Modern Chinese Women Writers Critical Appraisals:

Modern Chinese Women Writers Michael S. Duke, 1989-11-22 The essays in this volume consider the state of current writing of the world's best Chinese women writers. All the contributors relate their authors to the life and work of other contemporary Chinese women writers and compare work coming from PRC, Taiwan, and overseas Chinese. The essays make a contribution to the fields of Modern Chinese literature and women's studies and although they are primarily intended to bear witness to the quality of women's writing, they also attempt to elucidate the complex issues of Chinese women's lives in the contemporary world.

Writing Women in Modern China Amy D. Dooling, 2005 From succinct reportage of contemporary historical circumstances to comic accounts of twentieth-century urban living to carefully stylized modernist works of fiction, the selections in this anthology reflect the diversity, liveliness, humor, and surprising cosmopolitanism of women's writing from the period. This collection also reveals the ways in which women writers imagined and inscribed new meanings to Chinese feminism. Also included are biographical information on the writers, bibliographical materials, and a critical introduction by Dooling.

Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women Lily Xiao Hong Lee, A. D. Stefanowska, Sue Wiles, Clara Wing-chung Ho, 1998 The first biographical dictionary in any Western language devoted solely to Chinese women. Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women is the product of years of research, translation, and writing by scores of Chinese scholars from around the world. Volume II, Twentieth Century, includes a far greater range of women than would have been previously possible because of the enormous amount of historical material and scholarly research that has become available recently. They include scientists, businesswomen, sportswomen, military officers, writers, scholars, revolutionary heroines, politicians, musicians, opera stars, film stars, artists, educators, nuns, and more.

Modern Chinese Writers Helmut Martin, Jeffrey C. Kinkley, 2016-09-16 This volume gathers personal reflections on life and literature by 44 of China's leading authors. It aims to illustrate how Chinese society and its creative writing have supported, competed, and fought with each other for the past 40 years and more. Much of what is revealed here is mundane, but the pressure of bringing art to social and political causes indeed the universal pressure to survive forges this collection into a very human document. The strengths and weaknesses of these essays offer a window on those of modern Chinese literature itself. Realism was the favoured literary doctrine of the day, and reflecting this, most of these essays speak for themselves about war, revolution, betrayal, and commitment.

Subjectivity and Sexuality in Contemporary Chinese Feminist Writing Ruttapond Swanpitak, 2025-02-17 This book explores representations of female sexuality and subjectivity in contemporary Chinese fiction by three women writers published from 1986 to 2000 from the perspective of poststructuralist feminism. It discusses the representative works of authors Wang Anyi, Tie Ning, and Chi Li, who are well known in the Chinese literary field. However, their works have not to date been analysed through the poststructuralist feminism's notions of subjectivity, femininity, and transgression. This book then provides detailed analysis of each writer and draws comparisons between their works to provide an extended consideration of female sexuality and subjectivity within post Mao Chinese fiction In this respect this book not only offers fresh insights into the three authors fiction but also contributes to the feminist study of Chinese women s writing Additionally the research contributes to a better understanding of contemporary Chinese culture in relation to patriarchy misogyny feminism differences and resistance It is relevant to scholars in the fields of China studies Chinese literature feminist literature and gender studies Chinese Modern Xiaobing Tang,2000-04-03 An analysis of the Chinese experience of modernity through the literary works films and other cultural artifacts that represent it Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women: v. 2: Twentieth Century Lily Xiao Hong Lee,2016-07-08 The first biographical dictionary in any Western language devoted solely to Chinese women Biographical Dictionary of Chinese Women is the product of years of research translation and writing by scores of China scholars from around the world Volume II Twentieth Century includes a far greater range of women than would have been previously possible because of the enormous amount of historical material and scholarly research that has become available recently They include scientists businesswomen sportswomen military officers writers scholars revolutionary heroines politicians musicians opera stars film stars artists educators nuns and more

Women in China from Earliest Times to the Present Robin Yates,2009-07-31 This essential reference work provides an alphabetic listing with an extensive index of studies on women in China from earliest times to the present day written in Western languages primarily English French German and Italian Containing more than 2500 citations of books chapters in books and articles especially those published in the last thirty years and more than 100 titles of doctoral dissertations and Masters theses it covers works written in the disciplines of anthropology and sociology art and archaeology demography economics education fashion film and media studies history interdisciplinary studies law literature music medicine science and technology political science and religion and philosophy It also contains many citations of studies of women in Hong Kong and Taiwan New Woman in Early Twentieth-Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng,2004-07-30 In The New Woman in Early Twentieth Century Chinese Fiction Jin Feng proposes that representation of the new woman in Communist Chinese fiction of the earlier twentieth century was paradoxically one of the ways in which male writers of the era explored negotiated and laid claim to their own emerging identity as modern intellectuals Specifically Feng argues that male writers such as Lu Xun Yu Dafu Ba Jin and Mao Dun created fictional women as mirror images of their own political inadequacy but that at the same time this was also an egocentric ploy to affirm and highlight the modernity of the male author This gender biased attitude was translated into reality when women writers emerged Whereas unfair gender biased criticism all but stifled the creative output of Bing Xin Fang Yuanjun and Lu Yin Ding Ling s dogged attention to narrative strategy allowed her to maintain subjectivity and independence in her writings that is until all writers were forced to write for the collective Feng addresses both the general and the specialized audience of fiction in early twentieth century Chinese fiction in three ways for scholars of the May Fourth period Feng redresses the emphasis on the simplistic gender neutral representation of the new women by re reading selected texts in the light of marginalized discourse and by an analysis of the evolving strategies of narrative deployment for those working in the area of feminism and literary studies Feng develops a new method of studying the representation of Chinese women through an interrogation of narrative permutations ideological discourses and gender relationships and for studies of modernity and modernization the author presents a more complex picture of the relationships of modern Chinese intellectuals to their cultural past and of women writers to a literary tradition dominated by men

Feminism/Femininity in Chinese Literature , 2016-08-22 The present volume of Critical Studies is a collection of selected essays on the topic of feminism and femininity in Chinese literature Although feminism has been a hot topic in Chinese literary circles in recent years this remarkable collection represents one of the first of its kind to be published in English The essays have been written by well known scholars and feminists including Kang I Sun Chang of Yale University and Li Ziyun a writer and feminist in Shanghai China The essays are inter and multi disciplinary covering several historical periods in poetry and fiction from the Ming Qing periods to the twentieth century In particular the development of women s writing in the New Period post 1976 is examined in depth The articles thus offer the reader a composite and broad perspective of feminism and the treatment of the female in Chinese literature As this remarkable new collection attests the voices of women in China have begun calling out loudly in ways that challenge prevalent views about the Chinese female persona Family Revolution Hui Faye Xiao,2014-04-01 As state control of private life in China has loosened since 1980 citizens have experienced an unprecedented family revolution an overhaul of family structure marital practices and gender relationships While the nuclear family has become a privileged realm of romance and individualism symbolizing the post revolutionary freedoms of economic and affective autonomy women s roles in particular have been transformed with the ideal iron girl of socialism replaced by the feminine family oriented good wife and wise mother Problems and contradictions in this new domestic culture have been exposed by China s soaring divorce rate Reading popular divorce narratives in fiction film and TV drama Hui Faye Xiao shows that the representation of marital discord has become a cultural battleground for competing ideologies within post revolutionary China While these narratives present women s cultivation of wifely and maternal qualities as the cure for family disintegration and social unrest Xiao shows that they in fact reflect a problematic resurgence of traditional gender roles and a powerful mode of control over supposedly autonomous private life
