Old Patchwork Quilts And The Women Who Made Them:

Old Patchwork Quilts and the Women who Made Them Ruth Ebright Finley, 1929 My purpose in writing this book has been twofold First to make a record with the hope that it might prove definitive of one of the most picturesque of all American folk arts secondly to interpret that art in relation to the life of the times during which it most widely flourished This purpose was itself prompted by the lately renewed interest in patchwork both old and new an interest enthusiastically active at the moment and rapidly growing Foreword Old Patchwork Quilts and the Women who Made Them Ruth Ebright

Finley, 1957 Old Patchwork Quilts and the Women who Made Them Ruth E. was nearly nonexistent With goods and money scarce almost everything was reused Strasser paints a vivid picture of an America where scavenger pigs roamed the streets swill children collected kitchen garbage and itinerant peddlers traded manufactured goods for rags and bones Over the last hundred years however Americans have become hooked on convenience disposability fashion and constant technological change the rise of mass consumption has led to waste on a previously unimaginable scale Lively and colorful Waste and Want recaptures a hidden part of our social history vividly illustrating that what counts as trash depends on who's counting and that what we throw away defines us as much as what we keep Waste and Want shows to startling effect how radically both our notions of trash and our means of coping with it have altered over the years The Washington Post A vibrant social history of American attitudes toward superfluous or unusable material items The book spills over with fascinating facts Publishers Weekly

Crafting Dissent Hinda Mandell, 2019-10-25 Pussyhats typically crafted with yarn quite literally created a sea of pink the day after Donald J Trump became the 45th president of the United States in January 2017 as the inaugural Women's March unfolded throughout the U S and sister cities globally But there was nothing new about women crafting as a means of dissent Crafting Dissent Handicraft as Protest from the American Revolution to the Pussyhats is the first book that demonstrates how craft typically involving the manipulation of yarn thread and fabric has also been used as a subversive tool throughout history and up to the present day to push back against government policy and social norms that crafters perceive to be harmful to them their bodies their families their ideals relating to equality and human rights and their aspirations At the heart of the book is an exploration for how craft is used by makers to engage with the rhetoric and policy shaping their country's public sphere The book is divided into three sections Crafting Histories Politics of Craft and Crafting Cultural Conversations Three features make this a unique contribution to the field of craft activism and history The inclusion of diverse contributors from a global perspective including from England Ireland India New Zealand Australia Essay formats including photo essays personal essays and scholarly investigations The variety of professional backgrounds among the book's contributors including academics museum curators art therapists small business owners provocateurs artists and makers This book explains that while handicraft and craft motivated activism may appear to be all the rage and of the moment a long thread reveals its roots as far back as the founding of American Democracy and at key turning points throughout the history of nations throughout the world

Oatmeal and the Catechism Margaret Bennett, 1998 Oatmeal and the Catechism is the story of emigrants from the Outer Hebrides to Quebec in the latter half of the nineteenth century Most were crofting families from Lewis who had suffered the severe effects of the potato famine of 1846-51 As a solution to the increasing pressure on landlords and government relief bodies they were offered free passage to Lower Canada and given land grants in the Eastern Townships To this day place names such as Stornoway Tolsta Ness and Dell in Canada testify to the strong links these communities kept with their homeland In this updated edition of her book Margaret Bennett traces the historical background of emigration and settlement in this part of Canada By means of recorded interviews with descendants of the original settlers she builds up a detailed picture not only of the social and religious aspects of their lives but also of how they set about building a new community in the wilderness For more than a century people in the Outer Hebrides have been asking what happened to those who left for the New World Oatmeal and the Catechism answers that question BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Mary Schaffer, American Quilt Maker Gwen Marston, 2004-03-25 The story of the woman who helped create the modern American quilting revival Kentucky Quilts and Their Makers Mary Washington Clarke, 2021-11-21 Kentucky's contribution to the perennially popular American craft of quiltmaking is a rich and varied one Mary Clarke examines here the state of the craft in Kentucky and finds it as lively today as it was 150 years ago Like a fingerprint every Kentucky quilt differs from all others in some respects whether it is an original creation or a variation of one of the traditional patterns long popular in the United States And many Kentucky quilts reveal much about the individual maker her disposition taste and lifestyle the familiar objects that bring joy to her daily life and her response to events beyond the confines of family and home Taken as a whole Kentucky quilts and quilt names reflect the history of the Commonwealth at every turn showing the intermingling of old and new in the grassroots continuity of an ancient craft that responds to fads and fashions by absorbing and refining them Massachusetts Quilts Lynne Z. mobility in the social sciences arts and humanities can tell us about movements and journeys prompted by religious more broadly spiritual and secular sacred practices and priorities Problematising the fixity of sacred places and times as territorially and temporally bounded entities that exist in opposition to profane everyday life this collection looks at the intersection between the embodied emotional spiritual experience of places travel belief practices and communities It is this geographically informed perspective on the interleaving of religious spiritual secular notions of the sacred with the material and more than representational attributes of associated mobilities and related practices which constitutes this volume s original contribution to the field
