Harrington,1991 Matthew wrote his Gospel from his perspective as a Jew It is with sensitivity to this perspective that Father Harrington undertakes this commentary on the Gospel of Matthew After an introduction he provides a literal translation of each section in Matthew's Gospel and explains the textual problems philological difficulties and other matters in the notes He then presents a literary analysis of each text content form use of sources structure examines the text against its Jewish background situates it in the context of Matthew's debate with other first century Jews and reflects on its significance for Christian theology and Christian Jewish relations Bibliographies direct the reader to other important modern studies

The Humanity of Jesus in Matthew Matt Jones,2021-05-04 Matthew's portrait of Jesus communicates the importance of the human element of Jesus's existence While Mark's Jesus may be the most human Matthew was most interested in the human story of Jesus among the Gospel authors This narrative critical examination of Matthew's portrait prioritizes the human element of Jesus's story He purposely balances the human and transcendent so that he can reinforce the reader's belief in Jesus and hope that Jesus's life can be imitated

The Son of Man as the Last Adam Yongbom Lee,2012-07-01 Most New Testament scholars today agree that Jesus used an enigmatic self designation bar nasha the Son of Man translated into Greek as ho huios tou anthropou in the Synoptic Gospels In contrast Paul the earliest New Testament writer nowhere mentions the phrase in his letters Does this indicate that the Gospel writers simply misunderstood the generic sense of the Aramaic idiom and used it as a christological title in connection with Daniel 7 as some scholars claim Paul demonstrates explicit and sophisticated Adam Christology in Romans 5 and 1 Corinthians 15 In contrast there is no real equivalent in the Synoptic Gospels Does this indicate that Adam Christology in Romans 5 and 1 Corinthians 15 was essentially a Pauline invention to which the Evangelists were oblivious In this study Yongbom Lee argues that in addition to the Old Testament contemporary Jewish exegetical traditions and his Damascus Christophany Paul uses the early church tradition in particular its implicit primitive Adam Jesus typology and the Son of Man saying traditions reflected in the Synoptic Gospels as a source of his Adam Christology
