Modern Architecture Romanticism And Reintegration:

Modern Architecture Henry Russell Hitchcock, 1929 Originally published in 1929 this book demonstrates the architecture of the 1920s as the product of over a century of architectural development despite the visual evidence that seemed to indicate that it had made a radical break with the past This book crystallized the history and theories behind the international style for an American audience The author was only 27 at the time and this was his first book yet it would substantially reshape the way subsequent generations would view modern architecture and its history This is also the book that established Henry Russell Hitchcock as a pre eminent American historian of modern architecture Modern Architecture Vincent Scully (Jr.), 1968 Modern Architecture, 1929 Philip Johnson and the Museum of Modern Art Philip Johnson, 1998 This volume focuses on the architect Philip Johnson's long association with The Museum of Modern Art with essays examining his roles as patron as curator and as the institution's unofficial architect from the late 1940s to the early 1970s Summerson and Hitchcock Frank E. Salmon, 2006 Publisher description The Historiography of Modern Architecture Panayotis Tournikiotis, 2001-02-27 The history of modern architecture as constructed by historians and key texts Writing according to Panayotis Tournikiotis has always exerted a powerful influence on architecture Indeed the study of modern architecture cannot be separated from a fascination with the texts that have tried to explain the idea of a new architecture in a new society During the last forty years the question of the relationship of architecture to its history of buildings to books has been one of the most important themes in debates about the course of modern architecture Tournikiotis argues that the history of modern architecture tends to be written from the present projecting back onto the past our current concerns so that the beginning of the story really functions as a representation of its end In this book the buildings are the quotations while the texts are the structure Tournikiotis focuses on a group of books by major historians of the twentieth century Nikolaus Pevsner Emil Kaufmann Sigfried Giedion Bruno Zevi Leonardo Benevolo Henry Russell Hitchcock Reyner Banham Peter Collins and Manfredo Tafuri In examining these writers' thoughts he draws on concepts from critical theory relating architecture to broader historical models Modern Architecture Henry-Russell Hitchcock, 1929 Arquitectura y virtualidad Josep Muntanola Thonberg, 2010-12-15 Es bien sabido que la arquitectura es un tipo muy específico de arte de ciencia o de acto ético porque los edificios las ciudades y los territorios son artefactos físicos y sociales no representaciones virtuales como sucede en el cine en la literatura etc Mijail Bajtin era consciente de esta especificidad cuando afirmaba que la arquitectura toda la arquitectura solamente tiene sujetos estéticos potenciales no héroes estéticos reales 1 Sin embargo estas cualidades específicas de la arquitectura no significan que el proyecto arquitectónico virtual es decir un proyecto aun no construido aun no usado sea real See more at <http://ebooks.upc.edu/product/arquitectura-y-virtualidad-architecture-virtuality> sthash qKiK1LUK dpuf Modern Architecture of Quito Christian Parreno, 2024-08-22 Situated at the crossroads of the foreign and the vernacular Quito the capital of Ecuador with its world famous yet understudied built environment stands as a testament to architectural in betweenness This book interweaves history and theory to explore how near and far influences have shaped its unique character Case studies present diverse and unexpected episodes in the architectural history of this city spanning the intricacies of its topography the design of modernist houses and the appropriation of the motel typology Together they show how fluxes of different origins have created an architecture marked by diversity and interrelation To theoretically frame these investigations this anthology readdresses the notions of the global and the local examining their tension and unavoidable coexistence while introducing the in between as a phenomenon with many variations and embodiments increasingly referenced in architectural thinking This book not only furthers the evolution of these concepts but also demonstrates their value as tools for analyzing the architectures of Latin America and the Global South more broadly With contributions from both international experts and a new generation of Ecuadorian scholars Modern Architecture of Quito is an indispensable resource for students and researchers investigating the development of architectural modernism in Latin America

American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame Roxanne Kuter Williamson,2014-03-07 Why does one talented individual win lasting recognition in a particular field while another equally talented person does not While there are many possible reasons one obvious answer is that something more than talent is requisite to produce fame The something more in the field of architecture asserts Roxanne Williamson is the association with a famous architect at the moment he or she first receives major publicity or designs the building for which he or she will eventually be celebrated In this study of more than six hundred American architects who have achieved a place in architectural histories Williamson finds that only a small minority do not fit the right person right time pattern She traces the apprenticeship connection in case studies of Louis Sullivan Frank Lloyd Wright Henry Hobson Richardson the firm of McKim Mead White Latrobe and his descendants the Bulfinch and Renwick Lines the European immigrant masters and Louis Kahn Although she acknowledges and discusses the importance of family connections the right schools self promotion scholarships design competition awards and promotion by important journals Williamson maintains that the apprenticeship connection is the single most important predictor of architectural fame She offers the intriguing hypothesis that what is transferred in the relationship is not a particular style or approach but rather the courage and self confidence to be true to one s own vision Perhaps she says this is the case in all the arts American Architects and the Mechanics of Fame is sure to provoke thought and comment in architecture and other creative fields
