Shifting Identities Shifting Racisms A Feminism And Psychology Reader:

Shifting Identities Shifting Racisms Kum-Kum Bhavnani, Ann Phoenix, 1994-05-11 This collection makes an important contribution to contemporary feminist and psychological debates on identities and racisms It addresses issues of commonalities differences subjectivities and the contradictory nature of positionings which are central concerns for feminist and anti racist politics Leading feminists examine the ways in which psychology has reproduced racism the complexity of issues of identities and racisms which are shown to be multiple constantly variable and renegotiable the need to problematize and unpack whiteness and the problems of identity politics both in terms of explanatory power and political action Ways to Survive, Battles to Win Halleh Ghorashi, 2003 A former Iranian leftist political activist now an assistant professor of anthropology at Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam the Netherlands explores issues of exile and identity among a group of Iranian women forced to leave Iran during or after the Iranian revolution of 1979 weaving in her own experiences as a political exile Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Race, Racism and Psychology Graham Richards, 2012-03-15 This book offers a comprehensive overview of the ways in which Psychology has engaged with race and racism issues since the late 19th century It emphasizes the complexities and convolutions of the story and attempts to elucidate the subtleties and occasional paradoxes that have arisen as a result This new edition updates the research contained in the first edition and includes brand new chapters These additional chapters draw attention to the importance of the South African Black Consciousness movement and Post colonial Psychology explore recent additional historical research on the fears of hybridisation contain new material on French colonial psychiatry and discuss the awkward status of virtually all the language and terms currently used for discussion of the topic This important and controversial book has proved to be a vital text both as a point of departure for more in depth inquiries and also as an essential reference tool The additional up to date material included in this new edition makes the book an even more valuable resource to those working in and studying psychology and also for anyone concerned with the race issue either professionally or personally Racial Sensitivity and Multicultural Training Martin Strous, 2004-01-30 Offering implications for democratizing psychology on a global scale this work illustrates how professional training for mental health practitioners is often inadequate on issues pertaining to race and racism The author shows prime examples in his homeland South Africa and focuses on how those practices reflect assumptions concerning racial superiority Also addressed is how therapists may be influenced by prevailing ideologies unaware of how prejudices translate into discriminatory work practices and ignorant of the power of their own discriminatory discourses The author also investigates how positive attitudes by counselors and therapists reflect positions related to racial sensitivity He proposes a new model for multicultural and multiracial sensitivity training Managing Organizations Stewart R Clegg, Cynthia Hardy, Walter R Nord, 1999-04-29 In Managing Organizations Stewart Clegg Cynthia Hardy and Walter Nord explore the major issues and debates in management and organization The textbook addresses key topics such as leadership decision making and innovation in organizations alongside such themes as diversity globalization and ecology Students and teachers of management will find this a comprehensive and wide ranging resource on the core issues for contemporary managers and organizations

Gender and the Media Rosalind Gill,2015-10-02 Written in a clear and accessible style with lots of examples from Anglo American media Gender and the Media offers a critical introduction to the study of gender in the media and an up to date assessment of the key issues and debates Eschewing a straightforwardly positive or negative assessment the book explores the contradictory character of contemporary gender representations where confident expressions of girl power sit alongside reports of epidemic levels of anorexia among young women moral panics about the impact on men of idealized representations of the six pack but near silence about the pervasive re sexualization of women s bodies along with a growing use of irony and playfulness that render critique extremely difficult The book looks in depth at five areas of media talk shows magazines news advertising and contemporary screen and paperback romances to examine how representations of women and men are changing in the twenty first century partly in response to feminist queer and anti racist critique Gender and the Media is also concerned with the theoretical tools available for analysing representations A range of approaches from semiotics to postcolonial theory are discussed and Gill asks how useful notions such as objectification backlash and positive images are for making sense of gender in today s Western media Finally Gender and the Media also raises questions about cultural politics namely what forms of critique and intervention are effective at a moment when ironic quotation marks seem to protect much media content from criticism and when much media content from Sex and the City to revenge adverts can be labelled postfeminist This is a book that will be of particular interest to students and scholars in gender and media studies as well as those in sociology and cultural studies more generally

Feminist mental health activism in England, c. 1968-95 Kate Mahoney,2023-12-12 Feminist mental health activism in England c 1968 1995 provides the first in depth examination of feminist mental health activism in England employing original oral history interviews alongside detailed case studies of unexplored feminist initiatives It charts how feminist activists in the late 1960s initially rejected psychological approaches before employing a range of therapies to understand themselves and support one another This book charts the emergence of feminist mental health groups in the early 1970s the development of feminist therapy across the 1980s and the influence of feminist politics on national charity Mind in the 1990s It examines what participation in feminist activism felt like demonstrating how these emotions have influenced the construction of its history The book simultaneously forges a new direction in the history of mental healthcare in postwar England establishing how feminists grassroots support for women redefined community care

What Is an American Muslim? Abdullahi Ahmed An-Na'im,2014-01-02 Abdullah An Na im offers a pioneering exploration of American Muslim citizenship and identity arguing against the prevalent emphasis on majority minority politics and instead promoting a shared citizenship that both accommodates and transcends religious identity

EBOOK: Race, Masculinity and Schooling

Louise Archer, 2003-12-16 a welcome and valuable contribution because of Archer's ability to reveal for her readers the complex and dynamic ways in which young Muslim Asian boys in England construct their identities. Through a careful analysis she demonstrates how stereotypes and inequalities have a real impact on the ways in which these young people negotiate their identities, reminding us of the importance of reading identities within their different contexts. An important and refreshing book. Journal of Education Policy. Muslim boys are currently hot topics of social and educational debate; they have been associated with global terrorism, fundamentalism, urban rioting, and within the context of schooling they appear to be suffering from disproportionately high rates of exclusion and low rates of achievement and post-16 progression. This timely and innovative book examines the issues in detail, foregrounding Muslim boys' own views of their lives and schooling. The book explores the complex interplay between race, ethnicity, religion, masculinity, and social class within Muslim boys' lives. Attention is also given to the role of the teacher-researcher within the boys' production of masculine identities. The book draws on illuminating new research data and reviews a wide range of literature on masculinity and race/ethnicity to enable readers to engage with complex social inequalities within the context of secondary schooling. Black Youth Matters Cecile Wright, P.J. Standen, Tina Patel, 2009-12-04 How do young black students respond, resist, and work to transform their school experience? How do young people adapt, survive, and then succeed in spite of their negative school experience? For an increasing number of marginalized black youth, the paths to social success can actually lie outside school walls. Black Youth Matters presents a compelling empirical picture of black youth who creatively respond to permanent school exclusion. Structural approaches to social stratification often set the terms of discussion around isolated narratives of individual success stories. In this book, the authors intervene with a new point of view by focusing instead on collectives of broader black communities. They both engage with and move beyond structural models of stratification and education, thereby affirming the enduring importance of individual and collective aspiration, an impulse that has not been exhausted for black youth even in the face of systematic, longstanding, and overwhelming inequality. Based on long-term ethnographic research with young people permanently excluded from school, Black Youth Matters examines the resourcefulness of young black people in overcoming the process of school failure to forge more positive futures for themselves. This book should be of interest to sociologists, educators, anthropologists, policy makers, as well as community activists. Celebrity and the Media Sean Redmond, 2013-11-26 An engaging introduction to the key terms, concepts, dilemmas, and issues that are central to the study and critical understanding of celebrity, exploring the impacts of celebrity culture on the modern media and examining the influence that celebrity has on the way people place themselves in the modern world. I Have Been Waiting Jennifer S. Simpson, 2003-01-01 I Have Been Waiting is an important work confirming that sustained attention to issues of race in higher education is both difficult and necessary. Breaking Monotheism Jeremiah W. Cataldo, 2014-03-13 This work offers a social scientific analysis of Yehud and uses that analysis to construct a model through which to analyze later monotheistic religious developments Whiteness, Weddings, and Tourism in the Caribbean Karen Wilkes, 2016-08-18 This book examines myths of the Caribbean as paradise. These myths are used as a backdrop to market destination white weddings. The book is interdisciplinary and uses historical and contemporary visual texts to examine the way in which middle class white womanhood assumes a decorative, privileged and elevated position within contemporary images of destination weddings in the Caribbean. To facilitate the notion of the Caribbean as paradise, the book argues that this production of luxury is highly dependent on the positioning of blackness as servitude. To this end, tourism marketing appropriates the Caribbean's history of slavery, transforming the region into a site where whiteness can consume black labor as luxury.

Inter-group Relations

Kopano Ratele, 2006 Following the undoing of the racist apartheid government, this study critically examines the social and psychological issues that continue to trouble South Africans. Topical concerns include language barriers, homelessness, stereotyping and racism, HIV/AIDS, social influence and dominance, as well as different ways of understanding intergroup conflict and cooperation.

Communication Yearbook 27 Pamela J. Kalbfleisch, 2003-06-20 Communication Yearbook 27 is devoted to publishing state-of-the-art literature reviews in which authors critique and synthesize a body of communication research. This volume continues the tradition of publishing critical integrative reviews of specific lines of research. Chapters focus on an organizational communication challenge to the discourse of work and family research, recovering women's voice, empowerment and communication, participatory communication for social change and the problematics of dialogue and power. In addition, chapters discuss the megaphone effect, the effects of television on group vitality, the empowerment of feminist scholarship in public relations and the building of a feminist paradigm, control, resistance and empowerment in raced, gendered and classed work contexts, credibility for the 21st century and communicating disability.

Understanding 'Race' and Ethnicity

Chattoo, Sangeeta, Atkin, Karl, 2019-04-10 This new edition of a widely respected textbook examines welfare policy and racism in a broad framework that marries theory, evidence, history and contemporary debate. Fully updated, it contains a new foreword by Professor Kate Pickett, acclaimed co-author of The Spirit Level, two new chapters on disability and chronic illness and UK education policy, respectively, updated examples and data reflecting changes in black and minority ethnic demographics in the UK, a postscript from a minority student on her struggle to make a new home in Britain. Suitable for undergraduate and postgraduate courses in social policy, sociology and applied social sciences, its global themes of immigration, austerity and securitisation also make it of considerable interest to policy and welfare practitioners.

The Routledge Handbook of the Northern Ireland Conflict and Peace Laura McAtackney, Máirtín Ó Catháin, 2023-11-13 The Routledge Handbook of the Northern Ireland Conflict and Peace is the first multi-authored volume to specifically address the many facets of the 30-year Northern Ireland conflict, colloquially known as the Troubles, and its subsequent peace process. This volume is rooted in opening space to address controversial subjects, answer key questions and move beyond reductive analysis that reproduces a simplistic two-community thesis. The temporal span of individual chapters can reach back to the formation of the state of Northern Ireland with many starting in the late 1960s to include a range of individuals collectives organisations understandings and events at least up to the Good Friday Belfast Agreement in 1998 This volume has forefronted creative approaches in understanding conflict and allows for analysis and reflection on conflict and peace to continue through to the present day With an extensive introduction preface and 45 individual chapters this volume represents an ambitious expansive interdisciplinary engagement with the North of Ireland through society conflict and peace from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives theoretical frameworks and methodological approaches While allowing for rich historical explorations of high level politics rooted in state documents and archives this volume also allows for the intermingling of different sources that highlight the role of personal papers memory space materials and experience in understanding the complexities of both Northern Ireland as a people place and political entity

A State of Ambivalence

Lenore Lyons, 2004-08-01 This book examines the contemporary feminist movement in Singapore through an in depth case study of the locally based Association of Women for Action and Research AWARE It examines the meanings attached to feminist activism by AWARE members including the use of the label feminist as a self identifier by both individuals as well as the organisation as a whole By exploring the range of activities that AWARE has been involved in since the mid 1980s the text describes in detail the fraught relationship between feminism and the state in Singapore The author uses the framework of transnational feminism to explore the ways in which gender race ethnicity and class intersect in the construction of historically and culturally specific feminisms The book will be of interest to scholars from a range of disciplines including those working on gender studies feminist history and Southeast Asian studies

Understanding 'race' and Ethnicity

Craig, Gary, Atkin, Karl, 2012-02-22 Most societies in the developed world are now multicultural but their welfare systems have largely failed to address the issues and tensions associated with the growth of minority ethnic populations Taking the United Kingdom as an exemplary case study Understanding Race and Ethnicity combines historical and theoretical approaches to the study of the intersection of race and welfare and examines how minorities experience welfare in a range of settings Informative and inspiring this book will be essential for anyone striving to build a society that is equal inclusive and just for all
