No End To War Terrorism In The 21st Century:

No End to War Walter Laqueur, 2004-07-30 Describes the latest events and trends in terrorism against the United States

Media and Terrorism in the 21st Century Ismayil, Elnur, Karadogan Ismayil, Ebru, 2022-04-22 Media plays a specific role within modern society. It has been and continues to be a tool for spreading terrorist messages. However, it can just as easily be used as a tool for countering terrorism. During these challenging times where both international and domestic terrorism continue to threaten the livelihoods of citizens, it is imperative that studies are undertaken to examine the media's role in the spread of terrorism as well as to explore strategies and protocols that can be put in place to mitigate the spread. Media and Terrorism in the 21st Century presents the emerging ideas and insights from experts, academicians, and professionals on the role media and new media plays in terrorist propaganda from a critical international perspective. It examines the historical relation between media and terror and analyzes the difficulties and obstacles presented by the relation in the 21st century. Covering topics such as AI-based dataveillance, media development trends, and virtual terrorism, this book is an indispensable resource for government officials, communications experts, politicians, security professionals, sociologists, students, and educators of higher education, researchers, and academicians.

New Directions in Criminological Theory Steve Hall, Simon Winlow, 2012-06-25 This edited collection brings together established global scholars and new thinkers to outline fresh concepts and theoretical perspectives for criminological research and analysis in the 21st century. Criminologists from the UK, USA, Canada, and Australia evaluate the current condition of criminological theory and present students and researchers with new and revised ideas from the realms of politics, culture, and subjectivity to unpack crime and violence in the precarious age of global neoliberalism. These ideas range from the micro realm of the personality disorder to the macro realm of global power crime. Rejecting or modifying the orthodox notion that crime and harm are largely the products of criminalisation and control systems, these scholars bring causes and conditions back into play in an eclectic yet thematic way that should inspire students and researchers to once again investigate the reasons why some individuals and groups elect to harm others rather than seek sociability. This collection will inspire new criminologists to both look outside their discipline for new ideas to import and to create new ideas within their discipline to reinvigorate it and further strengthen its ability to explain the crimes and harms that we see around us today. This book will be of particular interest to academics and both undergraduate and postgraduate students in the field of criminology, especially to those looking for theoretical concepts and frameworks for dissertations, theses, and research reports.

Choreographies of 21st Century Wars Gay Morris, Jens Richard Giersdorf, 2016 Wars in this century are radically different from the major conflicts of the 20th century: more amorphous, asymmetrical, globally connected, and unending. Choreographies of 21st Century Wars is the first book to analyze the interface between choreography and wars in this century, a pertinent inquiry since choreography has long been linked to war and military training. The book draws on recent political theory that posits shifts in the kinds of wars occurring since the First and Second World Wars and the Cold War all of which were wars between major world powers Given the dominance of today's more indeterminate asymmetrical less decisive wars we ask if choreography as an organizing structure and knowledge system might not also need revision in order to reflect on and intercede in a globalized world of continuous warfare In an introduction and sixteen chapters authors from a number of disciplines investigate how choreography and war in this century impinge on each other Choreographers write of how they have related to contemporary war in specific works while other contributors investigate the interconnections between war and choreography through theatrical works dances military rituals and drills the choreography of video war games and television shows Issues investigated include torture and terror the status of war refugees concerns surrounding fighting and peacekeeping soldiers national identity tied to military training and more The anthology is of interest to scholars in dance performance theater and cultural studies as well as the social sciences

Alignment, Alliance, and American Grand Strategy Zachary Alan Selden, 2016-07-27 Although US foreign policy was largely unpopular in the early 2000s many nation states especially those bordering Russia and China expanded their security cooperation with the United States In Alignment Alliance and American Grand Strategy Zachary Selden notes that the regional power of these two illiberal states prompt threatened neighboring states to align with the United States Gestures of alignment include participation in major joint military exercises involvement in US led operations the negotiation of agreements for US military bases and efforts to join a US led alliance By contrast Brazil is also a rising regional power but as it is a democratic state its neighbors have not sought greater alliance with the United States Amid calls for retrenchment or restraint Selden makes the case that a policy focused on maintaining American military preeminence and the demonstrated willingness to use force may be what sustains the cooperation of second tier states which in turn help to maintain US hegemony at a manageable cost

In Search of Better Governance in South Asia and Beyond Ishtiaq Jamil, Steinar Askvik, Tek Nath Dhakal, 2013-06-26 The pursuit for better governance has assumed center stage in developmental discourse as well as reform initiatives of all organizations working for the public welfare and includes such issues as service delivery and responding to citizens needs and demands In the era of globalization multilevel and new modes of governance are changing the traditional governance models of nation states accelerated by technological innovation rising citizen expectation policy intervention from international and multilateral donor communities and the hegemony of western ideology imposed on many developing nations However a universally accepted and agreed upon definition of governance still remains elusive There is no consensus or agreement as to what would be the nature and form of governance and public administration The question that is raised Is there a universal governance mechanism that fits in all contexts or governance mechanisms should be based on home grown ideas One can see various programs and policies of reforms and reorganizations in public administration in the developing countries but these efforts have not been effective to address the challenging issues of economic development employment generation poverty reduction ensuring equality of access to public services maintaining fairness and equity security and safety of citizens social cohesion democratic institution building ensuring broader participation in the decision making process and improving the quality of life Therefore there is a widespread concern for better governance or sound governance to bridge the gap between theory and practice making this book of interest to academics as well as policy makers in global public administration

The New Global Trading Order Dennis Patterson,Ari Afilalo,2008-03-31 The international institutions that have governed global trade since the end of World War II have lost their effectiveness and global trade governance is fractured The need for new institutions is obvious and yet few proposals seem to be on offer The key to understanding the global trading order lies in uncovering the relationship between trade and the State and how the inner constitution of Statecraft drives the architecture of the global order and requires structural changes as the State traverses successive cycles The current trade order focused on the liberalization of trade in goods and services and the management of related issues is predicated on policies and practices that were the product of a global trading order of the 20th century modern nation states Today a new form of the State the post modern State is evolving In this book the authors propose a new trade norm the enablement of global economic opportunity and a new institution the Trade Council to overhaul the global trading order
