Rise Fall Of South African Peasantry:

The Rise and Fall of the South African Peasantry Colin Bundy, 1979-01-01 Poverty, War, and Violence in South Africa Clifton Crais, 2011-09-19 Poverty and violence are issues of global importance In Poverty War and Violence in South Africa Clifton Crais explores the relationship between colonial conquest and the making of South Africa s rural poor Based on a wealth of archival sources this detailed history changes our understanding of the origins of the gut wrenching poverty that characterizes rural areas today Crais shifts attention away from general models of economic change and focuses on the enduring implications of violence in shaping South Africa s past and present Crais details the devastation wrought by European forces and their African auxiliaries Their violence led to wanton bloodshed large scale destruction of property and famine Crais explores how the survivors struggled to remake their lives including the adoption of new crops and the world of inequality and vulnerability colonial violence bequeathed He concludes with a discussion of contemporary challenges and the threats to democracy in South Africa The Agrarian Question in South Africa Henry Bernstein, 2014-01-21 This is the first collection of its kind It presents a critical political economy of the agrarian question in post apartheid South Africa informed by the results of research undertaken since the transition from apartheid started in 1990 The articles by well known South African British and American scholars cover a variety of topical theoretical empirical and policy issues firmly rooted in an historical perspective Routledge Library Editions: World Empires Various, 2021-07-09 The 16 volumes in this set originally published between 1919 and 1998 draw together research by leading academics in the area of World Empires and provide an examination of related key issues The books examine French Colonialism the German Empire and the Ottoman Empire as well as the effect European colonialism had in Africa and Asia This set will be of particular interest to students of world history Colonial Cinema in Africa Glenn Reynolds, 2015-06-08 In recent decades historians and film scholars have intensified their study of colonial cinema in Africa Yet the vastness of the continent the number of European powers involved and irregular record keeping has made uncovering the connections between imagery imperialism and indigenous peoples difficult This volume takes up the challenge tracing production and exhibition patterns to show how motion pictures were introduced on the continent during the Scramble for Africa and the subsequent era of consolidation The author describes how early actualities expeditionary footage ethnographic documentaries and missionary films were made in the African interior and examines the rise of mass black spectatorship While Africans in the first two decades of the 20th century were sidelined as cinema consumers because of colonial restrictions social and political changes in the subsequent interwar period wrought by large scale mining in southern Africa led to a rethinking of colonial film policy by missionaries mining concerns and colonial officials By World War II cinema had come to black Africa Rural Wage Employment in Developing Countries Carlos Oya, Nicola Pontara, 2015-05-22 There is a striking scarcity of work conducted on rural labour markets in the developing world particularly in Africa This book aims to fill this gap by bringing together a group of contributors who boast substantial field experience researching rural wage employment in various developing countries. It provides critical perspectives on mainstream approaches to rural agrarian development and analysis of agrarian change and rural transformations from a long term perspective. This book challenges the notion that rural areas in low and middle income countries are dominated by self employment. It purports that this conventional view is largely due to the application of conceptual frameworks and statistical conventions that are ill equipped to capture labour market participation. The contributions in this book offer a variety of methodological lessons for the study of rural labour markets focusing in particular on the use of mixed methods in micro level field research and more emphasis on capturing occupation multiplicity. The emphasis on context history and specific configurations of power relations affecting rural labour market outcomes are key and reoccurring features of this book. This analysis will help readers think about policy options to improve the quantity and quality of rural wage employment, their impact on the poorest rural people and their political feasibility in each context.

The State Against the Peasantry Merle L. Bowen, 2000. Bowen refuses to treat the peasantry as a homogeneous mass.

Education, Race, and Social Change in South Africa John A. Marcum, 2023-04-28. Education, Race, and Social Change in South Africa examines the deep rooted issues of higher education in South Africa highlighting the complex interplay between race politics and access to education. Beginning with the colonial foundations of South African higher education in the early 19th century it traces the development of institutions such as the University of Cape Town and the University of Fort Hare reflecting the segregated nature of the education system. As the country transitioned to a republic in the 20th century the policies of apartheid shaped the university landscape leading to the creation of separate institutions for various racial groups. The book explores how these divisions have persisted particularly in the context of racial inequalities in enrollment and access to quality education with black students historically underrepresented in South Africa's leading universities. The study also delves into the evolving nature of South African higher education in the face of racial segregation examining the impact of political shifts on the educational landscape. With the rise of the National Party in 1948 and the implementation of strict segregation policies the book explores the creation of ethnic universities for non white students and the ongoing challenges faced by these institutions in providing quality education. The book raises critical questions about the future of education in South Africa focusing on the need for reform to bridge the educational divide, address teacher shortages and promote greater racial integration within universities. It also considers the role of international collaboration and aid in fostering educational opportunities for black South Africans and suggests possible pathways for achieving equitable educational access. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach and impact. Strange Death of the Liberal Empire David E. Torrance, 1996. Part political biography and part study of imperialism The Strange Death of the Liberal Empire is an examination of Lord Selborne's career as high commissioner for South Africa from 1905 to 1910

Outlaws, Anxiety, and Disorder in Southern Africa Rachel King, 2019-06-18 This book explores how objects landscapes and architecture were at the heart of how people imagined outlaws and disorder in colonial southern Africa Drawing on evidence from several disciplines it chronicles how cattle raiders were created pursued and controlled and how modern scholarship strives to reconstruct pasts of disruption and deviance Through a series of vignettes Rachel King uses excavated material rock art archival texts and object collections to explore different facets of how disorderly figures were shaped through impressions of places and material culture as much as actual transgression Addressing themes from mobility to wilderness historiography to violence resistance to development King details the world that raiders made over the last two centuries in southern Africa while also critiquing scholars tools for describing this world Offering inter disciplinary perspectives on the past in Africa's southernmost mountains this book grapples with concepts relevant to those interested in rule breakers and rule makers both in Africa and the wider world

Black Political Thought in the Making of South African Democracy C.R.D. Halisi, 1999 a comprehensive analytical survey of the multidimensional evolution of black political thought in South Africa's politicization process Choice Many citizens experience a sense of reluctance to share a single national identity with all of those who are defined by law to be their compatriots This problem can be explained and surmounted but it cannot be evaded by those who aspire to build a stable democracy in South Africa Richard L Sklar from the Foreword What will it mean to be a citizen in the new South Africa This penetrating study analyzes the issues of dual citizenship black consciousness populism racial proletarianization and their interaction with various political ideologies Halisi's analysis has practical implications for the development of political identity in the new South Africa

Reforming Land and Resource Use in South Africa Paul Hebinck, Charlie Shackleton, 2010-11-23 This book explores the debates surrounding land and agrarian reform in South Africa and explores how these reforms and particular those that make access easier have created new options for and broadened the use of land and natural resources

The Long Road to Freedom Ime John Ukpanah, 2005 Inkundla Ya Bantu was the only independent African journal to play a significant role in the resistance press against the white minority government It was launched in 1938 as a moderate African nationalist community paper and would cease publication in 1951 just seven months before the launch of the Defiance Campaign Ime Ukpanah tells the story of the paper and the people who founded it later to be key figures in the ANC Having no official press of its own the ANC adopted Inkundla Ya Bantu as its PR organ

The House of Tshatshu Anne Kelk Mager, Phiko Jeffrey Velelo, 2018-08-30 In rural South Africa today there are signs that chieftaincies are resurging after having been disbanded in colonial times Among these is the amaTshatshu of the Eastern Cape which was dis established in 1852 by the British and recognised once more under the democratic ANC dispensation in 2003 Bawana leader of the amaTshatshu was the first Thembu chief to cross the Kei River in the mid 1820s to open up the northeastern frontier of the Cape Colony His successors and followers fought the British in the frontier wars but were defeated In tracing his history and that of his descendants this book explores the meaning of chieftainship in South Africa at the time of colonial conquest under apartheid s bantustans and now post apartheid It illustrates not only the story of a beleaguered and dispossessed people but also the ways in which power is constructed In addition it is about gender and land about belonging identity and naming The book unsettles accounts of chiefly authority unpacks conflicts between royal families municipalities and government departments and explores the impasse created by these quarrels It retrieves evidence that the colonial state sought to obliterate and draws the disempowered back into the process of making history The authors are both closely associated with the land and the people of the amaTshatshu One is a historian who grew up on their land and the other is counsellor to the chief As such they bring their knowledge and respective skills to bear in this book The collaboration of a black and a white author sets up a creative tension which animates the text and is a powerful element of the book

Contemporary South Africa and the Political Economy of Regional Development Methembe Mdlalose, Isaac Khambule, Nene Ernest Khalema, 2025-02-21 South Africa s struggle in balancing its domestic needs while playing a dynamic developmental role in the African region and global context exposes a complex web of relations shaped by its geostrategic location on the continent and the world and the staggering legacies of colonialism and apartheid As such understanding the complexities of the global economy and of South Africa s place in it is of great importance This book builds upon an existing body of literature which has demonstrated that while the post apartheid South African state has recast its nation building goals with advances having been made notably in the area of a stellar post apartheid constitution policy directives and democratic political integration economic integration and policy implementation presents a projection of captured interests where big business concerns are entrenched in the post apartheid state s apparent neo liberal turn The main focus of the book is to contextualise issues relating to three main trends in global discourses on development which are significant for South Africa and indeed for the study of the political economy of regional development in the country from the prism of South Africa as a global capitalist state These trends include the impact of globalisation regionalisation and the marginalisation of South Africa and indeed the African continent in the global economy thus unpacking the possible role that South Africa might play in regional development This volume will be a valuable resource to academics researchers and students in the fields of regional studies economics and political theory as well as policymakers planners and local economic development practitioners

The New Imperial Histories Reader Stephen Howe, 2020-07-24 In recent years imperial history has experienced a newfound vigour dynamism and diversity There has been an explosion of new work in the field which has been driven into even greater prominence by contemporary world events However this resurgence has brought with it disputes between those who are labelled as exponents of a new imperial history and those who can by default be termed old imperial historians This collection not only gathers together some of the most important influential and controversial work which has come to be labelled new imperial history but also presents key examples of innovative recent writing across the broader fields of imperial and colonial studies This book is the perfect companion for any student interested in empires and global history

From Slaving to Neoslavery I. K. Sundiata, 1996 Fernando Po home to the Bantu speaking Bubi people has an unusually complex history Long touted as the key to West Africa it is the largest West African island and the last to enter the world economy Confronted by both African resistance and ecological barriers early British and Spanish imperialism foundered there Not until the late nineteenth century did foreign settlement take hold abetted by a class of westernized black planters It was only then that Fernando Po developed a plantation economy dependent on migrant labor working under conditions similar to slavery In From Slaving to Neoslavery Ibrahim K Sundiata offers a comprehensive history of Fernando Po explains the continuities between slavery and free contract labor and challenges standard notions of labor development and progress in various colonial contexts Sundiata's work is interdisciplinary considering the influences of the environment disease slavery abolition and indigenous state formation in determining the interaction of African peoples with colonialism From Slaving to Neoslavery has manifold implications Historians usually depict the nineteenth century as the period in which free labor triumphed over slavery but Sundiata challenges this notion By examining the history of Fernando Po he illuminates the larger debate about slavery current among scholars of Africa

The Politics of Evil Clifton Crais, 2002-10-17 In The Politics of Evil Clifton Crais provides a unique interpretation of South African history power culture and resistance

The White Tribe of Africa David Harrison, 1983-10-01

Unequal Treatment (Routledge Revivals) Mats Lundahl, Eskil Wadensjö, 2015-05-08 This book written by two leading Swedish economists and first published in 1984 constitutes a threefold contribution to the expanding field of economic discrimination In the first place it summarizes different approaches to the economics of discrimination from the beginning of the British debate on equal pay in the 1890s onwards Secondly the book contains analytical chapters that taking the theory originated by Gary Becker as their point of departure critique and develop the Beckerian theory in a number of ways in particular the phenomenon known as crowding is investigated in different models Finally the theories thus developed are applied to a concrete case of discrimination that of apartheid in South Africa This is a fascinating title that will be of value to any economics students researching the development of discrimination theory during the twentieth century in particular
