F. Robertson, 2004 Provides a unique window into the lives of the women who collect and love these dolls P 4 of cover      Early Modern Women in the Low Countries Susan Broomhall, Jennifer Spinks, 2016-05-13 Combining historical historiographical museological and touristic analysis this study investigates how late medieval and early modern women of the Low Countries expressed themselves through texts art architecture and material objects how they were represented by contemporaries and how they have been interpreted in modern academic and popular contexts Broomhall and Spinks analyse late medieval and early modern women's opportunities to narrate their experiences and ideas as well as the processes that have shaped their representation in the heritage and cultural tourism of the Netherlands and Belgium today The authors study female authored objects such as familial and political letters dolls houses account books visual sources funeral monuments and buildings commissioned by female patrons and further artworks as well as heritage sites streetscapes souvenirs and clothing with gendered historical resonances Employing an innovative range of materials from written sources to artworks material objects heritage sites and urban precincts the authors argue that interpretations of late medieval and early modern women's experiences by historians and art scholars interact with presentations by cultural and heritage tourism providers in significant ways that deserve closer interrogation by feminist researchers      The Doll Blogs Debbie Behan Garrett, 2010-12-31 To serve the doll collecting community particularly avid Black doll enthusiasts Ms Garrett continues to write about the dolls she loves In this her third doll publication dolls both old and new blog their experiences over a two year period as chosen dolls in Garrett's extensive and quite eclectic Black doll collection If you love dolls possess a vivid imagination and enjoy combining the two you will derive great pleasure reading The Doll Blogs another first for Debbie Behan Garrett Garrett takes the reader on an imaginative voyage in doll collecting world where she meets and greets new dolls reacquaints herself with old ones and continues the passion for all as a doll whisperer allowing the dolls to speak through her The dolls some more vocal than others with personalities all their own find delight in telling their unique stories sharing their experiences and relaying how they entered Garrett s collection This first book devoted to dolls that speak in blog form is masterfully engaging a sure delight     The Antiques Journal ,1981     Hobbies ,1978     Congregational Communion Francis J. Bremer,1994 Puritan studies is one of the most heavily researched areas of scholarship in both England and the United States In this in depth exploration of the relationship between Puritans in England and New England Francis J Bremer challenges the view that the colonists turned away from English Puritans in the 1640s Rather he convincingly demonstrates that the two communities retained a complex symbiotic connection a communion throughout the seventeenth century and that the clergy on both sides of the Atlantic saw themselves as closely linked in their spiritual mission Focusing on the interaction between social experience and the shaping of belief Bremer thoroughly analyzes how Puritan clergymen of a congregational persuasion came together in a godly communion and examines how that communion sustained them in times of trouble and physical dispersal He explains the social forces that led to the articulation of early Congregationalism and details the significance of trans Atlantic religious exchanges through correspondence associations publications and other devices Bremer traces the first generation Puritans from their formative years at Cambridge University through the creation of a network of clerical friendships through the flight to Holland and to New England to the death of Oliver Cromwell and the beginnings of division within Congregationalism This thought provoking volume makes a solid contribution to Puritan studies and offers a basis for further discussions of the trans Atlantic aspects of the Congregational community     Art Books, 1950-1979 R.R.
