dominance. PSP has also put forward the possibility of reinterpreting the epistemic status of local knowledge in Chinese tradition which provides the most significant motivation to participate in this study. In this book we have selected three main cases, namely Chinese medicine, Fengshui and Ethnobotany, to examine the effect of PSP. The aim of our collective study is not merely on the theoretical construction of PSP but also to consider the various applications of PSP especially for reinterpreting and demonstrating the variety of local knowledge from traditional China which seems to be a genuine contribution to the international enterprise of philosophy of science, particularly made by Chinese scholars. Strange matter Martin Bleisteiner, Jan-Peer Hartmann, Andrew James Johnston, 2025-09-02 Strange matter offers exciting new perspectives on the premodern fascination with materiality and the various ways in which the Middle Ages and subsequent periods experienced things in time. Drawing on a wide selection of examples that range from medieval texts and artefacts of both European and non-European origin to Macbeth's highly evocative meditation on bubbles, the essays compiled in this volume look beyond the confines of the Anglophone world. As they engage critically with the specific temporal otherness modernity has so often ascribed to medieval texts and artefacts, the contributors also enter into productive dialogue with recent trends in criticism such as thing studies and the growing field of object biographies in cultural studies and museology.
