Matthew Arnold Michael Thorpe, 1969      Twenty-First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2014-03-06 Victorian literature's fascination with the past its examination of social injustice and its struggle to deal with the dichotomy between scientific discoveries and religious faith continue to fascinate scholars and contemporary readers During the past hundred years traditional formalist and humanist criticism has been augmented by new critical approaches including feminism and gender studies psychological criticism cultural studies and others In Twenty First Century Perspectives on Victorian Literature twelve scholars offer new assessments of Victorian poetry novels and nonfiction Their essays examine several major authors and works and introduce discussions of many others that have received less scholarly attention in the past General reviews of the current status of Victorian literature in the academic world are followed by essays on such writers as Charles Dickens Alfred Tennyson Thomas Hardy and the Brontë sisters These are balanced by essays that focus on writing by women the development of the social problem novel and the continuity of Victorian writers with their Romantic forebears Most importantly the contributors to this volume approach Victorian literature from a decidedly contemporary scholarly angle and write for a wide audience of specialists and non specialists alike Their essays offer readers an idea of how critical commentary in recent years has influenced and in some cases changed radically our understanding of and approach to literary study in general and the Victorian period in particular Hence scholars teachers and students will find the volume a useful survey of contemporary commentary not just on Victorian literature but also on the period as a whole

Windows to the World: Literature in Christian Perspective Leland Ryken, 2000-04-10 This is a teacher's book written by an able teacher Most people are interested in literature because of a deep love for literature itself They want to understand the reasons for that love Ryken helps us do this but he also helps Christians understand and validate their love for literature Ryken has also provided a solid means for non-Christians to understand a Christian perspective on literature It Windows to the World comes closer to defining the goal and task of the teacher of literature than any work I have read Christianity and Literature

A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation Nancy Easterlin, 2012-05-31 Combining cognitive and evolutionary research with traditional humanist methods Nancy Easterlin demonstrates how a biocultural perspective in theory and criticism opens up new possibilities for literary interpretation Easterlin maintains that the practice of literary interpretation is still of central intellectual and social value Taking an open yet judicious approach she argues however that literary interpretation stands to gain dramatically from a fair minded and creative application of cognitive and evolutionary research This work does just that expounding a biocultural method that charts a middle course between overly reductive approaches to literature and traditionalists who see the sciences as a threat to the humanities Easterlin develops her biocultural method by comparing it to four major subfields within literary studies new historicism ecocriticism cognitive approaches and evolutionary approaches After a thorough review of each subfield she reconsiders them in light of relevant research in cognitive and evolutionary psychology and provides a textual analysis of literary works from the romantic era to the present including William Wordsworth's Simon Lee and the Lucy poems Mary Robinson's Old Barnard Samuel Taylor Coleridge's Dejection An Ode D H Lawrence's The Fox Jean Rhys's Wide Sargasso Sea and Raymond Carver's I Could See the Smallest Things A Biocultural Approach to Literary Theory and Interpretation offers a fresh and reasoned approach to literary studies that at once preserves the central importance that interpretation plays in the humanities and embraces the exciting developments of the cognitive sciences

Rowse, 2020-10-15 Shortlisted for the UK Literacy Association's Academic Book Award 2021 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Reading Perspectives and Practices focuses on the experiences of reading from a young age to maturity and the different ways reading is encountered in other words the processes involved as well as the outcomes The international group of experts within both teaching and academia focuses on reading in school how is it taught What is taught How is it assessed Controversial issues are explored the acquisition of phonics teaching the canon including or ignoring digital texts the advent of standards based tests The contributions also consider people's biographies of reading their memories of reading in school and their current views on literature Together this well edited volume provides a more complete view of reading than is currently on offer exploring all aspects of what it means to be literate and how we define being literate Anthologies of British Poetry, 2021-11-22 From Tottel's Miscellany 1557 to the last twentieth century Oxford Book of English Verse 1999 anthologies have been a prime institution for the preservation and mediation of poetry The importance of anthologies for creating and re-creating the canon of English poetry for introducing new programmes of poetry as a record of changing poetic fashions audience tastes and reading practices or as a profitable literary commodity has often been asserted Despite its impact however the poetry anthology in itself has attracted surprisingly little critical interest in Britain or elsewhere in the English speaking world This volume is the first publication to explore the largely unmapped field of poetry anthologies in Britain Essays written from a wide range of perspectives in literary and cultural studies and the point of view of poets editors publishers and cultural institutions aim to do justice to the typological functional and historical variety with which this form of publication has manifested itself from early modern print culture to the postmodern age of the world wide web

Translation, Authorship and the Victorian Professional Woman Lesa Scholl, 2016-02-17 In her study of Charlotte Brontë Harriet Martineau and George Eliot Lesa Scholl shows how three Victorian women writers broadened their capacity for literary professionalism by participating in translation and other conventionally derivative activities such as editing and reviewing early in their careers In the nineteenth century a move away from translating Greek and Latin Classical texts in favour of radical French and German philosophical works took place As England colonised the globe Continental philosophies penetrated English shores causing fissures of faith understanding and cultural stability The influence of these new texts in England was unprecedented and Eliot Brontë and Martineau were instrumental in both literally and figuratively translating these ideas for their English audience Each was transformed by access to foreign languages and cultures first through the written word and then by travel to foreign locales and the effects of this exposure manifest in their journalism travel writing and fiction Ultimately Scholl argues their study of foreign languages and their translation of foreign language texts nations and cultures enabled them to transgress the physical and ideological boundaries imposed by English middle class conventions Locating Values in Literature Corina-Mihaela Bealea, 2020-10-14 Locating Values in Literature Goodness

Beauty and Truth discusses the relevance of literature in the current educational process stating that regardless of the level of study literature provides students with the necessary skills to address real world situations Corina Mihaela Beleaua posits that a curriculum that includes literature has a multitude of benefits for the mental and ethical development of students defending the relevance of the three ancient values of goodness beauty and truth Beleaua argues that literature is a significant tool for endorsing these transcendentals and actualizing their positive potentials as humanistic and moral values acting as a symbolic manifestation of moral values that will impact readers outside of the scope of the literature itself

THROUGH HISTORY 4 - The Eighteenth Century Petru Golban, 2022-12-28 It appears that literary work possesses eternal temporal validity due to its autonomous aesthetic value whereas criticism provides points of view having temporary and transitory significance Despite such claims the vector of methodology in our series of books dealing with the history of English literature relies on Viktor Shklovsky T S Eliot Mikhail Bakhtin and especially Yuri Tynyanov whose main reasoning would be that literature is a system of dominant central and peripheral marginalized elements to us tradition centre versus innovation margin engaged in a battle for supremacy demarginalization and the right to form a new literary system and the development or historical advancement of literature is the substitution of systems Roman Jakobson and French structuralism on the whole later Linda Hutcheon with her system and constant and Bran Nicol with the dominant to say nothing about Itamar Even Zohar and his theory of polysystem to a certain extent Julia Kristeva and even Homi Bhabha as well as our humble contribution we would like to believe maintain Tynyanov's line of thinking and concepts alive which have developed and emerged nowadays more like a kind of neo formalism Focusing on literary practice applying critical theory and emerging from within our own teaching experience the books in the present series are theoretical and surveyistic like a monograph whereas their more practical and text oriented aspect should appeal as a student handbook for didactic purposes in which certain literary works belonging to various writers of different trends movements and periods are analysed and compared with regard to their source form thematic arrangements ideas motifs character representation strategies intertextual perspectives structural or narrative techniques and other aspects      Dictionary Catalog of the Research Libraries of the New York Public Library, 1911-1971 New York Public Library.
