Road Wars:

Road to Nowhere Emily Lieb, 2025-11-06 Traces the birth, plunder and scavenging of Rosemont a Black middle class neighborhood in Baltimore. In the mid 1950s Baltimore's Rosemont neighborhood was alive and vibrant with smart rowhouses, a sprawling park, corner grocery stores and doctors' offices. By 1957 a proposed expressway threatened to gut this Black middle class community from stem to stern. That highway was never built but it didn't matter even the failure to build it destroyed Rosemont economically if not physically. In telling the history of the neighborhood and the notional East West Expressway Emily Lieb shows the interwoven tragedies caused by racism in education, housing and transportation policy. Black families had been attracted to the neighborhood after Baltimore's Board of School Commissioners converted several white schools into colored ones which had also laid the groundwork for predatory real estate agents who bought low from white sellers and sold high to determined Black buyers. Despite financial discrimination Black homeowners built a thriving community before the city council formally voted to condemn some nine hundred homes in Rosemont for the expressway leading to deflated home values and even more predatory real estate deals. Drawing on land records, oral history, media coverage and policy documents Lieb demystifies blockbusting, redlining and prejudicial lending highlighting the national patterns at work in a single neighborhood. The result is an absorbing story about the deliberate decisions that produced racial inequalities in housing, jobs, health and wealth as well as a testament to the ingenuity of the residents who fought to stay in their homes down to today.

Road Rage and Aggressive Driving Leon James, 2009-12-30 This authoritative book presents conclusions of recent studies on road rage, summarizes legislative and police initiatives and redefines driver education for all drivers.

The A to Z of Afghan Wars, Revolutions and Insurgencies Ludwig W. Adamec, 2010-04-07 Since its foundation in 1747 Afghanistan has seen seemingly limitless wars waged by the central government to consolidate its control over the country as well as rampant tribal warfare. There have been three Anglo-Afghan Wars 1839-42, 1878-79 and 1919 a Russian-backed Marxist government in Kabul battled a coalition of tribal armies which was soon followed by the Taliban takeover. Now in the midst of a war against terrorism the United States is backing another central government in yet another sporadic struggle. All the information currently available on the endless chain of wars stretching over two and a half centuries is traced in The A to Z of Afghan Wars, Revolutions and Insurgencies. It consists of the American involvement in Afghanistan since October 2001 as well as individual campaigns including tactics and logistics of skirmishes, the weapons used and biographical entries on the significant leaders involved in the battles. Extensive analysis of regional and ideological divisions within the country and the external forces that have brought around conflict in this remote mountainous region in addition to a chronology of the encounters, an extensive bibliography and numerous maps and illustrations make this crucial volume indispensable.

Public Engagement and Social Science Stella Maile, David J. Griffiths, 2014 Drawing on social science conversations at a lively café in Bristol this highly original book explores the value of public engagement in a wider social science context The chapters range from themes such as the dialogic character of the social sciences pragmatism in responses and the underpinnings of managerial approaches to the restructuring of higher education The first part reflects upon the different social and political inflections of public engagement It is followed by chapters based upon talks at the caf that were concerned with public engagement and the contribution of social science to a reflexive understanding of the dilemmas and practices of daily life Together the contributors offer a refreshing look at the role of social science in the societies it examines

67 People I'd Like To Slap Ian Collins, 2017-04-25 67 People I d Like to Slap is one man s journey through the labyrinthine world of human angst and annoyance The comedy writer broadcaster and journalist Ian Collins lists exposes and mocks that irritating contingent of the human race whose job it seems is to make life just a tad more infuriating than it needs to be From psychics to exotic pet owners Brits using chopsticks and over 35s at music festivals through to middle class protesters elderly people in small cars and the billion cringe crimes that are committed on social media every day plus a healthy dose of well known names too Collins s often brutal but hilarious search into the pit of human idiocy leaves few stones unturned He also addresses some of life s most serious questions Is Jeremy Clarkson part of a completely different gene pool What happens when you upset every Beyonc fan on the planet Why is Andrew Marr s sofa an affront to intelligent thinking How could a nice guy like Benedict Cumberbatch annoy anyone Has social media shrunk our brains What happens to a sense of shame when men visit the gym Part polemic and part diary Collins spent a year documenting all those areas and people that could bug the hell out of the calmest of souls Armed only with a sensible pen notepad and a standard High Street blood pressure monitor he sets out to create the ultimate list In the author s words 67 People I d Like to Slap is the non negotiable oracle of all things bamboozling when it comes to human behaviour the definitive guide that no sane person could ever argue against Or could you

Hard Driving Dermot Cole, 2020-06-15 In the winter of 1908 six cars left Times Square bound for Paris They were embarking on a remarkable motor race across the world that would capture everyone s imagination In this book Dermot Cole weaves a thrilling account of the improbable journey west from New York to Paris the varied characters and the nascent automobile industry Drawing from the drivers journals and extensive newspaper reports Cole details the many hardships triangulations and physical extremes encountered along the route as the drivers attempted to race from coast to coast cross the Bering Strait to Russia traverse Siberia and onward Hard Driving delves beyond the riveting headlines to explore the race s implications for global politics and diplomacy and how the automobile became a viable mode of transportation

Global Pension Crisis Richard A. Marin, 2013-09-03 A comprehensive look at the crisis of unfunded pension liabilities and what must be done to avoid the same problem in the future As the generational bubble of the Baby Boomers begins to retire it is increasingly evident that governments corporations and individuals have failed to adequately prepare for the obligations and needs of this giant cohort Retirees are outliving actuarial life expectancies pension liabilities are skyrocketing pension plans are underfunded and medical costs rise the United States alone can expect unfunded liabilities to exceed 4 trillion Even while the American economy shows signs of sustained recovery states and local governments will still experience sharp increases in pension fund payments through the next year or longer Global Pension Crisis looks at this situation and offers practical advice for retirement plan managers and financial advisors while also explaining how to strengthen pensions and prevent similar crises in the future Offers a clear and comprehensive explanation of the current pension crisis for retirement fund managers financial advisors and economists Includes prescriptive guidance on how to strengthen the pension fund system and prevent another similar crisis Written by venture capitalist entrepreneur and former senior Wall Street executive Rich Marin      Boyle-Breath Murray L.
