Taylor, 2012-03-27 Mark C Taylor provocatively claims that contemporary art has lost its way With the art market now mirroring the art of finance many artists create works solely for the purpose of luring investors and inspiring trade among hedge funds and private equity firms When art is commodified corporatized and financialized it loses its critical edge and is transformed into a financial instrument calculated to maximize profitable returns Joseph Beuys Matthew Barney James Turrell and Andy Goldsworthy are artists who differ in style yet they all defy the trends that have diminished art's potential in recent decades They understand that art is a transformative practice drawing inspiration directly and indirectly from ancient and modern Eastern and Western forms of spirituality For Beuys anthroposophy alchemy and shamanism drive his multimedia presentations for Barney and Goldsworthy Celtic mythology informs their art and for Turrell Quakerism and Hopi myth and ritual shape his vision Eluding traditional genres and classifications these artists combine spiritually inspired styles and techniques with material reality creating works that resist merging space into cyberspace in a way that overwhelms local contexts with global networks Their art reminds us of life's irreducible materiality and humanity's inescapability of place For them art is more than just an object or process it is a vehicle transforming human awareness through actions echoing religious ritual By lingering over the extraordinary work of Beuys Barney Turrell and Goldsworthy Taylor not only creates a novel and personal encounter with their art but also opens a new understanding of overlooked spiritual dimensions in our era      The Prosthetic Impulse Marquard Smith, Joanne Morra, 2006 Where does the body end Exploring the material and metaphorical borderline between flesh and its accompanying technologies      A World History of Art Hugh Honour, John Fleming, 2005 Over two decades this art historical tour de force has consistently proved the classic introduction to humanity's artistic heritage From our paleolithic past to our digitised present every continent and culture is covered in an articulate and well balanced discussion

Eisenhauer, 2006 With two essays devoted to Wordsworth The Fate of Translation reframes the discussion of Hesperian aesthetics initiated in Robert Eisenhauer s Mythic Paradigms suggesting how the question of translation poses itself at the crossing of textual high and low roads on the one hand in the critical and scholarly debate concerning the relevance of Goethe's Der Wandrer in the English version by William Taylor to the primal primary scene of autobiography and on the other in the reprojection of supernatural agency numen in the context of the Literature of Power Confrontational deixis and a hermeneutic counterturn energize Wordsworth's self-assertive resensing of antiquity and modernity via satire pastoral and the sonnet The third essay ranging from Pindarizing texts by Cowley Goethe and Hölderlin to the films of Matthew Barney shifts the focus to mimetic enthusiasms among translators and replicators of the full fan experience John Barth's intriguing analogy between metafiction and fractal geometry serves as the catalyst for a reading of texts by Thomas Browne and Friedrich Schlegel a major painting by Philipp Otto Runge and The Arabian Nights as malignly received by Poe The arabesque and grotesque are seen as engaged in a problematic of passion at the utopian end of art a consensualist paradigm akin to the Dionysian liberation of the subject player fan in baseball one whose field of implication includes Nietzsche and contemporary novelists Eisenhower reads Padgett Powell's Edisto as a declamatory mini epic divergent in its mythos from the tradition of the American hieroglyphic Edisto's fictive reinvention of the South suggests a revisiting of the Literature of Power as privileged emancipative counterfacticity of other truth congruent with the fictive worlds of Cable Faulkner and Günther Grass

The Cosmetic Gaze Bernadette Wegenstein, 2012-03-02 How the act of looking at our own and others' bodies is informed by the techniques expectations and strategies of body modification If the gaze can be understood to mark the disjuncture between how we see ourselves and how we want to be seen by others the cosmetic gaze in Bernadette Wegenstein's groundbreaking formulation is one through which the act of looking at our bodies and those of others is already informed by the techniques expectations and strategies often surgical of bodily modification It is Wegenstein says also a moralizing gaze a way of looking at bodies as awaiting both physical and spiritual improvement In The Cosmetic Gaze Wegenstein charts this synthesis of outer and inner transformation Wegenstein shows how the cosmetic gaze underlies the rebirth celebrated in today's makeover culture and how it builds upon a body concept that has collapsed into its mediality In today's beauty discourse on reality TV and Web sites that collect bad plastic surgery we yearn to experience a bettered self that has been reborn from its own flesh and is now itself like a digitally remastered character in a classic Hollywood movie immortal Wegenstein traces the cosmetic gaze from eighteenth century ideas about physiognomy through television makeover shows and facial recognition software to cinema which like our other screens never ceases to show us our bodies as they could be drawing life from the very cosmetic gaze it transmits
