Case traces an epistemology that emerges from American writing including that of Emerson Marianne Moore William James and Charles Olson Here mind and world are understood as inseparable and the human being is regarded as in Thoreau's terms part and parcel of Nature Case presents a new picture of twentieth century American poetry that disrupts our sense of the schools and lineages of modern and postmodern poetics arguing that literary history is most accurately figured as a living field rather than a line This book will be of particular interest to scholars and students of pragmatism transcendentalism and twentieth century American poetry Kristen Case is Assistant Professor of English at the University of Maine at Farmington
