NATO's First Enlargement Evanthis Hatzivassiliou, Dimitrios Triantaphyllou, 2017-10-02. This volume discusses the entry of Greece and Turkey to NATO in 1952 from the perspective of history and international relations. The chapters were originally collected in 2012 to mark the occasion of the sixtieth anniversary of the accession of the two states to NATO. The focus is not on the diplomatic political events that led to the accession, a subject which has already been extensively discussed in the available bibliography, but expands on a reassessment of this event for the two states as well as for the Balkans, covering aspects of the wider post-war period and providing perspectives for the policies of Turkey, Greece and NATO until the present day. This book was originally published as a special issue of Southeast European and Black Sea Studies.

Asymmetry in Grammar Anne-Marie Di Sciullo, 2003. Asymmetry in Grammar: Syntax and Semantics brings to fore the centrality of asymmetry in DP, VP and CP. A finer grained articulation of the DP is proposed and further functional projections for restrictive relatives as well as a refined analysis of case identification and presumptive pronouns. The papers on VP discuss further asymmetries among arguments and between arguments and adjuncts. Double object constructions, specificational copula sentences, secondary predicates and the scope properties of adjuncts are discussed in this perspective. The papers on CP propose a further articulation of the phrasal projection justifications for Remnant IP movement and an analysis of variation in clause structure asymmetries. The papers in semantics support the hypothesis that interpretation is a function of configurational asymmetry. The type-token information difference is further argued to correspond to the partition between the upper and lower level of the phrase. It is also proposed that Point of View Roles are not primitives of the pragmatic component but are head dependent categories. Configurationality is further argued to be required to distinguish contrastive from non-contrastive Topic. Compositionality is proposed to explain cross-linguistic variations in the selectional behavior of typologically different languages. The papers in syntax include contributions from Antonia Androutsopoulou and Manuel Espinosa de Echevarría. Dana Isaac, Edit Jakab, Cedric Boeckx, Julie Anne Legate, Maria Cristina Cuervo, Jacqueline Guéron, Niina Zhang, Thomas Ernst, Manuela Ambar, Jean-Yves Pollock, Anna Maria Di Sciullo, Ilena Paul and Stanca Somesfălean. The papers on semantics include contributions of Greg Carlson, Peggy Speas and Carol Tenny, Chungmin Lee and James Pustejovsky.

Word R. M. W. Dixon, Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald, 2003-01-02. In some languages words tend to be rather short but in others they may be dauntingly long. In this book a distinguished international group of scholars discuss the concept word and its applicability in a range of typologically diverse languages. An introductory chapter sets the parameters of variation for word. The nine chapters that follow then study the character of word in individual languages including Amazonian Australian Aboriginal Eskimo Native North American West African Balkan and Caucasian languages and Indo Pakistani Sign Language These languages exhibit a huge range of phonological and grammatical characteristics the close study of which enables the contributors to refine our understanding of what can constitute a word An epilogue explores the status and cross linguistic properties of word The book will be an invaluable resource for scholars of linguistic typology and of morphology and phonology Household and Family in the Balkans Karl Kaser, 2012 On the occasion of the 20th anniversary of the foundation of the Balkan Family History Project at the University of Graz in 1993 this volume unites the most outstanding essays by the project members that have appeared over the course of the previous two decades scattered in various journals and books These essays cover the interval from the 19th to the 21st century and reflect the current status of Balkan family research in historical anthropological and demographical perspectives Series Studies on South East Europe Vol 13 Modern Greek Society, 1992 Aegean Strategies P. Nick Kardulias, Mark T. Shutes, 1997 With a long detailed historical record a large corpus of archaeological data and more recently a number of sophisticated analyses of current and previous environmental conditions the Aegean region of the eastern Mediterranean offers a unique setting to explore the evolution of a landscape through time As expanding world markets continue to encroach upon even the most remote and delicate ecological zones anthropologists across all sub disciplines are beginning to find common theoretical and methodological ground within their own discipline and with other ecologically oriented sciences This volume examines the value of such collaborative research by bringing together archaeologists cultural anthropologists ethnoarchaeologists and ecologists to discuss environmentally related issues that affect the European fringe with an emphasis on the Aegean region The contributors bring to light the subtleties involved in understanding the interactive relationship between humans and their environment over time Students and scholars in a variety of disciplines including anthropology ecology classics and history will find this book to be a valuable and original investigation of a dynamic and complex region Illness, Disease and Death in the Poems of Constantine Cavafy Iakovos Menelaou, 2022-07-28 Constantine Cavafy's preoccupation with the fragility of the human condition and his attention to illness disease and death old age alcohol consumption and homosexuality continue to attract and challenge his readers In turning anew to these themes this book draws on the medical humanities to provide a new and integrated framework The medical humanities provide us with a new framework through which Cavafy's poetry can be investigated not only by scholars in literary studies and world literature but also by medical practitioners and researchers in the history of medicine

Bibliography of Sources on the Region of Former Yugoslavia Volume III Rusko Matulić, 1998 Women's Influence on Classical Civilization Fiona McHardy, Eireann Marshall, 2004 This book explores how women in antiquity influenced cultural spheres normally thought of as male Kassandra and the Censors Karen Van Dyck, 2018-05-31 In this pioneering study of contemporary Greek poetry Karen Van Dyck investigates modernist and postmodernist poetics at the edge of Europe She traces the influential role of Greek women writers back to the sexual politics of censorship under the dictatorship 1967-1974. Reading the effects of censorship in cartoons, the dictator's speeches, the poetry of the Nobel Laureate George Seferis and the younger generation of poets, she shows how women poets use strategies which, although initiated in response to the regime's press law, prove useful in articulating a feminist critique. In poetry collections by Rhea Galanaki, Jenny Mastoraki and Maria Laina, among others, she analyzes how the censor's tactics for stabilizing signification are redeployed to disrupt fixed meanings and gender roles. As much a literary analysis of culture as a cultural analysis of literature, her book explores how censorship, consumerism and feminism influence contemporary Greek women's poetry, as well as how the resistance to clarity in this poetry trains readers to rethink these cultural practices. Only with greater attention to the cultural and formal specificity of writing, Van Dyck argues, is it possible to theorize the lessons of censorship and women's writing. Impious Dogs, Haughty Foxes and Exquisite Fish Tristan Schmidt, Johannes Pahlitzsch, 2019-06-04. This volume is dedicated to the topic of the human evaluation and interpretation of animals in ancient and medieval cultures. From a transcultural perspective, contributions from Assyriology, Byzantine Studies, Classical Archaeology, Egyptology, German Medieval Studies and Jewish History look into the processes and mechanisms behind the transfer by people of certain values to animals and the functions these animal signs have within written, pictorial and performative forms of expression.
