Borders and Borderlands in Contemporary Culture Aoileann Ní Éigeartaigh, David Getty, 2008-12-18 It is entirely appropriate that this book should be produced in Dundalk Located on the Northern rim of the Irish Pale this town has straddled a border for centuries Over the past thirty years it has come to be closely identified with violent Republicanism both by the Unionist community in Northern Ireland and by Constitutional Nationalists in the South Against such a hostile background academics attached to the Institute of Technology there have bravely confronted and interrogated these processes which have so blighted the history not only of Dundalk but of places and spaces throughout the world similarly located In a wide ranging series of articles perhaps the strongest message to emerge is that of border as limitation The notion of border as a liminal space where worlds converge new realities emerge and transcendence is possible rarely surfaces Instead the border as a physical manifestation of divisiveness is repeatedly explored In a passionate statement of solidarity with the Palestinians Lavalette describes the construction of the apartheid wall The wall is eight feet high and has a watchtower every three hundred metres Although there are no maps it is thought it could end up being close to one thousand kilometres in length by the time it is completed p 18 Yndigegn shows how spatial borders gradually become mental borders such that as visual borders disappear new invisible borders appear p 33 The article explores the dualism of borders simultaneously protecting those inside from external threats while also preventing those inside from reaching or engaging with the outside world Ni Eigearthaigh takes up the duality theme in the exploration of individualism as a process either of liberation or one of alienation Taking the title from an aphorism of Kafka s My Prison Cell My Fortress she explores a view of contemporary society as repressive and of its inhabitants as complicit in the repression Drawing on a wide span of literature and disciplines she teases through the paradox of contemporary society that the freedom gained from the liberation of the individual from communal obligations and repression has resulted in a loss of identity and an overwhelming sense of isolation and powerlessness She concludes that in the absence of a restrictive system of social control the individual is forced to take responsibility for his own actions It is to avoid this responsibility that many choose the security of the prison cell above the hardship of the outside world Her paper does not go on to look at the potential role of the State or of fundamentalist movements in playing on the fear and disconnectedness of the citizenry as an equally likely outcome to that of a stronger capability for personal responsibility One could argue for instance that the European Fascist movement and the Nationalist movement of the early to mid twentieth century were both based precisely on the dislocation at personal and social level resulting from the breakdown of pre industrial communitarian ties While there is no attempt in the book to elucidate any particular developmental relationship between the different contributors two broad themes may be detected a concern with borders as socio political and geographical constructs on the one hand and a concern with the formation of identity in the individual s relationship to the wider society on the other Some light is cast on the latter issue by de Gregorio Godeo who posits discourse as a core concept in identity formation This leads to the conclusion that individual identity in this case individualism is in fact socially constructed in a dialectical interplay between the discursive and the social identities included so that they are mutually shaped by each other p 93 Using critical discourse analysis he goes on to explore changing notions of masculinity as evidenced in the Health sections of men s magazines The Man Trap Michael A. A. Newman,2020-10-18 From the beginning of time there has been a struggle between men and women in their relationships and marriages The differences between men and women in particularly with regard to how they both act think and behave is obvious to anyone Unfortunately in our modern world circumstances have evolved to a point where most men and especially for men of any wealth power or fame are being unjustly vilified by women of all ages and are being blamed for every injustice that any woman has either actually endured or believes in her own mind that she has suffered In the justice system in the United States of America an accused individual is supposed to be considered innocent until proven guilty in a court of law That is no longer the case Men who are accused by any woman of some impropriety toward them are instantly assumed to be guilty and their reputations careers financial well being marriages and public status are being destroyed on a daily basis Any accusation against any man no matter how long ago their transgressions supposedly took place are grounds for dragging him through the media and press in order to destroy him The definitions of transgressions by men toward women have also been redefined by women in our society so that the mere act of speaking to any woman may now be declared a criminal act Over the last several years there has been the evolution of the Me Too movement by women which is allegedly intended to empower women to speak out against men who have done them wrong at any point in time that they can remember In recent times men of power and fame in our country have been accused of all sorts of evil and criminal actions against unsuspecting and innocent women of all ages This book is intended for the men of the world especially to those living in the United States to be made aware of what they are risking in their personal and professional lives when dealing with any woman Men need to be aware that relationships with women in our modern society are fraught with personal risk pitfalls and potential disaster including the loss of their freedom All men from the teenage years to those of middle and old age need to be aware of what can easily happen to them at the hands of the women that they let into their lives Men need to understand how women can easily manipulate them and unjustly accuse them of all sorts of things Men need to understand that any women whom they choose to become involved with are not the cute little innocent and naive flowers that they would like to believe that they are All women become involved with men to achieve their own agenda The fairy tale of living happily ever after with any woman is a man trap
