Old People As People Social And Cultural Influences On Aging And Old Age:

Old People as People Jennie Keith, 1982 Global Aging and Challenges to Families Vern Bengtson, 2018-01-16 The recent explosion in population ageing across the globe represents one of the most remarkable demographic changes in human history Population ageing will profoundly affect families Who will care for the growing numbers of tomorrows very old members of societies Will it be state governments The aged themselves Their families The purpose of this book is to examine consequences of global aging for families and intergenerational support and for nations as they plan for the future The Elderly as Modern Pioneers Philip Silverman, 1987 Overall one of the most competent and well presented treatments of the subject now available Jay Sokolovsky University of Maryland a valuable contribution to the field of gerontology The volume combines interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives written in a well organized framework without sacrificing depth and comprehensive summary of gerontological research Clinical Gerontologist A well written and documented volume for persons interested in the anthropological viewpoint on aging Choice the use of cross cultural comparisons provides a broadened perspective to understanding the issues of aging Current Literature on Aging It is comprehensive well written mercifully jargon free critical and controversial and undogmatic Aging and Society This volume focuses on the nature and problems of old age providing a comprehensive summary of current gerontological research from interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspectives Managing Change in Old Age Haim Hazan, 1992-09-17 This book is an ethnographic study of an old age home in Israel that sheds light on the existential experience of elderly retirees Hazan looks carefully at the universal concerns of old age specifically examining the nature of everyday life in the institutional setting He shows the workings of the micropolitics of control in an old age home and the tension between controlling dwindling resources and sustaining life long meaning for residents He also effectively brings out distinctive features of the Israeli situation its cultural and bureaucratic codes Hazan s study of the life cycle based in the anthropology of process is a sensitive portrayal of the dynamics of institutionalized elderly in a complex society Global Aging and Its Challenge to Families Vern L. Bengtson, Ariela Lowenstein, The recent explosion in population aging across the globe represents one of the most remarkable demographic changes in human history There is much concern about population aging and its consequences for nations for governments and for individuals It has often been noted that population aging will inevitably affect the economic stability of most countries and the policies of most state governments What is less obvious but equally important is that population aging will profoundly affect families Who will care for the growing numbers of tomorrow s very old members of societies Will it be state governments The aged themselves Their families The purpose of this volume is to examine consequences of global aging for families and intergenerational support and for nations as they plan for the future Four remarkable social changes during the past fifty years are highlighted 1 Extension of the life course A generation has been added to the average span of life over the past century 2 Changes in the age structures of nations Most nations today have many more elders and many fewer children than fifty years ago 3 Changes in family structures and relationships Some of these differences are the result of trends in family structure notably higher divorce rates and the higher incidence of childbearing to single parents 4 Changes in governmental responsibilities In the last decade governmental responsibility appears to have slowed or reversed as states reduce welfare expenditures How will families respond to twenty first century problems associated with population aging Will families indeed be important in the twenty first century or will kinship and the obligations across generations become increasingly irrelevant replaced by personal communities This volume goes a considerable distance to answer these critical issues for the twenty first century Vern L Bengtson is an AARP University Chair in Gerontology and Professor of Sociology University of Southern California Ariela Lowenstein is associate professor and head Department of Aging Studies University of Haifa Israel

Aging in Today's World Renée Rose Shield, Stanley M. Aronson, 2005-05-01 Never before in human existence have the aged been so numerous and for the most part healthy In this important new book two professionals an anthropologist and a physician wrestle with the complex subject of aging Is it inevitable Is it a burden or gift What is successful aging Why are some people better at aging than others Where is aging located How does it vary among individuals within and between groups cultures societies and indeed over the centuries Reflecting on these and other questions the authors comment on the impact age has in their lives and work Two unique viewpoints are presented While medicine approaches aging with special attention given to the body its organs and its functions over time anthropology focuses on how the aged live within their cultural settings As this volume makes clear the two disciplines have a great deal to teach each other and in a spirited exchange the authors show how professional barriers can be surmounted In a novel approach each author explores a different aspect of aging in alternating chapters These chapters are in turn followed by a commentary by the other Further the authors interrupt each other within the chapters to raise questions contradict ask for clarification and explore related ideas with these interjections emphasizing the dynamic nature of their ideas about age Finally a third voice that of a random old man periodically inserts itself into the text to remind the authors of their necessarily limited understanding of the subject

Aging, Globalization and Inequality Jan Baars, Dale Dannefer, Chris Phillipson, Alan Walker, 2016-11-03 This book is a major reassessment of work in the field of critical gerontology providing a comprehensive survey of issues by a team of contributors drawn from Europe and North America The book focuses on the variety of ways in which age and ageing are socially constructed and the extent to which growing old is being transformed through processes associated with globalisation The collection offers a range of alternative views and visions about the nature of social ageing making a major contribution to theory building within the discipline of gerontology The different sections of the book give an overview of the key issues and concerns underlying the development of critical gerontology These include first the impact of globalisation and of multinational organizations and agencies on the lives of older people second the factors contributing to the social construction of later life and third issues associated with diversity and inequality in old age arising through the effects of cumulative advantage and disadvantage over the life course These different themes are analysed using a variety of theoretical perspectives drawn from sociology social policy political science and social anthropology

Aging Globalization and Inequality brings together key contributors to critical perspectives on aging and is unique in the range of themes and concerns covered in a single volume The study moves forward an important area of debate in studies of aging and thus provides the basis for a new type of critical gerontology relevant to the twenty first century

Last Rights Barbara Logue, 1993-01-01 Several recent trends demographic social and economic are increasing the incidence and public support of deliberate death among the old and sick The number of elderly people is at an all time high

Medical technology can prolong the lives of these men and women but it cannot keep them independent free of pain or competent to manage their own affairs Never before have so many been so sick for so long Changes in the size and structure of the American family make long term home care almost impossible while exorbitant health costs and scarce resources limit the provision of highquality care by paid workers Researcher Barbara J Logue refers to any deliberate behavior that causes death as death control She points out that death control like birth control involves very serious and deeply personal decisions choices that ought to be made on the basis of reliable information with care and compassion without coercion She goes on to assert that like birth control death control should be performed legally and with the help of the medical community Without access to assisted deaths many frail old people are left to endure wretched deaths Some die slowly of neglect or malnutrition in nursing homes Others take their own lives sometimes by violent means while they can still act independently because they are afraid that no one will help them if they wait until they are very sick Some die alone fearful of implicating friends or relatives in their back alley euthanasia While some die too soon because they are poor uneducated or hard to manage others are overtreated and their deaths delayed because doctors and hospitals want to increase their income or fearprosecution if they help a patient die Barbara Logue describes these and many other hazards inherent in our present long term care system noting that all too often the system causes suffering instead of alleviating it After assessing the alternatives she urges that we must make compassionate death control as available as birth control We must regulate and monitor it like any other medical procedure taking steps to minimize the risks while maximizing the benefits National Institute on Aging ... Report to Council on Program National Institute on Aging,1983 Nursing for Wellness in Older Adults Carol A. Miller,2009 Now in its Fifth Edition this text provides a comprehensive and wellness oriented approach to the theory and practice of gerontologic nursing Organized around the author s unique functional consequences theory of gerontologic nursing the book explores normal age related changes and risk factors that often interfere with optimal health and functioning to effectively identify and teach health promotion interventions The author provides research based background information and a variety of practical assessment and intervention strategies for use in every clinical setting Highlights of this edition include expanded coverage of evidence based practice more first person stories new chapters and clinical tools such as assessment tools recommended by the Hartford Institute of Geriatric Nursing Uneasy Endings Renée Rose Shield,2018-08-06 If we continue we grow old and this is how it could be for us writes Ren e Rose Shield in her candid and sympathetic account of life in one American nursing home Drawing on anthropological methods and theory to illuminate institutional life she probes the sources of the profound sense of unease she found at the place she calls The Franklin Nursing Home For fourteen months Shield participated in life at a nursing home in the northeastern United States She got to know many of the people associated with the home doctors nurses custodians kitchen workers administrators social workers visiting relatives and above all the residents who emerge in this book as the individuals they are Sections in which the residents speak poignantly in their own voices are woven throughout her richly detailed observations of everyday routines and events We see them using guile and humor to get by struggling to approach the end of their lives with a measure of autonomy and dignity and we meet an often conscientious and caring staff constrained by conflicting professional perspectives and by the bureaucratic structure in which they work There are no villains here Rather Shield explains how conditions in the nursing home create a difficult and uncomfortable liminality the transition from an accustomed role to a new one for the residents In characterizing nursing home existence she goes beyond Erving Goffman s classic definition of the total institution to show how residents pass from adulthood to death without the comfort of ritual or community support common in rites of passage In addition to the isolation created by this solitary passage she finds restrictions on reciprocity the old people are always recipients whose need and obligation to repay are seen as unnecessary and difficult to satisfy The system encourages their passivity which deepens their dependency and helps to explain why they are often perceived as children Offering concrete suggestions for improving the quality of nursing home life Uneasy Endings will find a broad audience among those who work with the aged Age Through Ethnic Lenses Laura Katz Olson,2001 The book covers aged care for the following groups of elderly people Asians Chinese Japanese Vietnamese Latinos Mexicans Puerto Ricans Africans Native Americans religious groups Mormons Amish Jewish Arab Europeans Polish Irish Italian Greek gay and lesbian elderly rural elderly NIH Almanac ,1978
