Causality and Mind Nicholas Jolley, 2013-11-28 Causality and Mind presents seventeen of Nicholas Jolley's essays on early modern philosophy which focus on two main themes One theme is the continuing debate over the nature of causality in the period from Descartes to Hume Jolley shows that despite his revolutionary stance Descartes did no serious rethinking about causality it was left to his unorthodox disciple Malebranche to argue that there is no place for natural causality in the new mechanistic picture of the physical world Several essays explore critical reactions to Malebranche's occasionalism in the writings of Leibniz Berkeley and Hume and show how in their different ways Leibniz and Hume respond to Malebranche by reinstating the traditional view that science is the search for causes A second theme of the volume is the set of issues posed by Descartes innovations in the philosophy of mind It is argued that Malebranche is once again a pivotal figure In opposition to Descartes Malebranche insists that ideas the objects of thought are not psychological but abstract entities he thus opposes Descartes dustbin theory of the mind Malebranche also challenges Descartes assumption that intentionality is a mark of the mental and his commitment to the superiority of self knowledge over knowledge of body Other essays discuss the debate over innate ideas Locke s polemics against Descartes theory of mind and the issue of Leibniz s phenomenalism A major aim of the volume is to show that philosophers in the period are systematic critics of their contemporaries and predecessors

Body, Mind and Self in Hume's Critical Realism Fred Wilson, 2013-05-02 This essay proposes that Hume s non substantialist bundle account of minds is basically correct The concept of a person is not a metaphysical notion but a forensic one that of a being who enters into the moral and normative relations of civil society A person is a bundle but it is also a structured bundle Hume s metaphysics of relations is argued must be replaced by a more adequate one such as that of Russell but beyond that Hume s account is essentially correct In particular it is argued that it is one s character that constitutes one s identity and that sympathy and the passions of pride and humility are central in forming and maintaining one s character and one s identity as a person But also central is one s body a person is an embodied consciousness the notion that one s body is essential to one s identity is defended at length Various concepts of mind and consciousness are examined for example neutral monism and intentionality and also the concept of privacy and our inferences to other minds

Soul, Body, and Survival Kevin Corcoran, 2018-08-06 How are soul and body related to one another Are human beings immaterial souls or complex physical organisms Will we survive the death of our bodies Does only the dualist view allow the possibility of life after death This collection brings together cutting edge research on the metaphysics of human nature and the possibility of post mortem survival Kevin Corcoran s collection Soul Body and Survival includes chapters from those who embrace traditional soul body dualism those who assert person body identity and those who propose entirely new views that fall outside the categories of monism and dualism The first book to connect the metaphysics of persons with the belief in life after death thus intersecting with theological as well as philosophical inquiry it blurs the divide between metaphysics and the philosophy of mind

Schmaltz, Delphine Antoine-Mahut, 2019-05-02 The Oxford Handbook of Descartes and Cartesianism comprises fifty specially written chapters on Ren Descartes 1596 1650 and Cartesianism the dominant paradigm for philosophy and science in the seventeenth century written by an international group of leading scholars of early modern philosophy The first part focuses on the various aspects of Descartes s biography including his background intellectual contexts writings and correspondence and philosophy with chapters on his epistemology method metaphysics physics mathematics moral philosophy political thought medical thought and aesthetics The chapters of the second part are devoted to the defense development and modification of Descartes s ideas by later generations of Cartesian philosophers in France the Netherlands Italy and elsewhere The third and final part considers the opposition to Cartesian philosophy by other philosophers as well as by civil ecclesiastic and academic authorities This handbook provides an extensive overview of Cartesianism its doctrines its legacies and its fortunes in the period based on the latest research Descartes and the Ontology of Everyday Life Deborah Jean Brown, Calvin G. Normore, 2019 Brown and Normore show how Descartes accounted for the complex and diverse objects of human experience within his metaphysical system They argue that far from reducing them all to two basic categories of substance mind and body he recognized irreducible composites that resist reduction and require their own distinctive modes of explanation A Brief Introduction to the Philosophy of Mind Jack S. Crumley, 2006 Crumley introduces four core areas in contemporary philosophy of the mind the mind body problem mental content intentionality mental causation and the nature of consciousness The book is distinctive in its further coverage of such fascinating topics as the nature of mental images theories of concepts and whether or not computers can think
