Modern Poetry in China Paul Manfredi, 2014-01 This book is in the Cambria Sinophone World Series general editor Victor H Mair Includes rare color images Chinese poetry along with many other art forms in China underwent a highly self conscious transformation in the first decades of the twentieth century Poetry perhaps more than any other art form did so under the heavy burden of a voluminous literary precedent a precedent which was in its very format of patterned words inscribed on scrolls a mark of the Chinese literati tradition Turning away from this tradition seemed necessary in the context of a political social and cultural reform movement which was designed to strengthen China in the face of increasing international pressure as well as domestic breakdown At the same time reforming a poetic tradition which had served as a principal touchstone of aesthetic accomplishment from its role in Confucian canon as object of contemplation for correct action to its function as a test of candidate's qualifications to govern through the civil service examination to its function as national past time in all manner of social gathering was a major challenge The result of such a predicament for poets

throughout the twentieth century has been the compulsion to discover a poetic style which resonates with the modern world and yet is rooted in Chinese cultural experience One way in which poets have been able to accomplish this is by relying on poetry's visuality be it in the graphic properties of the writing system itself the visual context of the presentation of the poetic texts or the acute image details in the poems The history of approximately one century of modern Chinese poetry production has been addressed broadly in scholarship but such broad strokes tend to miss important dynamics which fall outside of general narratives The importance of Chinese visual tradition to modern Chinese poets is a good case in point Accordingly this book addresses specific manifestations of the nexus connecting modernity and visuality in Chinese poetry It begins with a discussion of May Fourth poetics as exemplified in the groundbreaking work of Li Jinfa China's first Symbolist poet From there the book traces notable developments of visuality in the new form or free verse writing called Xinshi or New Poetry through mid century modernist experiments in Taiwan focusing on Ji Xian From there the book then explores the avant garde poetry of Luo Qing and Xia Yu before returning to mainland Chinese developments of Misty poets Yan Li and his contemporaries The work concludes with a wide variety of poet artists writing and exhibiting in the twenty first century Looking across this period of modern Chinese poetry's development one is able to observe how important the visual verbal dynamic has been to the innovation of poetic style and method From the twenty first century on such multi media expressions will likely continue to grow this is a function of a Chinese aesthetic tradition pairing word and image and will continue to manifest in new and more inventive ways This is an important book for Asian literary and art history studies and history collections

The Flowering of Modern Chinese Poetry, 2016-09-01 The May Fourth Movement launched an era of turmoil and transformation in China as Western ideas and education encroached on the Confucian traditions at the root of Chinese society The Republican period 1919-49 witnessed an outpouring of poetry in a form and style new to China written in the common people's language baihua plain speech The New Poetry broke with the centuries old tradition of classical poetry and its intricate forms and the rise of China's modern poetry reflects the rise of modern China The Flowering of Modern Chinese Poetry presents English translations of over 250 poems by fifty poets including a rich selection of poetry by women writers to provide a nuanced picture of the rapid development of vernacular verse in China from its emergence during the May Fourth Movement through the years of the Japanese invasion to the Communist victory in the Civil War in 1949 Michel Hockx introduces the historical and literary contexts of the various schools of vernacular poetry that developed throughout the period the pioneers formalists symbolists peasants and soldiers poets and Shanghai poets of the late 1940s Each selection of verse begins with a biographical sketch of the author's life and literary career including their roles in the Civil War and Japanese occupation Introducing English readers to master poets who are virtually unknown to Western audiences this anthology presents a collection of verse written in an age of struggle that attests to the courage sensitivity and imagination of the Chinese people
