Islam and Tibet - Interactions along the Musk Routes Anna Akasoy, 2016-12-14 The first encounters between the Islamic world and Tibet took place in the course of the expansion of the Abbasid Empire in the eighth century Military and political contacts went along with an increasing interest in the other side Cultural exchanges and the transmission of knowledge were facilitated by a trading network with musk constituting one of the main trading goods from the Himalayas largely through India From the thirteenth century onwards the spread of the Mongol Empire from the Western borders of Europe through Central Asia to China facilitated further exchanges The significance of these interactions has been long ignored in scholarship This volume represents a major contribution to the subject bringing together new studies by an interdisciplinary group of international scholars They explore for the first time the multi layered contacts between the Islamic world Central Asia and the Himalayas from the eighth century until the present day in a variety of fields including geography cartography art history medicine history of science and education literature hagiography archaeology and anthropology

Islamic Inscriptions Sheila S. Blair, 2019-06-01 No detailed description available for Islamic Inscriptions Studies in Byzantine, Islamic and Near Eastern Silk Weaving Anna Muthesius, 2006-12-31 This volume complements Anna Muthesius two earlier ground breaking volumes in the field of silk as material culture Studies in Byzantine and Islamic Silk Weaving and Studies in Silk in Byzantium The publication highlights the fact that similar patterns of selection were at work in the acquisition of silks by secular and ecclesiastical bodies These patterns of selection were governed not only by fashions of the time but by access to international trade routes leading to the Great Silk Road linking the Near East to the Mediterranean The surviving silks prove that Mediterranean Near Eastern silk trade flourished continuously and for centuries prior to the thirteenth century contrary to what has previously widely been assumed It also highlights the crucial role of the Caucasian silk routes in accessing the Great Silk Road in the early period and the contribution of Georgian and Armenian silk weaving after the thirteenth century Above all the book demonstrates how important it is to assess the impact of Near Eastern silk manufacture and distribution in relation to Byzantine and Islamic Mediterranean silk production and trade Proceedings of the Tenth Seminar of the IATS, 2003. Volume 7: Text, Image and Song in Transdisciplinary Dialogue, 2007-03-31 The papers in this volume all result from field work in the Indian Himalayas and the TAR conducted by the Interdisciplinary Research Unit Austrian Science Fund While the research goals were established within the framework of transdisciplinary research each scholar approaches scientific problems according to the methodologies associated with their respective disciplines philology philosophy history art history linguistics and anthropology In the contribution published here Steinkellner Klimburg Salter Widorn and Jahoda explicate the structure methods and advantages of transdisciplinary research Lasic and Tauscher analyse two different philosophical questions on the basis of manuscripts from Tabo Spiti and Gondhla Lahaul Pasang Wangdu Tropper and Ponweiser each examine a Buddhist monument from a different perspective

Keru TAR Wanla Ladakh and Tabo Papa Kalantari and Hein discuss respectively an iconographic problem and oral traditions from Spiti and upper Kinnaur

Gifts of Clothing in Late Antique Literature Nikki Rollason, 2016-07-15 Both clothing and gifts in the ancient world have separately been the subject of much scholarly discussion because they were an integral part of Greek and Roman society and identity creating and reinforcing the relationships which kept a community together as well as delineating status and even symbolising society as a whole They have however rarely been studied together despite the prevalence of clothing gifts in many ancient texts This book addresses a gap in scholarship by focusing on gifts of elite male clothing in late antique literature in order to show that when they appeared in texts these items were not only functioning in an historical or real life sphere but also as a literary space within which authors could discuss ideas of social relationships and authority This book suggests that authors used items which usually formed part of the costume of authority of the period the trabea of the consul the chlamys of the imperial court and the emperor and the pallium of the Christian bishops to over write wearers and donors as confident figures of official authority when this may have been open to doubt

Bulletin University of Michigan. Museum of Art, 2003 The Dragon in Medieval East Christian and Islamic Art Sara Kuehn, 2011-07-12 This book is a pioneering work on a key iconographic motif that of the dragon It examines the perception of this complex multifaceted motif within the overall intellectual and visual universe of the medieval Irano Turkish world

Using a broadly comparative approach the author explores the ever shifting semantics of the dragon motif as it emerges in neighbouring Muslim and non Muslim cultures The book will be of particular interest to those concerned with the relationship between the pre Islamic Islamic and Eastern Christian especially Armenian world The study is fully illustrated with 209 b w and full colour plates many of previously unpublished material Illustrations include photographs of architectural structures visited by the author as well as a vast collection of artefacts all of which are described and discussed in detail with inscription readings historical data and textual sources

Religion in Roman Egypt David Frankfurter, 2020-06-30 This exploration of cultural resilience examines the complex fate of classical Egyptian religion during the centuries from the period when Christianity first made its appearance in Egypt to when it became the region s dominant religion roughly 100 to 600 C E Taking into account the full range of witnesses to continuing native piety from papyri and saints lives to archaeology and terracotta figurines and drawing on anthropological studies of folk religion David Frankfurter argues that the religion of Pharaonic Egypt did not die out as early as has been supposed but was instead relegated from political centers to village and home where it continued a vigorous existence for centuries In analyzing the fate of the Egyptian oracle and of the priesthoods the function of magical texts and the dynamics of domestic cults Frankfurter describes how an ancient culture maintained itself while also being transformed through influences such as Hellenism Roman government and Christian dominance Recognizing the special characteristics of Egypt which differentiated it from the other Mediterranean cultures that were undergoing simultaneous social and political changes he departs from the traditional decline of paganism triumph of Christianity model most often used to describe the Roman period By revealing late Egyptian religion in its Egyptian historical context he moves us away from scenarios of Christian triumph and shows us how long and how energetically pagan worship survived

Textile Messages Căcilia Fluck, Gisela Helmecke, 2006-05-01 The practice to supply textiles with inscriptions is well known in Egypt from Pharaonic times onwards Nevertheless systematic studies on inscribed fabrics have been neglected until the middle of the 1990s when they almost simultaneously caught the interest of various scholars This richly illustrated volume is a first compilation of what is known on the subject so far It concentrates on textiles of the first millennium AD a period of changing cultures religions and languages in Egypt mirrored by the Greek Coptic and Arabic inscriptions on the fabrics The emphasis lies on the historical linguistic sociological and artistic aspects of these textiles Numerous fabrics from international collections are introduced Further articles deal with the radiocarbon dating and technical aspects

Mystery Cults in Visual Representation in Graeco-Roman Antiquity, 2020-10-26 Mystery Cults in Visual Representation in Graeco Roman Antiquity aims to fill a gap in the study of mystery cults in Graeco Roman Antiquity by focusing on images for investigating their ritual praxis Nicole Belayche and Francesco Massa have gathered experts on visual language in order to illuminate cultic rituals renowned for both their mysteries and their images This book tackles three interrelated questions Focusing on the cult of Dionysus it analyses whether and how images are used to depict mystery

cults The relationship between historiography and images of mystery cults is considered with a focus on the Mithraic and Isiac cults Finally turning to the cults of Dionysus and the Mother of the Gods this work shows how depictions of specific cultic objects succeed in expressing mystery cults

Byzantine Dress: A Guide Jennifer Ball, 2024-12-17 This book offers approaches to the study of Byzantine dress of elites and non elites in sacred and secular modes from the beginning of the Empire in the fourth century until the fifteenth century Byzantine dress is considered from within and outside of the Empire and examines both artifactual remains as well as emphasizing studies that elucidate Byzantine dress when few or no artifacts exist Byzantine Dress A Guide tackles current conceptual frameworks in the first three chapters and considers identity and sartorial signaling among Byzantines as well as foreigners in images as well as actual items of dress A second section addresses material considerations reflecting on construction and its effect on value The interpretation of archaeological material is analyzed along with reconstruction and context Dress as part of rituals at court church and in various ceremonies is the focus of the third section The final two chapters bring Byzantine dress into conversation with dress studies more broadly A discursive chapter argues for a fashion system within the Byzantine Empire which has been largely seen as pre dating the notion of fashion The final chapter concerns the display interpretation and conservation of fragmentary material in a museum context This book aims toward a general audience new to the subject of Byzantine dress Specialists in Byzantine studies and dress studies more generally will find the attention to current scholarship and archaeological interpretation invaluable for research and the book will also appeal to an audience new to the subject of Byzantine dress
