Roaring Camp The Social World Of The California Gold Rush:

Roaring Camp Susan Lee Johnson, 2016-12-07 Winner of the Bancroft Prize The world of the California Gold Rush that comes down to us through fiction and film is one of half truths In this brilliant work of social history Susan Lee Johnson enters the well worked diggings of Gold Rush history and strikes a rich lode Johnson explores the dynamic social world created by the Gold Rush in the Sierra Nevada foothills east of Stockton charting the surprising ways in which the conventions of identity ethnic national and sexual were reshaped With a keen eye for character and story she shows us how this peculiar world evolved over time and how our cultural memory of the Gold Rush took root The Human Tradition in California Clark Davis, David Igler, 2002-08-01 With a land mass one and half times larger than the United Kingdom a population of more than thirty million and an economy that would rank sixth among world nations the history of the state of California demands a closer look The Human Tradition in California captures the region's rich history and diversity taking readers into the daily lives of ordinary Californians at key moments in time These brief biographies show how individual people and communities have influenced the broad social cultural political and economic forces that have shaped California history from the pre mission period through the late twentieth century In personalizing California's history this engaging new book brings the Golden State to life About the Editors Clark Davis has written extensively about California and its colorful history His work has appeared in the Los Angeles Times and Pacific Historical Review He is a professor of history at California State University Fullerton David Igler is a long time historian of California history and culture He has presented for the Western Historical Association the Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association and the California Studies Association Dr Igler is professor of history at the University of Utah The Great Medicine Road, Part 3 Michael L. Tate, 2017-09-21 In the years after the discovery of gold in California thousands of fortune seekers made their way west joining the greatest mass migration in American history The gold fields were only one destination as emigrants pushed across the Great Plains Great Basin and Oregon Territory in unprecedented numbers following the Oregon California and Mormon Trails to the verdant Willamette Valley or Mormon settlements in the Salt Lake Valley Seeing the Elephant they often called the journey referring to the wondrous sights and endless adventures met along the way The firsthand accounts of those who made the trip between 1850 and 1855 that are collected in this third volume in a four part series speak of wonders and adventures but also of disaster and deprivation Traversing the ever changing landscape these pioneers braved flooded rivers endured cholera and hunger and had encounters with Indians that were often friendly and sometimes troubled Rich in detail and diverse in the experiences they relate these letters diary excerpts recollections and reports capture the voices of women and men of all ages and circumstances hailing from states far and wide and heading west in hope and desperation Their words allow us to see the grit and glory of the American West as it once appeared to those who witnessed its transformation Michael L Tate begins the volume with an introduction to this middle phase of the trails history A headnote and annotations for each document sketch the author's background and reasons for undertaking the trip and correct and clarify information in the original manuscript The extensive bibliography identifies sources and suggests further reading

Gold Mountain Turned to Dust John R. Wunder, 2018-11-01 Some half million Chinese immigrants settled in the American West in the nineteenth century In spite of their vital contributions to the economy in gold mining railroad construction the founding of small businesses and land reclamation the Chinese were targets of systematic political discrimination and widespread violence This legal history of the Chinese experience in the American West based on the author's lifetime of research in legal sources all over the West from California to Montana to New Mexico serves as a basic account of the legal treatment of Chinese immigrants in the West The first two essays deal with anti Chinese racial violence and judicial discrimination The remainder of the book examines legal precedents and judicial doctrines derived from Chinese cases in specific western states The Chinese Wunder shows used the American legal system to protect their rights and test a variety of legal doctrines making vital contributions to the legal history of the American West

Nature Shock Jon T. Coleman, 2020-08-12 An award winning environmental historian explores American history through wrenching tragic and sometimes humorous stories of getting lost The human species has a propensity for getting lost The American people inhabiting a mental landscape shaped by their attempts to plant roots and to break free are no exception In this engaging book environmental historian Jon Coleman bypasses the trailblazers so often described in American history to follow instead the strays and drifters who went missing From Hernando de Soto's failed quest for riches in the American southeast to the recent trend of getting lost as a therapeutic escape from modernity this book details a unique history of location and movement as well as the confrontations that occur when our physical and mental conceptions of space become disjointed Whether we get lost in the woods the plains or the digital grid Coleman argues that getting lost allows us to see wilderness anew and connect with generations across five centuries to discover a surprising and edgy American identity

History of California, City of Vice James Mallery, 2024-06 James Mallery explores the implications of such social constructs as gender race and class for the development of San Francisco from the gold rush through World War I

Something for Nothing Jackson Lears, 2004-07-27 Jackson Lears has won accolades for his skill in identifying the rich and unexpected layers of meaning beneath the familiar and mundane in our lives Now he challenges the conventional wisdom that the Protestant ethic of perseverance industry and disciplined achievement is what made America great Turning to the deep seldom acknowledged reverence for luck that runs through our entire history from colonial times to the early twenty first century Lears traces how luck chance and gambling have shaped and at times defined our national character

The Great Medicine Road Kerin Tate, 2014 Pages 1 to 25 Pages 26 to 50 Pages 51 to 75 Pages 76 to 100 Pages 101 to 125 Pages 126 to 150 Pages 151 to 175 Pages 176 to 200 Pages 201 to 225 Pages 226 to 250 Pages 251 to 275 Pages 276 to 300 Pages 301 to 313

Diggers, Hatters & Whores Stevan Eldred-Grigg, 2014-02-28 The social history of New Zealand's gold rushes as used by Eleanor Catton in her research for The

Luminaries A thorough and carefully researched history of the gold rushes in New Zealand Based on sound scholarship and aimed at the general reader it s accessibly written in a clear clean and lively style The scope is the social history of the goldfields of colonial New Zealand from the 1850s to the 1870s The book opens with a survey of worldwide rushes in the late eighteenth and the first half of the nineteenth centuries when for the first time in history a great wheeling movement of gold diggers began to revolve from continent to continent The main body of the book looks at all the rushes large and small that took place in the colony Coromandel Golden Bay Otago Marlborough the West Coast and Thames The early chapters of the main body survey rushes chronologically the later chapters look at rushes thematically I owe a debt of gratitude to Stevan Eldred Grigg s history of the New Zealand gold rushes Diggers hatters whores Eleanor Catton The Luminaries
