and re creation of female identity in Daughters Postcolonial Identities and West African Literature Anwesha Das, 2022-11-29 Anchored in postcolonial theory this book highlights the concept of postcolonial soliloquies as an original idea in analyzing West African literature It uses the political theory of dialogue to broaden the reader's understanding of history culture identity and indigenous memories The book shows how the novels of T Obinkaram Echewa plunge into the known territory of colonial history with new boundaries

Black World/Negro Digest, 1972-06 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement

New Postcolonial Dialectics Sarbani Sen Vengadasalam, 2018-11-30 This book closes a gap in postcolonial theory through its scrutiny of how four Indian and Nigerian English plays that are situated in national traditions reframed their own cultural terrain in international terms It maps the trajectory that Indian and Nigerian dramatists such as Rabindranath Tagore Wole Soyinka and Badal Sircar adopted as they moved from the specific to the bicultural to the global The intercultural dialectic validated here provides a protean comparative scaffolding that evolves out of and reflects the interculturality of the literatures it is critiquing allowing the book to be an entry point practical guide and reference for those interested in studying and comparing literatures from Asia and Africa written or translated into English Its approach and dialectic can also be expanded for use in comparative literary studies on all intercultural encounters

Claude McKay, Rebel Sojourner in the Harlem Renaissance Wayne F. Cooper, 1996-02-01 Cooper paints a meticulous and absorbing portrait of McKay's restless artistic intellectual and political odyssey The definitive biography on McKay Choice Although recognized today as one of the genuine pioneers of black literature in this century the author of If We Must Die Home to Harlem Banana Bottom and A Long Way from Home among other works Claude McKay 1890-1948 died penniless and almost forgotten in a Chicago hospital In this masterly study Wayne Cooper presents a fascinating detailed account of McKay's complex chaotic and frequently contradictory life In his poetry and fiction as well as in his political and social commentaries McKay searched for a solid foundation for a valid black identity among the working class cultures of the West Indies and the United States He was an undeniably important predecessor to such younger writers of the Harlem Renaissance as Langston Hughes and Countee Cullen and also to influential West Indian and African writers such as C L R James and Aim C saire Knowledge of his life adds important dimensions to our understanding of American radicalism the expatriates of the 1920s and American literature Mr Cooper's most original contribution is his careful and perceptive analysis of McKay's nonfiction writing especially his social and political commentary which often contained prophetic statements on a range of important social political and historical issues New York Times Book Review

Library,1978 Dictionary Catalog of the Jesse E. Moorland Collection of Negro Life and History, Howard University Library, Washington, D.C. Moorland Foundation,1970 Black Metafiction Madelyn Jablon,1997 Examines the tradition of self consciousness in African American literature The book points to the shortcomings of theories of metafiction founded on studies of Anglo American literature It analyzes and evaluates these theories providing a model for the evaluation of other Eurocentric theories Beat Generation Writers A. Robert Lee,1996-01-20 Focuses on some of the most popular writers of the last forty years One of the few books to explore the role of women and gender in the Beat movement Afro-American Life, History and Culture ,1985 Research Guide to American Literature John Cusatis,2010 Covers American literature during the postwar period Liberation Memories Keith Gilyard,2003-04-01 This first book length study of John Oliver Killens aims to help secure his place in literary history and explores his creation of an inspiring Black vernacular art one that ennobles people of African descent and urges their political liberation No serious history of the development of the African American novel from the 1950s onward can be written without reference to John Oliver Killens A two time nominee for the Pulitzer Prize and founding chairman of the legendary Harlem Writers Guild Killens was regarded by many as a spiritual father who inspired a generation of African American novelists with his politically charged works And yet today he rarely receives proper critical attention Seeking to strengthen our understanding of this important literary figure Keith Gilyard departs from standard critical frameworks to reveal Killens s novels as artful renderings of rich African American rhetorical forms and verbal traditions Gilyard finds that many critics adhering to ideals of art for art s sake or narrative conciseness are ill equipped to appreciate the many ways in which Killens s fiction succeeds Rejecting the pure art position Killens sought to articulate Black heroism particularly within a family or community context offering a set of values he deemed liberatory He focused on rendering noble and polemical characters and his work represents a distinguished fusion of sociopolitical persuasion rhetoric and literary artifact poetics To help illuminate such novels as Youngblood 1954 And Then We Heard the Thunder 1962 and The Cotillion 1971 Gilyard examines Killens s work as an essayist and cultural organizer highlighting his activism His life and literary production can be partly characterized Gilyard suggests by the African American jeremiad a major rhetorical form in the Black intellectual tradition expressing faith that America s destiny is to become an authentic pluralistic democracy African American Literature Beyond Race Gene Andrew Jarrett,2006-04 An anthology of 16 stories and excerpts from novels by African American writers includes critical essays on each author by a variety of scholars
