Macmillan's Course of German Composition G. Eugène Fasnacht, 1896      Macmillan's Course of German Composition George Eugène-Fasnacht, 1890      The Cambridge Companion to 'Robinson Crusoe' John Richetti, 2018-04-26 An instant success in its own time Daniel Defoe's The Adventures of Robinson Crusoe has for three centuries drawn readers to its archetypal hero the man surviving alone on an island This Companion begins by studying the eighteenth century literary historical and cultural contexts of Defoe's novel exploring the reasons for its immense popularity in Britain and in its colonies in America and in the wider European world Chapters from leading scholars discuss the social economic and political dimensions of Crusoe's island story before examining the after life of Robinson Crusoe from the book's multitudinous translations to its cultural migrations and transformations into other media such as film and television By considering Defoe's seminal work from a variety of critical perspectives this book provides a full understanding of the perennial fascination with and the enduring legacy of both the book and its iconic hero      German-Language Children's and Youth Literature In The Media Network 1900-1945. Petra Josting, Marlene Antonia Illies, Matthias Preis, Annemarie Weber, 2023-11-16 With the research of German language children's and youth literature and its media associations in the period from 1900 to 1945 as well as the recording of all data in an online portal for research and visual analysis an innovative contribution to the historiography of children's and youth literature is available The introduction provides information on the criteria for inclusion central sources theoretical frameworks and the spectrum of the media associations investigated Part I assembles three overview articles on the media of radio film and theater for children and young people as well as a contribution on the conception and development of the online portal In the second part 18 selected media alliances are presented sorted into the categories pioneers conquer the new media stage children migrate to radio and or film fairy tales in film and radio classics in all media school stories in the theater book and on the screen crime and scandal on the screen political conquers book and film      Friedrich Hölderlin and the German Neohellenic Movement Marshall Montgomery, 1923      Twentieth-century Reworkings of German Literature Gundula Sharman, 2002 A study of six modern reworkings of classic works of German literature A literary reworking is a fictional work based on an earlier usually canonical literary work Gundula M Sharman considers six twentieth century examples of this phenomenon in German literature including Peter Schneider's Lenz as a reworking of Georg Büchner's novella of the same title Ulrich Plenzdorf's Die neuen Leiden des jungen W as a reworking of Goethe's Werther Wolfgang Koeppen's Der Tod in Rom based on Thomas Mann's Der Tod in Venedig and three other pairs of reworkings original works from the genres of drama the novella and the novel The indebtedness of such reworkings to the original works is openly acknowledged often in the title and this invites the reader to draw comparisons and to note contrasts between reworking and original The twentieth century author's interpretation and the reader's reception of the older work merge to form a subtext of the reworking giving rise to a third narrative in the reader's imagination. The better the reader knows the literary model, the more multifaceted the reworking appears. The purpose of each reworking is unique. One may demonstrate how much the world has changed since the publication of the original while another argues that society has not changed at all. One may be conceived as an anti-work to the original while another serves to endorse its message. Common to all reworkings, however, is a gain in historical depth and in each case themes and issues arise from the relationship of reworking to original that are not immediately apparent when the reworking is considered on its own. Gundula M. Sharman teaches in the German Department at the University of Aberdeen, Scotland.

New essays tracing the 18th century literary revival in German speaking lands and the cultural developments that accompanied it. The Enlightenment was based on the use of reason, common sense and natural law and was paralleled by an emphasis on feelings and the emotions in religious, especially Pietist circles. Progressive thinkers in England, France and later in Germany began to assail the absolutism of the state and the orthodoxy of the Church in Germany. The line led from Leibniz, Thomasius and Wolff to Lessing and Kant and eventually to the rise of an educated upper middle class. Literary developments encompassed the emergence of a national theater, literature and a common literary language. This became possible in part because of advances in literacy and education, especially among bourgeois women and the reorganization of book production and the book market. This major new reference work provides a fresh look at the major literary figures, works and cultural developments from around 1700 up to the late Enlightenment. They trace the 18th century literary revival in German speaking countries from occasional and learned literature under the influence of French Neoclassicism to the establishment of a new German drama, religious epic and secular poetry and the sentimental novel of self-fashioning. The volume includes the new stimulating works of women, a chapter on music and literature, chapters on literary developments in Switzerland and in Austria and a chapter on reactions to the Enlightenment from the 19th century to the present. The recent revaluing of cultural and social phenomena affecting literary texts informs the presentations in the individual chapters and allows for the inclusion of hitherto neglected but important texts such as essays, travelogues, philosophical texts and letters. Contributors: Kai Hammermeister, Katherine Goodman, Helga Brandes, Rosmarie Zeller, Kevin Hilliard, Francis Lamport, Sarah Colvin, Anna Richards, Franz M. Eybl, W. Daniel Wilson, Robert Holub, Barbara Becker-Cantarino.
