Models Of Proposal Planning And Writing:

Models of Proposal Planning & Writing Jeremy T. Miner, Kelly C. Ball-Stahl, 2016-05-09 This book is an essential weapon for anyone looking for funding in the extremely competitive grantseeking world. It explains how and why to approach both public and private sponsors with not just information but persuasion for the best chance for success. How do you present the right balance of logic, emotion, and relationship awareness to make a persuasive proposal? What is THE most important thing to do before submitting a proposal to increase your odds for funding success? What portion of the proposal must be stressed even when it has a low point value assigned to it in the reviewer's evaluation form? How can a site visit make or break the fate of a meticulously prepared application? Models of Proposal Planning Writing Second Edition answers all these critical questions and more for grantseekers documenting how to write a proposal that will persuade a sponsor to invest in your projects and organization and just as importantly explaining why a properly persuasive application puts forth a seamless argument that stands the test of reason, addresses psychological concerns, and connects your project to the values of the sponsor. The book's comprehensive annotations provide practical information that walks readers step by step through a logical, integrated process of planning and writing persuasive proposals.

Proposal Planning and Writing Lynn E. Miner, Jeremy T. Miner, Jerry Griffith (Ph. D.), 1998-05-07 Annotation: Nationally known grants experts Lynn Miner, Jeremy Miner, Jerry Griffith have thoroughly revised, expanded their excellent self-help book which is designed for first-time proposal writers, planners, or for those who are without easy access to sources materials. The authors use a concise, straightforward approach relying on proven examples of how to find grants, how to plan, write, submit proposals that get results. They also share their streamlining techniques for submitting more proposals in less time, provide a list of the most likely reasons proposals are rejected. New to this edition is greatly expanded coverage of computerized grantseeking including World Wide Web resources. Also new is a discussion of effective writing techniques.

Models of Proposal Planning & Writing Jeremy T. Miner, Lynn E. Miner, 2005 Grantseeking has become an increasingly competitive process. Beginning grantwriters sometimes assemble a collection of facts and present that information to grantmakers hoping to receive support. However, sponsors rarely award grant funding just because a grantseeker supports a specific cause or works for a specific organization. Grantseekers must persuade sponsors to invest in their projects and organization. Successful grantseekers know that persuasion, not information, attracts funding. Persuasive proposals present a seamless argument that stands the test of reason, addresses psychological concerns, and connects project ideas to the values of the sponsor. Models of Proposal Planning Writing illustrates in intimate detail, previously unpublished, an integrated process of planning and writing persuasive proposals. The grantseeker will see the questions that the authors asked of themselves and those asked of sponsors before they developed a complete grant application. Grantseekers will read the actual proposals the authors submitted to private and public sponsors including paragraph-by-paragraph analyses of the key features that made them persuasive. The authors provide the reader with a verbatim examination of reviewer comments and grant award notification letters they received back from the sponsors As a whole these annotated models serve as a springboard from which grantseekers can begin to develop their own fundable proposals
