Global Maritime Military Strategy, 1980-2023 Keitaro Ushirogata,2025-03-17 This open access book is an ambitious study about how to use comparative methods to analyze contemporary military strategy in the maritime domain Based on the three strategic concepts of area denial sea control and power projection this book analyzes the intensive conventional capabilities of six major powers military strategies These include the United States the United Kingdom and Japan the so called sea powers and Russia China and India which are usually recognized as land powers Through the analysis this book aims to accomplish the following three main objectives 1 To reconsider the basic concepts of maritime military strategic studies which have not changed for almost one hundred years and to propose a new analytical framework based on the following three elements as well as verifying the appropriateness of this framework a The capability with which a country can deny military threat against its territory through the maritime domain within the geographic theater i e roughly one thousand to two thousand kilometers from its coastline area denial b The capability with which a country can obtain military superiority or disrupt an adversary s military superiority in the open ocean sea control c The capability with which a country can project military power from the maritime domain to other countries territories accomplishing military strategic objectives power projection 2 To verify the six major powers long term military strategic objectives for example whether the country aims to enhance its power in the maritime domain or to project its military power to the other countries areas beyond the maritime domain to do this by analyzing each country s force building directions In addition this book assesses each country s capability for high intensive conflict and unravels each security military strategic objectives 3 By examining the strategic objectives of major powers this book may contribute to establishing Japan s future defense strategy

Chinese Strategy and Military Modernization in 2015 Anthony H. Cordesman,Steven Colley,2016-01-12 China s emergence as a global economic superpower and as a major regional military power in Asia and the Pacific has had a major impact on its relations with the United States and its neighbors China was the driving factor in the new strategy the United States announced in 2012 that called for a rebalance of U S forces to the Asia Pacific region At the same time China s actions on its borders in the East China Sea and in the South China Sea have shown that it is steadily expanding its geopolitical role in the Pacific and having a steadily increasing impact on the strategy and military developments in other Asian powers

Inside China's Grand Strategy Ye Zicheng, 2011-01-01 China's enormous size vast population abundant natural resources robust economy and modern military demonstrate that the nation has emerged as a great world power Inside China's Grand Strategy The Perspective from the People's Republic analyzes China's economic social political and military development assessing the extent of China's dominance Highly regarded Chinese scholar Ye Zicheng offers a rare insider's perspective on the country's geopolitical ambitions and strategic thinking Inside China's Grand Strategy argues that China's primary obstacle to achieving enduring status as a world power is its domestic state of affairs Ye examines the impact of unemployment corruption massive economic gaps between classes population size strains on natural and labor resources environmental degradation and other issues that impede China's continuing development Some analysts claim that repressive domestic policies threaten the country's goal of modernization but Ye points to China's recent inclusion in the G 20 as an indicator of future success Ye contends that China's progress hinges on many factors peaceful development extensive governmental reform with a system of checks and balances social and economic development on the mainland and strategies for reunification especially with Taiwan Ye asserts that military pressure may be required to integrate Taiwanese separatist forces but advises that development should remain China's primary goal because it will eventually lead to unification Although Ye argues that democracy is the only way to repair the corrupt systems that perpetuate economic inequality he specifies that a Western style democracy is not what China needs As the United States destiny is increasingly bound to China's growth and American policies are being evaluated in the realm of geopolitics it is important to gauge and understand China's ambitions An authoritative and up to date analysis from within Chinese society Inside China's Grand Strategy is an indispensable resource for Western scholars offering a new window on Chinese development The Art and Practice of Military Strategy George Edward Thibault, 1984 Military Power And The Advance Of Technology Seymour J. Deitchman, 2019-03-04 This book deals with the basic facts of the military industrial complex examining its institutional dynamics and constitutional barriers to change It shows how simplistic journalistic prescriptions and trivial observations fail to do justice to the enormous complexity of an industrial economy Nuclear Strategy in the Twenty-First Century Stephen J. Cimbala, 2000-05-30 The future of nuclear weapons and nuclear strategy in the 21st century is not entirely predictable from the Cold War past Nor is it easy to foresee on the basis of what has happened since the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991 Cimbala contends that nuclear weapons and the psychology of nuclear deterrence will remain important after 2000 but the character of that importance will change No longer will nuclear weapons be the dominators of military technology Instead advanced technology conventional weapons based on information and electronics will supplant nuclear weapons as the instruments of military supremacy in the 21st century What Cimbala asks can be expected of nuclear weapons in the 21st century given what we have learned from previous experience in the Cold War and in the 1990s Cimbala expects that nuclear weapons will spread among currently non nuclear states and states with regional grievances or hegemonic aspirations will seek to deploy small nuclear forces as deterrents against neighbors or against outside intervention by the United States in regional conflicts Regional rogue states may also obtain nuclear weapons Nonetheless as Cimballa explains the international balance of power is unlikely to change As he makes clear power will be less dependent on deployed military platforms and more dependent on information warfare A thoughtful and provocative analysis that will be of particular interest to policy makers scholars and other researchers involved with arms control security studies and international relations Disarmament Army Library (U.S.),1960 The Diffusion of Military Technology and Ideas Emily O.
