Reading with a Difference Arthur F. Marotti, 1993 Reading with a Difference is a collection of eighteen essays that examines how issues of gender race and cultural identity inform texts from the seventeenth century to the present Together the contributions document recent significant shifts occurring in the theoretical approach to the texts they study and illustrate how shifts in each of these categories affect how the others are viewed The first section of this anthology explores the notion that identity particularly gender identity is a cultural construct The essays in the second section consider ways in which race and gender intersect with cultural identity and how encounters between different cultures challenge any identity constructed in isolation First published in the journal Criticism these essays offer no blueprint for reading Instead they encourage a rereading of canonical texts and a questioning of how these texts face matters of gender race and cultural identity how they respond to the differences and the incongruities within the cultures from which they arise and to which

The Translingual Imagination Steven G. Kellman, 2000-01-01 It is difficult to write well even in one language Yet a rich body of translingual literature by authors who write in more than one language or in a language other than their primary one exists The Translingual Imagination is a pioneering study of the phenomenon which is as ancient as the use of Arabic Latin Mandarin Persian and Sanskrit as linguae francae Colonialism war mobility and the aesthetics of alienation have combined to create a modern translingual canon Opening with an overview of this vast subject Steven G Kellman then looks at the differences between ambilinguals those who write authoritatively in more than one language and monolingual translinguals those who write in only one language but not their native one Kellman offers compelling analyses of the translingual situations of African and Jewish authors and of achievements by authors as varied as Mary Antin Samuel Beckett Louis Begley J M Coetzee Joseph Conrad Eva Hoffman Vladimir Nabokov and John Sayles While separate studies of individual translingual authors have long been available this is the first in depth study of the general phenomenon of translingual literature
