Shewa Menilek And The Ethiopian Empire 1813 1889:

Shewa, Menilek and the Ethiopian Empire R. H. Kofi Darkwah, 1978

A History of Addis Ababa from Its

Foundation in 1886 to 1910 Peter P. Garretson, 1974 This thesis traces aspects of the political economic and religious history of Addis Ababa from 1886 to 1910 It is based largely on documentary material both Ethiopian and European but also depends on oral information As a city it was unique in Africa because of the absence of an imposed European direction of its development and as a result it grew ad hoc influenced by both Ethiopian and foreign concepts of an urban community From the beginnings Emperor Menilek completely dominated the political and administrative machinery of the capital but during his illnesses many of his responsibilities were perforce delegated to his closest associates who exercised their powers largely through the organisation of the Imperial Palace The bureaucracy became increasingly civilian in its personnel rather than military especially after the Battle of Adwa Furthermore since Addis Ababa was also the capital of the empire the city and its administrators played not only a local but also an imperial role The economic influence of the capital was even more pronounced where again the Emperor was more important than any other individual in the land and under his watchful eye foreigners dominated the import and export trade while Christians wrested the overall control of trade in the Empire from the Muslims Yet evangelically the church was rarely very energetic in the capital although its influence was pervasive While many historians have seen Menilek's reign as a period of significant innovation and modernisation this thesis regards that as an exaggerated claim For when closely examined the modernisation of even the capital was never very impressive although it was the acknowledged centre of foreign influence Nonetheless the capital did show itself to be the main point for the diffusion of the few modernisations that were introduced into the country from the 1880s to 1910

A History of Modern Ethiopia, 1855-1991 Bahru Zewde, 2002-03-17 Bounded by Sudan to the west and north Kenya to the south Somalia to the southeast and Eritrea and Djibouti to the northeast Ethiopia is a pivotal country in the geopolitics of the region Yet it is important to understand this ancient and often splintered country in its own right In A History of Modern Ethiopia Bahru Zewde one of Ethiopia's leading historians provides a compact and comprehensive history of his country particularly the last two centuries Of importance to historians political scientists journalists and Africanists alike Bahru's A History of Modern Ethiopia now with additional material taking it up to the last decade will be the preeminent overview of present day Ethiopia

The Economics of the Indian Ocean Slave Trade in the Nineteenth Century William Gervase Clarence-Smith, 2013-12-16 First Published in 1989 Well over a million slaves were exported from Indian Ocean and Red Sea ports in Eastern Africa during the nineteenth century and millions more were shifted around the interior of the continent and along the coast of East Africa And yet we still know remarkably little about this great movement of people particularly from an economic point of view This is a collection of twelve essays looking at the economics of the Indian Ocean and the Red Sea Slave trades of the nineteenth century

collection of essays offers a unique approach to the understanding of imperial Ethiopia out of which the present state was created by the 1974 revolution After the 1880s Abyssinia under Menilek II expanded its ancient heartland to incorporate vast new territories to the south Here for the first time these regions are treated as an integral part of the empire The book opens with an interpretation of nineteenth century Abyssinia as an African political economy rather than as a variant on European feudalism and with an account of the north's impact on peoples of the new south Case studies from the southern regions follow four by historians and four by anthropologists each examining aspects of the relationship between imperial rule and local society In revealing the region's diversity and the relationship of the periphery to the centre the volume illuminates some of the problems faced by post revolutionary Ethiopia

Ethiopian Warriorhood Tsehai Berhane-Selassie, 2018 The history of the often overlooked Chewa Ethiopian warriors and their crucial role in defending their homeland against invasion as well as their strong influence on political identity and the social infrastructure

The Oromo and the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia Mohammed Hassen, 2015 First full length history of the Oromo 1300-1700 explains their key part in the medieval Christian kingdom and demonstrates their importance in shaping Ethiopian history

Land and Society in the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia Donald Crummey, 2000 Land and Society in the Christian Kingdom of Ethiopia offers an original perspective on how the rulers of Ethiopia one of the great subcenters of agricultural innovation and development used land to support their dominion Crummey draws on all the surviving documents pertaining to the holding and granting of agricultural land in the Ethiopian highlands from the thirteenth to the twentieth century By examining how social relations affected the conditions for economic production and how people of power drew on the wealth created by society's basic producers he provides new insight into how ordinary farming and herding folk were incorporated into and affected by the institutions that ruled them

Islam in Nineteenth-Century Wallo, Ethiopia Hussein Ahmed, 2021-10-01 While presenting an historical account of the internal dynamics of Islam in Wallo Ethiopia with particular emphasis on the modes of its introduction and dissemination and on its relationship with the Ethiopian state and regional power structure this book describes the background to and manifestations of the revival and consolidation of Islam in the region in the nineteenth century by assessing the role of Muslim scholars traders and chiefs in that process It also traces the origin of the tradition of Islamic renewal and reform and analyzes the response of Wallo Muslim religious intellectuals to the attempt of the Ethiopian

Christian monarchs of the period to bring about the political unification of the kingdom by imposing a policy of religious coercion on the Muslims of Wallo Based largely on hitherto untapped oral and written indigenous sources and supplemented by external archival and documentary evidence the study is aimed at redressing the historiographical and interpretive imbalance embedded in the scholarly institutional and popular perceptions on Islam in Ethiopia Women and Slavery: Africa, the Indian Ocean world, and the medieval north Atlantic Gwyn Campbell, Suzanne Miers, Joseph Calder Miller, 2007 The particular experience of enslaved women across different cultures and many different eras is the focus of this work

Dunn,2005 Khedive Ismail's Army examines military failure in the age of imperialism On paper the mid nineteenth century Egyptian army seems a formidable regional power It had a tradition of success modern weapons and mercenary officers with experience in major wars Egypt's ruler Khedive Ismail hoped to combine the imported technology and brains with native manpower and establish an Egyptian dominated Horn of Africa His soldiers did conquer parts of the Sudan but they suffered disastrous defeats during the Egyptian Abyssinian War of 1875 to 1876. Presenting the first detailed examination of the Egyptian Abyssinian War in English, this new book also looks at the root problems that made Ismail's soldiers ineffective. These include issues of class, racism, internal and external politics, finance, and the rapidly changing world of mid-Nineteenth Century military technology. This book is aimed at military historians and will be of interest to those studying the Middle East or North East Africa.
