Shooting The Truth The Rise Of American Political Documentaries:

Shooting the Truth James McEnteer, 2006 Explores the ability of political documentary films to address vital issues glossed over by the corporate controlled mass media Tracing the origins of an oppositional documentary movement to the Vietnam era the author shows how an independent documentary tradition grew from television's failure to sustain a commitment to the public interest American Documentary Film Jeffrey Geiger, 2011-06-29 Richard Wall Memorial Award 2012 Finalist What key concerns are reflected in documentaries produced in and about the United States How have documentaries engaged with competing visions of US history culture politics and national identity This book examines how documentary films have contributed to the American public sphere creating a kind of public space serving as sites for community building public expression and social innovation Geiger focuses on how documentaries have been significant in forming ideas of the nation both as an imagined space and a real place Moving from the dawn of cinema to the present day this is the first full length study to focus on the extensive range and history of American non fiction filmmaking Combining comprehensive overviews with in depth case studies Geiger maps American documentary's intricate histories examining the impact of pre and early cinema travelogues the avant garde 1930s social documentary propaganda direct cinema postmodernism and new documentary Offering detailed close analyses and fresh insights this book provides students and scholars with a stimulating guide to American documentary reminding us of its important place in cinema history The Oxford Handbook of American Documentary Joshua Glick, Visiting Associate Professor of Film & Electronic Arts Joshua Glick, Patricia Aufderheide, University Professor in the School of Communication Patricia Aufderheide, 2025 Joshua Glick and Patricia Aufderheide Over the past twenty years documentaries have taken on an increasingly central place in American public life One measure of their importance is their commercial value Major media companies have moved aggressively to monetize documentary exploiting the form's relatively low budgets compared to fiction Documentary Film Patricia Aufderheide, 2007-11-28 Documentary film can encompass anything from Robert Flaherty's pioneering ethnography Nanook of the North to Michael Moore's anti Iraq War polemic Fahrenheit 9/11 from Dziga Vertov's artful Soviet propaganda piece Man with a Movie Camera to Luc Jacquet's heart tugging wildlife epic March of the Penguins In this concise crisply written guide Patricia Aufderheide takes readers along the diverse paths of documentary history and charts the lively often fierce debates among filmmakers and scholars about the best ways to represent reality and to tell the truths worth telling Beginning with an overview of the central issues of documentary filmmaking its definitions and purposes its forms and founders Aufderheide focuses on several of its key subgenres including public affairs films government propaganda particularly the works produced during World War II historical documentaries and nature films Her thematic approach allows readers to enter the subject matter through the kinds of films that first attracted them to documentaries and it permits her to make connections between eras as well as revealing the ongoing nature of documentary's core controversies involving objectivity advocacy and bias Interwoven throughout are discussions of the ethical and practical considerations that arise with every aspect of documentary production A particularly useful feature of the book is an appended list of 100 great documentaries that anyone with a serious interest in the genre should see Drawing on the author's four decades of experience as a film scholar and critic this book is the perfect introduction not just for teachers and students but also for all thoughtful filmgoers and for those who aspire to make documentaries themselves About the Series Combining authority with wit accessibility and style Very Short Introductions offer an introduction to some of life's most interesting topics Written by experts for the newcomer they demonstrate the finest contemporary thinking about the central problems and issues in hundreds of key topics from philosophy to Freud quantum theory to Islam

The cinema of Oliver Stone Ian Scott, Henry Thompson, 2016-09-09 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license This book analyses the work of Oliver Stone arguably one of the foremost political filmmakers in Hollywood during the last thirty years From early productions like Platoon 1986 and Wall Street 1987 to contemporary dramas and documentaries such as World Trade Center 2006 Wall Street Money Never Sleeps 2010 and The Untold History of the United States 2012 Stone has re defined political filmmaking in an era when Hollywood and the United States in general has been experiencing rapid and radical change Drawing on previously unseen production files as well as hours of interviews with the director and his associates within the industry this book is a thematic exploration of Stone s life and work charting the development of political and aesthetic changes in his filmmaking Those changes are mapped onto academic debates about the relationship between film and history as well as wider critiques about Hollywood and the film industry

Intimacy in Cinema David Roche, Isabelle Schmitt-Pitiot, 2014-10-03 Though intimacy has been a wide concern in the humanities it has received little critical attention in film studies This collection of new essays investigates both the potential intimacy of cinema as a medium and the possibility of a cinema of intimacy where it is least expected As a notion defined by binaries inside and outside surface and depth public and private self and other intimacy because it implies sharing calls into question the boundaries between these extremes and the border separating mainstream cinema and independent or auteur cinema Following on Thomas Elsaesser's theories of the relationship between the intimacy of cinema and the cinema of intimacy the essays explore intimacy in silent and classic Hollywood movies underground documentary and animation films and contemporary Hollywood British Canadian and Australian cinema from a variety of approaches

China on Video Paola Voci, 2010-06-10 China On Video is the first in depth study that examines smaller screen realities and the important role they play not only in the fast changing Chinese mediascape but also more broadly in the practice of experimental and non mainstream cinema At the crossroads of several disciplines film media new media media anthropology visual arts contemporary China area studies and cultural studies this book reveals the existence of a creative humorous but also socially and politically critical China on video which locates itself outside of the intellectual discourse surrounding both auteur cinema and digital art By describing smaller screen movies moviemaking and viewing as light realities Voci points to their insignificant weight in terms of production costs distribution size profit gains intellectual or artistic ambitions but also their deep meaning in defining an alternative way of seeing and understanding the world The author proposes that lightness is a concept that can usefully be deployed to describe the moving image beyond the specificity of recent new media developments and which can in fact help us rethink previous cinematic practices in broad terms both spatially and temporally

Screening Social Justice Sherry B. Ortner, 2023-02-20 In Screening Social Justice award winning anthropologist Sherry B. Ortner presents an ethnographic study of Brave New Films a nonprofit film production company that makes documentaries intended to mobilize progressive grassroots activism Ortner positions the work of the company within a tradition of activist documentary filmmaking and within the larger field of alternative media that is committed to challenging the mainstream media and telling the truth about the world today The company's films cover a range of social justice issues with particular focus on the hidden workings of capitalism racism and right wing extremism Beyond the films themselves Brave New Films is also famous for its creative distribution strategies All of the films are available for free on YouTube Central to the intention of promoting political activism the films circulate through networks of other activist and social justice organizations and are shown almost entirely in live screenings in which the power of the film is amplified Ortner takes the reader inside both the production process and the screenings to show how a film can be made and used to mobilize action for a better world

Judging 'Privileged' Jews Adam Brown, 2015-05 The Nazis persecution of the Jews during the Holocaust included the creation of prisoner hierarchies that forced victims to cooperate with their persecutors Many in the camps and ghettos came to hold so called privileged positions and their behavior has often been judged as self serving and harmful to fellow inmates Such controversial figures constitute an intrinsically important frequently misunderstood and often taboo aspect of the Holocaust Drawing on Primo Levi's concept of the grey zone this study analyzes the passing of moral judgment on privileged Jews as represented by writers such as Raul Hilberg and in films including Claude Lanzmann's Shoah and Steven Spielberg's Schindler's List Negotiating the problems and potentialities of representing the unrepresentable this book engages with issues that are fundamental to present day attempts to understand the Holocaust and deeply relevant to reflections on human nature Rhetorical and Critical

Approaches to Public Relations II Robert L. Heath, Elizabeth L. Toth, Damion Waymer, 2009-03-04 This volume illustrates the application of rhetorical theory and critical perspectives to explain public relations practices It provides a systematic and coherent statement of the crucial guidelines and philosophical underpinnings of public relations and it uses a rhetorical lens to give practitioners a clear sense of how their PR campaigns make a contribution to the organizational bottom line

Barbara Kopple Gregory Brown, 2015-10-14 With a career spanning more than forty years Barbara Kopple b 1946 long ago established herself as one of the most prolific and award winning American filmmakers of her generation Her projects have ranged from labor union documentaries to fictional feature films to an educational series for kids on the Disney Channel Through it all Kopple has generously made herself available for a great many print and broadcast interviews The most revealing and illuminating of these are brought together in this collection Here Kopple explains her near constant struggles to raise money usually while her films are already in production and the hardships arising from throwing her own money into such projects She makes clear the tensions between biases objectivity and fairness in her films Her interviewers raise fundamental questions What is the relationship between real people in documentaries and characters in fictional films Why does she embrace a cinematic style in some films but not others Why does she seem to support gun ownership in Harlan County U S A only to take a decidedly more neutral view of the issue in her film Gun Fight Kopple's concern for people facing crises is undeniable So is the affection she has for her more famous subjects Woody Allen playing a series of European jazz concerts Gregory Peck on tour and the Dixie Chicks losing a fan base but making a fresh start Historical Dictionary of
