Take Two Barbara Tapa Lupack, 1994 Scholars of contemporary literature and film analyze the film adaptations of ten contemporary American novels Catch 22 One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest Slaughterhouse Five Being There The World According to Garp Sophie's Choice The Color Purple Ironweed Tough Guys Don't Dance and Billy Bathgate offering critical insight into the visions of both the novelist and the filmmaker as well as discussion of how those visions converge and diverge Paper edition unseen 18 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR A Companion to the Modern American Novel, 1900 - 1950 John T. Matthews, 2013-06-10 This cutting edge Companion is a comprehensive resource for the study of the modern American novel Published at a time when literary modernism is being thoroughly reassessed it reflects current investigations into the origins and character of the movement as a whole Brings together 28 original essays from leading scholars Allows readers to orient individual works and authors in their principal cultural and social contexts Contributes to efforts to recover minority voices such as those of African American novelists and popular subgenres such as detective fiction Directs students to major relevant scholarship for further inquiry Suggests the many ways that modern American and fiction carry new meanings in the twenty first century The Modern American Novel and the Movies Gerald Peary, Roger Shatzkin, 1980 Modern American Literature and Contemporary Iranian Cinema Morteza Yazdanjoo, 2022-12-29 As an endeavor to contribute to the burgeoning field of comparative literature this monograph addresses the dynamic yet understudied intertextual dialogism between modern American literature and contemporary Iranian Cinema pinpointing how the latter appropriates and recontextualizes instances of the former to construct and inculcate vestiges of national gender identity on the silver screen Drawing on Louis Montrose's catchphrase that Cultural Materialism foregrounds the textuality of history and the historicity of texts this book contends that literary texts are synchronic artifacts prone to myriad intertextual and extra textual readings and understandings each historically conditioned The recontextualization of Herzog Franny and Zooey The Glass Menagerie A Streetcar Named Desire and Death of a Salesman into contemporary Iran provides an intertextual avenue to delineate the textuality of history and the historicity of texts The History of American Literature on Film Thomas Leitch, 2019-06-13 From William Dickson's Rip Van Winkle films 1896 to Baz Luhrmann's big budget production of The Great Gatsby 2013 and beyond cinematic adaptations of American literature participate in a rich and fascinating history Unlike previous studies of American literature and film which emphasize particular authors like Edith Wharton and Nathaniel Hawthorne particular texts like Moby Dick particular literary periods like the American Renaissance or particular genres like the novel this volume considers the multiple functions of filmed American literature as a cinematic genre in its own right one that reflects the specific political and aesthetic priorities of different national and historical cinemas even as it plays a decisive role in defining American literature for a global audience The American Novel 1870-1940 Priscilla Wald, Michael A. Elliott, Jonathan Arac, 2014-02 Witnessing the end of a war that nearly terminated the nation the abolition of racial slavery and rise of legal segregation the rise of Modernism and Hollywood the closing of the frontier and two World Wars the literary historical period represented in this volume constitutes the crucible of American literary history Here 35 essays by top researchers in the field detail how considerations of race and citizenship immigration and assimilation gender and sexuality nationalism and empire all reverberate throughout novels written in the United States between 1870 and 1940 Contributors discuss the professionalization of literary production after the Civil War alongside legal and political debates over segregation and citizenship while chapters on journalism geography religion and immigration offer discussions on everything from the lasting role of literary realism in American fiction to the Spanish American War s effect on developing theories of aesthetics and popular culture The volume offers thorough coverage of the emergence of serial fiction children s fiction crime and detective fiction science fiction and even cinema and comics as new media and artistic revolutions like the Harlem Renaissance helped usher in the new international aesthetic movement of Modernism The final chapters in the volume explore the relationship of the novel to the emergence of American literature as a category in the academy in public criticism and journalism and in mass culture
